A TITLED BRITON SENDS REPLY TO COL. M'CORMICK

Calls for 100% Aid in European War.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Nov. 21 [Friday].—Lord Kemsley, chairman of the London Daily Sketch, today replied to a letter from Col. Robert R. McCormick, editor and publisher of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, on America's place in world affairs. Col. McCormick's letter was published in the Sketch Wednesday morning. [It also appeared in THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE on the same day.]

Lord Kemsley.

In his letter, Col. McCormick said he believed many Americans would volunteer their armed aid, if necessary, to prevent the British from being conquered by invasion. He added: "I am one of them." He said, however, that there was little American support for a military expedition to keep the British in possession of colonial territory. He declared "whoever invented the idea that there is a mother country of the United States has an imagination that dwarfed Shakespeare's."

Lord Kemsley's Letter.

Lord Kemsley's reply is published in this morning's Sketch, accompanied by this editorial explanation:

"We should like to make it clear that it was at Lord Kemsley's special request that Col. McCormick has put the case for American isolationists which appeared in the Daily Sketch on Wednesday. In this exchange there has been no suggestion of past, present, or future acrimony."

Lord Kemsley's letter follows:

"Dear Col. McCormick:

"Allow me to thank you, as an American and fellow newspaper proprietor, for the courtesy of your statement of what you termed 'America's place in world affairs.'

"It is a source of sincere regret that I have not had the pleasure of meeting you personally. When I called upon you in Chicago you, unfortunately, were in New York. The letter you sent to me makes me more deeply regret that disappointment, because I should have welcomed an opportunity for a direct exchange of views, such as seems impossible in correspondence.

Feared Complete Isolation.

"From the certain opinion expressed by prominent American isolationists, I feared that the attitude suggested by too many Americans for their country was complete avoidance of world affairs—an attempt to utterly isolate themselves from world troubles.

"Realizing the impossibility of that American 'ideal,' I am relieved to gather from the length and character of your explanations and the trouble which you have taken over them that one American isolationist, at least, has been sufficiently exercised in his conscience and mind over the present world crisis to lengthily explore the past American history and present conditions in order to discover, if he can, a defense for the policy of non-intervention and nonbelligerency and to seek, in the mists of palpable error in fact and argument, reasons for avoiding a clear, spiritual, and national world responsibility.

Urged by Mr. Roosevelt.

"I rejoice to think that the world responsibility has been recognized and will continue to be recognized by many of the noblest American leaders in thought and action. It has been urged very eloquently upon the American people by President Roosevelt and those who agree with his ideas. It has been translated into action step by step with the successive American moves against the axis.

"In the several visits to this country of prominent Americans, such as Wendell L. Willkie, W. Averell Harriman, Harry Hopkins, Prof. James Conant [president of Harvard university], and others, I have learned to appreciate the American character and intention and to value the sincerity and strength of the American attitude, as officially interpreted with such ability by your American ambassador, John G. Winant.

The Problem Facing America.

"If I, as an Englishman, without incurring the risk of being charged with unwarrantable interference may express my views as to the principal

REPORT U. S. WAR MILLIONS BEING SPENT IN PERSIA

BY CHESLY MANLY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 20.—Well informed sources reported today that approximately 500 million dollars is being spent by the lend-lease administration on port facilities, air fields, and railroads in Iran [Persia], which is mentioned with increasing frequency by war agitators as a possible landing site for an American expeditionary force.

[Three other stories on aid to Britain are in this edition. Foreign Secretary Eden tells Americans that Britain is thankful for their help, page 3; five hundred organizations send American dollars and materials to England, page 5, and United States sends half a billion dollars in food, page 5.]

Altho administration officials refused to affirm or deny the figure of 500 million dollars on expenditures in Iran, the estimate is substantially supported by official testimony on the recent lend-lease appropriation of 5 billion, 985 million dollars.

Of more immediate importance than the possibility of accommodating a future AEF, Iran is becoming the principal route for American and British supplies to soviet Russia and also is the center of vast British preparations for an expected German drive this winter thru Turkey, northward to the oil fields of the Russian Caucasus and southward to Britain's Suez canal life line.

Information from Britain.

Because of the Washington censorship, virtually all available information on American military operations in the middle east comes from British sources. Official British broadcasts have told the world about American ships arriving in the Persian gulf "every 48 hours" with munitions for Russia. Other British reports have described vast concentrations of war materials from the United States and from various parts of the British empire at the Persian gulf ports of Basara, Abbas, Bushire, and Bandar Shapur.

Gen. Sir Archibald Wavell, in charge of the British preparations, is rushing reënforcements from India. The present British offensive in Libya is believed to be intended to eliminate the axis threat to the Suez canal from the west before the Germans attempt their expected drive thru Turkey.

U. S. Equipment Is Used.

The British army of the Nile was equipped largely with American munitions, especially tanks and aircraft, before undertaking the present offensive. Most of this country's production of aircraft and tanks is said to be going now to Persia, for both the British and the Russians.

Only a small percentage of American tank production is retained for the American army. Gen. George C. Marshall, chief of staff, testified as recently as Sept. 29 that the overseas garrisons and the so-called task forces—small potential expeditionary forces—were well equipped, but the units of "the great bulk of the army" had complete equipment only in rifles, machine guns, and obsolete 75 mm. cannon and were short in the modern type of weapons.

Supplies for the Russians are transported from the Persian gulf to the Caspian sea both by rail and motor truck. Railway equipment, trucks and materials for highway improvements are being shipped by the United States.

Items Officially Listed.

Among the items mentioned in official testimony before the house appropriations subcommittee on the last lend-lease bill of 5 billion 985 million dollars, all connected in whole or in part with the middle east, were the following: storage and distribution facilities, $185,000,000; British empire naval bases, $40,000,000; railway equipment, $25,000,000; electrical and general equipment, $30,000,000, and $25,000,000 for road machinery. In addition there was an item of $187,000,000 for a spot purchase fund with which to acquire equipment immediately available, without waiting months for its fabrication.

Rear Adm. Ben Moreell, chief of the bureau of yards and docks, said the $40,000,000 item was for bases "anywhere in the British empire or on routes to serve it."

CAPTURES TOWN TEN MILES FROM BESIEGED LINES

Tank Units Drive 80 Miles Into Libya.

CAIRO, Egypt, Nov. 20 (AP).—American armed British tank units smashing as far as 80 miles inside Libya in a great encircling movement were reported officially tonight to be only 10 miles short of besieged Tobruk's outer defenses after smashing an Italian tank force in the first major test of United States war materials.

[The semicircular outer defenses of Tobruk are 30 miles from the center of the town. Thus the British would be roughly 40 miles from Tobruk proper.]

This central British spearhead penetrated northwestward from Sidi Omar, near the Egyptian frontier, to Rezegh on the escarpment, above a maze of gullies, which leads down to the sea where a British garrison has been holding out since mid-April.

A number of Italian tanks and 150 Fascist prisoners were taken in an engagement en route at Bir El Gobi, a desert caravan point some 65 miles from Sidi Omar, the communique said.

Nazi Tanks "Refuse Battle."

Other British tank crews, apparently fanning out northward toward the Mediterranean coast from the Sidi Omar-Tobruk line sighted a German tank force about 30 miles west of Fort Capuzzo, but the communique said: "These [Nazi tanks] withdrew before they could be brought to battle."

[Germans and Italians claim British drive in Libya repulsed. Prime Minister Churchill says the British seek to annihilate all Germans and Italians in North Africa. Stories on pages 6 and 7.]

Along the entire 140 mile front which extended from Sollum on the coast down to Giarabub in the south the British said "operations continue to develop satisfactorily."

The main British break-thru apparently was in the center of this line just south of Sidi Omar. By reaching almost to Tobruk in operations up to last night, the offensive in the first two days had threatened to bottle up a major segment of the axis troops.

"Immobilize" Axis in Northeast.

The communique said that British "pressure upon the enemy holding defensive localities between Halfaya [Hellfire pass] and Sidi Omar is maintained."

This apparently was part of the British strategy to immobilize the entire body of axis troops defending the northeastern section of Libya while the Tobruk spearhead drove far to the German-Italian rear.

The RAF, heavily equipped with planes which were made in America, played a vital part in the offensive. British pilots heavily bombed axis infantry and tank concentrations and airdromes ahead of the advancing British, and as far west as El Agheila, a coastal point 350 miles from the Egyptian frontier.

Five German Junkers 87s and two Messerschmitt 109Fs were reported destroyed on the ground. An earlier RAF communique said seven Nazi planes and three Italian aircraft were destroyed.

Attack Fleeing Motorized Units.

The RAF communique said its bombers attacked "axis tanks and motor transports moving westward on the road from Sollum," which indicated at least a partial German-Italian retreat from the coastal regions near Egypt where the royal navy carried out a heavy bombardment Tuesday morning before dawn.

Bardia, only about 10 miles from Sollum, also was attacked, and some

CONTEST WINNERS.

Tomorrow The Tribune will publish the names of the nine winners of grand cash awards in the "Wheel o' Fortune" competition, in which prizes totaling $10,000 were awarded to the entries whose zodiacal readings were judged most interesting by Doris Blake. From Sept. 23 until Nov. 1 the horoscopes and photographs of 726 persons were published in the Daily Tribune. Each received a cash prize. The grand prizes to be announced tomorrow will total $3,200, with a first award of $1,000, a second of $500, and seven prizes of $100 each.

HIM AND WHO ELSE?

U.S. and Vichy Near a Break; Halt Africa Aid

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 20.—Suspension of all economic assistance to French North Africa was announced today in a statement which hinted that the possibility of severing diplomatic relations with the Vichy French government is under consideration.

The state department based its action upon reports that the French government yielded to the demands of Adolf Hitler in removing Gen. Maxime Weygand from his post as proconsul of North Africa.

[Story of Gen. Weygand's "retirement" appears on page 7.]

Text of Announcement.

The state department announcement follows:

"According to reports reaching the department, the French government has acquiesced to the express demand of Hitler to remove Gen. Weygand from his post as delegate general of France in Africa, thus permitting German control over French authority entirely outside the provisions of the armistice.

"As a result of these reports, American policy toward France is being reviewed and all plans for economic assistance to French North Africa are suspended. It remains to be seen to what further extent Hitler will attempt to take over by force or threat of force the sovereignty and control of the French empire."

Some administration officials have been demanding for months that relations with the Vichy government be severed and the so-called Free French government of Gen. Charles de Gaulle be recognized.

Ambassador Is Warned.

Only yesterday the French ambassador, Gaston Henry-Haye, was informed by Undersecretary of State Sumner Welles that if North Africa is opened to Hitler, France will not be permitted to purchase and ship food from this country for the starving French women and children and the 1,350,000 French war prisoners still held by Germany.

Because of his resistance to German demands for greater collaboration, Gen. Weygand for months was able to obtain from the United States large quantities of oil and other supplies for the French North African forces.

Gorilla Toto Meets Match When Train Upsets Cage

West Palm Beach, Fla., Nov. 20 (AP).—The gorilla Toto's cage was overturned and knocked 30 feet tonight by a freight train but the animal was unhurt. He cowered in one corner of the huge cage while efforts were made to right it with jacks. Later the loading activities of the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey circus were resumed.

BRITONS SELECT COMMITTEE TO MEET AMERICANS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Nov. 20.—A British-American parliamentary committee consisting of peers and members of the house of commons was formed today. The committee seeks to maintain "close relations with the United States" and keep in touch with distinguished Americans who come to Britain.

Col. Walter E. Elliot, Conservative member of parliament, was elected chairman of the committee, with William W. Wakefield, Conservative, and John J. Tinker, Laborite, as joint secretaries.

Call in Police to Stop Fights at CIO Rally

BY GEORGE TAGGE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 20.—Uniformed police and city detectives were called in tonight after three more fights broke out in the convention hall and the hotel headquarters of the Congress of Industrial Organizations. These altercations took place after a formal peace had been declared between the forces of John L. Lewis, absent former CIO czar, and his opponents.

Three plain-clothes men and four uniformed men were assigned to the Hotel Statler. It was reported that the hotel management requested their presence. Six uniformed policemen were in the Masonic temple thruout a testimonial banquet for CIO President Philip Murray, who succeeded Lewis a year ago.

Unioneers Pack Guns.

This force of guards was in addition to four Detroit CIOers who have the right to pack guns, being deputy sheriffs. One of them, Tracy M. Doll, president of the Wayne county [Detroit] CIO council, yesterday charged that "a reign of terror" has plagued the convention.

The first battle this afternoon started a stampede among more than 1,000 delegates and spectators toward the scene in the convention hall. An hour later, while spokesmen for Lewis were on the platform belatedly plumping for Murray's reëlection, the second scuffle occurred at the same spot.

When the conventioneers reached the hotel after the session, another fight broke out and startled guests. It occurred in front of the elevators in the lobby where men with A. D. Lewis, John L.'s brother, yesterday assaulted August J. Scholle, president of the Michigan CIO council.

A Minor League Affair.

Participants in today's brawls were auto workers union men of minor league caliber. However, those in yesterday's three battles were high officials of the CIO.

A turbulent situation has arisen over the operations of two Lewis unions, the United Construction Workers organizing committee and District 50, the so-called "raiding local" of the United Mine Workers, which is grabbing workers in coal by-product industries. Other CIO unions are guarding their own interests.

Gifts of an automobile and a gold watch and pen were acknowledged in two speeches by Murray at the banquet tonight. The car was given him by the Ford workers.

"There can be no more fooling around after you've got your wage contract," Murray told the workers. "There is such a thing as making a fool of yourself."

"There must be no slowdowns or interruptions in production. If there's any monkey business you have got to stop it, or some one else will stop it for you."

Bombers—with Union Labels.

After describing Ford plans for factories to turn out bombers which he said will "obliterate" Germany in 1943, the CIO president pledged that the bombers and bombs will bear the union labels.

He stated that he never would have taken the CIO into its present pro-war position were it not for his determination and belief that the CIO will play an important rôle in the situation after the war.

Among the 1,500 delegates and guests at the dinner was Municipal Judge George L. Quilici of Chicago.

PREMIER ARGUES DRAFT WOULD SPLIT AUSTRALIA

CANBERRA, Australia, Nov. 20.—Prime Minister John Curtin, commenting on the advocacy of conscription by the Returned Soldiers' league, said today that the history of conscription in Australia had been marked by increasing national disunity. Recognition of this fact, he said, led parliamentary leaders to indicate that conscription would not be invoked for overseas service.

Curtin said it would be impracticable and abhorrent to apply conscription to the air force and navy, and declared that no country, including Germany, had conscripted for the air force. The number of men serving in the Australian forces voluntarily, he said, showed that conscription was not required to evoke patriotic service.

FDR MAY ISSUE A FLAG WAVING PLEA TO MINERS

Army Preparing to Take Over Pits.

Troops Ready to Move

Camp Forrest, Tenn., Nov. 20 (AP).—Admitting they were standing in readiness for possible strike duty, officers of the 58th signal battalion tonight branded as false reports that their troops had left camp. Earlier reports from usually reliable sources said part of the 58th, which consists of more than 500 soldiers, had left the camp in trucks bound for Pennsylvania's coal fields. The officers said their unit, as other outfits in camp, were momentarily expecting to be called. It was reported that field stoves and other equipment were being checked for possible strike duty.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 20.—President Roosevelt has told congressional leaders, it was learned today, that he is debating a personal appeal to striking coal miners over the head of their ruler, John L. Lewis.

Rep. J. W. Martin.

His plea for a resumption of production may be preceded by dispatch of troops into the strike ridden areas. With his flair for the dramatic, Mr. Roosevelt has visualized for recent White House visitors the running up of the American flag over mine tipples, the standing at attention of troops in uniform, and the reading to congregated strikers of a strongly worded statement urging them to repudiate Lewis and go back to work under the flag's protection.

Clash in Pennsylvania.

Tension in the strike situation was emphasized today by news of disorders in Pennsylvania. Three miners were shot and wounded at Brownsville, Fayette county, in a clash between CIO pickets and nonstriking miners near an H. C. Frick company mine. The automobile of a mine superintendent later was punctured by bullets.

The President, like every one else conversant with the situation, expects the United Mine Workers' policy committee, which meets here Saturday morning, to back up Lewis' personal rejection yesterday of the Roosevelt proposal for a negotiated settlement of the coal dispute.

Awaits Committee Decision.

The President will not act, it was reported, until the committee's decision has been made. Nor is he anxious, the same congressional sources reported, to take action until the Congress of Industrial Organizations convention in Detroit is concluded.

Mr. Roosevelt was fortified by an assurance from House Republican Leader Joseph W. Martin that the minority in congress is desirous of properly drawn anti-strike legislation.

Whether or not Mr. Roosevelt is successful in his attempts to get the striking miners back to work, congress will speed a measure to put a halt to strikes which hamper the arms production, it was generally agreed.

50,000 Troops Instructed.

Fifty thousand troops have been mobilized and instructed for special duty in the mine areas, in case the President issues the order. These men have been ready for a week. Lewis has declared that if the army moves in, the miners will "sit peaceably in their homes."

Members of congress were unanimous in condemning Lewis for his blunt refusal to accept the President's recommendations yesterday for reopening the mines. Mr. Roosevelt suggested that further discussion of the one point at issue—the closed shop—be deferred until the national emergency was over or that this question be submitted to arbitration with the union and mine operators agreeing in advance to abide by the result. The United States Steel corporation, one of the biggest operators in the dispute, promptly accepted the proposal, but Lewis just as promptly turned it down.

DEMANDS PROOF BRITAIN SEEKS LIBERTY FOR ALL

Asks Revision of Policy Toward Colonies.

BY LARRY RUE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Nov. 20.—Demands were made in the house of commons today that Britain's colonial policy be geared to the British war claims that it is fighting for freedom not only of self, but for all mankind.

Philip J. Noel-Baker.

The position of Britain's 60,000,000 colonial subjects was raised by Philip J. Noel-Baker, Laborite, who declared, "our policy in the colonies today can do more to serve our cause than ever before in history."

Colonial peoples, he said, had "accepted restrictions and the hardships of war without a murmur," and Britain's task was to "prove to them that we mean business when we speak of freedom."

Political Freedom at Stake.

The principle of political freedom and the question of civil liberties are at stake in many colonies today, he asserted, urging the government to use every effort to improve conditions there and "press forward with the training of subject people in the conduct of their affairs."

Similar complaints were voiced by another Laborite, H. B. W. Morgan, who declared people in the West Indian Islands were not given a fair chance to govern their own affairs. The colonial office, he charged, had a deliberate policy of "business for business by business" in regard to these islands.

"Land monopoly is throttling the people," Morgan declared, and attacked the policy of importing food which could be grown locally. The colonial office, he alleged, "reserves its patronage for selecting higher officials with the right school tie and Masonic qualifications."

Few Have Right to Vote.

Declaring that only one citizen in 17 in Trinidad and one in 126 in St. Lucia had the right to vote, Morgan asserted:

"These colonies are governed by officials plus members nominated by the government, who have complete control in their hands."

He scoffed at the praise given the colonial office for producing the colonial welfare development act two years ago, pointing out that they had nearly 300 years in which to do it. "The colonial office should be on trial," he said.

Morgan also criticized the way physicians are treated in the West Indies, declaring "they are compelled to live in a black cesspool of disease over which they have no control." He charged medical authorities practice political discrimination and said that when he was running for election in 1928 as a Labor candidate, the chief medical officer on leave from the West Indies warned him that unless he dropped labor politics, "I'll make your brother suffer for it."

Refuses to Drop Politics.

Morgan refused to drop politics and as a result, he said his brother was "moved from the main island into one of the worst parishes in a satellite island, and only recently has been changed."

Differing with the Laborites, most of the Conservative party speakers voiced approval of the government policy and its assurance of intentions to raise the colonial standard of living.

George H. Hall, parliamentary undersecretary for the colonies, a Laborite, paid tribute to the colonies for their manpower, productive, and financial contributions to the war effort, and claimed there had been an "intense universal uprush of loyalty to the throne."

The general economic situation in most of the colonies has continued satisfactory, he said. Losses of pre-war markets largely have been offset by war production and "various measures of assistance devised by the government."

Diverted to United States.

Hall said it was the policy of the government to "divert colonial orders to the United States to save the manufacturing capacity of Britain and avoid shipping goods thru dangerous waters."

A special purchasing organization known as the colonial supply liaison, operating in collaboration with the British purchasing commission, has been set up in Washington, D. C., Hall said, to deal with colonial requirements.

The colonial office, Hall assured commons, was "giving much attention to post-war problems" and for some months past the official committee presided over by Lord Hailey has been investigating all aspects of the colonial question—economic, social, political, financial. Concluding, Hall said the British government's policy was to "improve the lot of all colonial peoples, help guide them to prosperity, develop their resources to raise their standard of living, and enable them to take an ever increasing responsibility in their own affairs."

Army Call for Norwegians in U. S. and Canada Looms

MONTREAL, Que., Nov. 20 (AP).—Norwegian male subjects from 20 to 37 years old in the United States and Canada soon will be called for military service, Lieut. Col. Arne D. Dahl of the Norwegian military mission to North America said here today. With about 3,000 eligible Norwegians in Canada and thousands more in the United States, he said there may be enough for a division of 12,000 to 15,000 men.

TRAINING SCHOOL PAROLEE SEIZED CARRYING KNIFE

A boy of 17, uninjured when the car he was driving overturned in route 330 west of Geneva yesterday, was arrested when he was unable to prove he had a driver's license. At the Kane county jail in Geneva he told Deputy Sheriff Harry A. Crawford he is Paul Bauman, 210 South Wheaton avenue, Wheaton, and that he is a parolee from the State Training School for Boys, near St. Charles.

Crawford discovered that his prisoner had a hunting knife in a sheath tied under his arm. He was charged with driving without a license and with carrying a concealed weapon. Investigation showed that the car belonged to Bauman's brother, H. Bauman of Wheaton, and that it had been taken without his consent.

Paul Bauman said he had visited friends in the school at St. Charles in the afternoon. Russell W. Ballard, managing director of the school, said there was no evidence this was true but that an inquiry would be made today. Young Bauman was an inmate from September, 1938, to October, 1940, and recently was reported as going straight. He was committed after he had been charged with burglary.

BRITAIN ALSO IS THANKFUL—FOR HELP FROM U. S.

Eden Hails Guns, Tanks, and F. D. R. Aims.

LONDON, Nov. 20.—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, speaking at the American Society's Thanksgiving day turkey dinner, said Britain also has many things for which to be thankful. He numbered among these the "million rifles and large number of field guns" rushed to England after the fall of France, revision of the neutrality act, and the fact that the "United States navy now is protecting the lifeline that bridges the ocean between this country and America and stands guard in the Pacific."

"Once again as free men we feel the masters of our fate," he declared. "American tanks and British tanks perhaps at this very hour are giving battle to the enemy side by side in the Libyan desert while above them American and British aircraft fight to dominate the air.

Proud of Close Relationship.

"Our relations with the United States today are close, cordial and intimate, and we are proud and happy this should be so. Our faith is one, our cause is one, and our aim is one."

Eden said that the British government had implicit faith in President Roosevelt's ability and desire to protect England in the conversations with Japan now going on in Washington, D. C.

"The conversations with Japan concern the whole future of the Pacific," he asserted. "They concern areas where our interests are direct and important, where our kith and kin have their homes. On behalf of the government I wish to say it has every confidence in the United States spokesman, so much confidence indeed, that it has never asked and would never ask to be represented in the conversations. It trusts its friends."

Sees a Better World.

The foreign secretary said amendment of the American neutrality act had inspired Britain in her struggle and outlined several reasons why men in the future will be grateful for the fight now being made against aggressor nations.

He used the pronoun "we" in referring to people on both sides of the Atlantic when he said:

"We are thinking in terms of a better world for all, a broader base for democracy, better housing and living conditions, more widespread education, a better distribution of the world's goods, and happier relations between nations. We know not only what we are fighting against, but what we are fighting for. We can only solve these problems together, you and me. The whole future of mankind is bound up in that one sentence."

Hear F. D. R. Proclamation.

United States Ambassador John G. Winant who presided, read President Roosevelt's Thanksgiving proclamation. Winant said that these days are dangerous ones just as were the times in which the Pilgrim fathers dared to live according to their convictions.

The meal consisted of tomato soup, roast turkey, stuffing, sausages, corn fritters, cranberry sauce, hashbrown potatoes, "American" mince pie, "New England" pumpkin pie, vanilla ice cream, coffee, wine, and liqueurs.

Henry Ford Sees Hostess at His Inn Wed Violinist

Sudbury, Mass., Nov. 20 (AP).—Miss Muriel DeMille, long a hostess at Way Side inn here, and Stuart Hoppin, violinist and composer, were married today in a simple ceremony attended by Henry Ford, who preserved the old inn as a New England shrine, and by Mrs. Ford. The Rev. Harry L. Meyer, pastor of Grace Congregational church at nearby Framingham, conducted the candle light service, in Martha-Mary chapel on the Way Side inn estate. Both the bride and groom live at Framingham.

Guest of Honor

JANE WYMAN.

Fort MacArthur, Cal., Nov. 20 (AP).—A little nervous, but grinning broadly, Private Fred McClintock welcomed Movie Actress Jane Wyman to dinner today. And his top kick turned waiter for the occasion.

A week ago McClintock and the boys were talking about their favorite actresses. Blonde Jane, said the private from Buckingham, Ill., was his. In a moment of bravado, he mentioned inviting her to Thanksgiving dinner.

"Why," came back 1st Sergt. Alexander Dahlstein, "I'll lay my month's check against yours if she shows up, and what's more, I'll wait on you both."

McClintock went to Col. W. W. Hicks with his problem. Col. Hicks gave him a letter of introduction. Miss Wyman agreed. But McClintock didn't have her all to himself, however. Husband Ronald Reagan came along. That cramped the private's style a bit because Reagan is a cavalry lieutenant.

TURKEYS LOST, BOYS IN ICELAND POSTPONE FEAST

REYKJAVIK, Iceland, Nov. 20 (AP).—United States army and marine forces stationed at this north Atlantic outpost decided today to postpone their Thanksgiving celebration until Nov. 27.

No politics were involved.

The reason: A shipload of turkeys, indispensable to the holiday, had not yet arrived.

SANTA WILL WING WAY INTO CITY THIS AFTERNOON

A sharp upturn of Christmas spirit in Chicago is expected today with the arrival of Santa Claus by American Airlines from the far north. The place: Chicago airport. The time: 1 p. m. Children who want a view of the whiskered Kriss Kringle will be welcome at the field. With Santa Claus will be a band of elves and another of 12 choir singers.

GIVE TO SMOKES FOR YANKS NOW; CHRISTMAS NEAR

It's a Long Way to Boys on Sea Patrol.

"Smokes for Yanks!"

They came in yesterday by the package, by the carton, and by the case. But the time is short and the distance is great to the faraway boys of America's armed services patroling the Atlantic and on guard at the American bases from Iceland to the Caribbean.

Today is the day to give if you want to be sure your cigarets, cigars, and tobacco reach the soldiers and sailors in time for Christmas. If you're planning to give to the "Smokes for Yanks!" cause, contributors who have joined in the movement urge you to make your gift at once.

Where to Give.

Checks should be sent to Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., Tribune Tower, Chicago. Cash and gifts of cigarets and tobacco may be left at the Tribune public service bureaus in Tribune Tower or in the loop at 1 South Dearborn street. Or you may drop a package or a carton in any of the 814 "Smokes for Yanks!" boxes thruout metropolitan Chicago.

W. E. Liebetrau and Thomas F. Gannon, vice presidents of Philip Morris & Co., Inc., made a Thanksgiving present of 10,000 cigarets.

Pilots, hostesses, and executives of United Air Lines and Transcontinental and Western Air, Inc., made generous gifts.

The members of the "Wings of Destiny" cast took up the cause, announcing that they will appeal to their listeners for cigarets for the soldiers on their radio show from WMAQ and the National Broadcasting company's Red network at 9 o'clock tonight.

Music Leaders Contribute.

Mrs. James G. Shakman, president of the Woman's Symphony orchestra, and Conductor Izler Solomon were among those who contributed at a party in the Drake hotel to send Christmas presents to the soldiers and sailors.

Waukegan residents approved the "Smokes for Yanks!" plan so enthusiastically that Jerome Morrison, vice president of the Globe department store at 33 North Genesee street in the suburb, asked for four collection boxes to place in his store.

Bowlers, who already have offered to celebrate victories with gifts to "Smokes for Yanks!" and to drop cigarets in the collection boxes when they make strikes, were busy yesterday enlisting teams. Teams of the Association of Commerce Industrial Bowling league each volunteered to contribute a carton of cigarets at their games next Thursday and Friday.

Firm Matches Gifts.

Wishing to share in the giving of its customers, the tobacco firm of Iwan Ries & Co. at 71 West Monroe street began contributing a 35 cent package of tobacco to match every 10 packages of cigarets in its "Smoke for Yanks!" collection box and for every ½ pound of tobacco given by a patron.

As one State street store reminds Chicagoans in its advertisments, everybody's giving to "Smokes for Yanks!"

THE TRIBUNE circulation trucks are collecting filled "Smokes for Yanks!" boxes. Business houses and others with boxes that are nearly full are asked to telephone the "Smokes for Yanks!" headquarters at Tribune Tower, Superior 0100. Collectors all carry official "Smokes for Yanks!" collection cards.

OPM PREFERRED RATING GIVEN 4 WISCONSIN CITIES

But Chicago Is Excluded from Benefits.

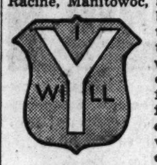
BY HAL FOUST.

Four Wisconsin cities—Kenosha, Racine, Manitowoc, and Ripon—have been certified by the OPM as distressed areas, which gives these communities preferment in bids for armament contracts. Evansville, Ind., is the only other city in a three state region—Illinois, Indiana, and Wisconsin—to receive this status in the government's system of handicapping the nation's industries in their race for munition jobs.



Chicago's motto.

Gene J. Brock, the federal handicapper for this region, announced these certifications yesterday and said that Kankakee and Decatur have both been recommended for this form of relief from "priority unemployment." Brock has two lengthy titles, labor supply officer of the bureau of employment security of the social security board and acting chairman of the regional labor supply committee of the office of production management.

No Hope for Chicago.

Chicago, he added, can not hope for this form of relief under present administrative policies notwithstanding the priorities pinch on about half of its 10,000 small plants, jeopardizing the jobs of 70,000 employés. THE TRIBUNE has been campaigning to relieve the situation thru more armament contracts and subcontracts and new industries for Chicagoland.

"In Chicago," said Brock, "it is assumed that when a plant is closed by the defense program the workers will be able to find jobs within commuting distance of their homes, jobs created by the defense program. In a smaller community when a large plant is forced to close, you might as well roll up the sidewalks; the entire community is hit.

"The certifications of distress are for areas, for a labor market area, not for individual companies. An entire industry might be certified but I know of only one instance where this has been done. It was for the washing machine factories, which have been deprived of their normal materials for normal production because these materials are needed for armaments."

How Towns Are Hit.

Ripon's distress is caused by its dependence upon a washing machine factory. In Kenosha and Racine it's caused by the curtailment on automobile production. Kenosha's silk hosiery mills have also been stricken. In Manitowoc, it was the shutdown on aluminum for kitchen ware, but contracts for army mess kits and jobs in shipbuilding yards have eased the stress. In Evansville, priorities stopped refrigerator production.

In Kankakee, priorities have clamped down on production of stoves and agricultural machinery. In Decatur, men have been laid off in plants producing brass hardware, metal novelties, and plumbing goods.

It's an elaborate system that brings about this certification of distress and the benefits therefrom. A community, usually under the guidance of its chamber of commerce, will prepare an inventory of its industries. From the information on the required forms, the reader can judge armament production capacities, the effect of priorities on materials, and the employment situation.

From States to U. S.

These inventories are filed with state employment offices. From these offices in Illinois, Wisconsin, and Indiana, the reports are sent to Brock's regional headquarters in the United States courthouse in Chicago. Copies are forwarded to Washington, D. C., with any recommendation as to distress certification.

In Washington, in the contract distribution division of the Office of Production Management, the recommendations as to distress certification are approved or disavowed after comparison of the inventories and reports from all parts of the country. The OPM then surveys equipment that might be used for munitions production. The surveys are sent to procurement offices of the army, navy, and aviation corps.

These procurement offices award the contracts in President Roosevelt's 65 billion dollar defense and lend-lease program. The awards ordinarily are made to the lowest responsible and satisfactory bidders. However, to ease economic disruptions accompanying the war program, procurement officers give a price advantage of as much as about 15 per cent to bids from areas or industries certified by the OPM as distressed.

An example of this preferment was cited in the office of the army's Chicago ordnance district, which placed $300,643,000 in contracts in the metropolitan area between July 1, 1940, and the first of last month. The army sought a manufacturer for a cannon part. A Chicago firm bid $3.16. The bid was sent to Washington for an award. The ordnance department gave the job to a Syracuse, N. Y., company at $3.76. The Syracuse bid was backed by an OPM distress certification.

KEY WEST FAUCETS TO GET FRESH WATER FOR THE FIRST TIME

Key West, Fla., Nov. 20 (AP).—Key West soon will have fresh water from every faucet in the city, to replace salt water now used for everything except drinking and cooking.

Thanks to the navy, fresh water piped thru the keys from the mainland will be available. Replaced will be the cisterns that have trapped rain water since days of the pirates who founded the city.

An aqueduct 134 miles long will bring the fresh water from a point near Miami. The aqueduct will carry 3 million gallons daily, two-thirds for the navy and one-third for the civilian population.

POLICE 'TIPOFF' IN MILEY SLAYING ARREST STABBED

Lexington, Ky., Nov. 20 (AP).—Tom Lunsford, 28 years old, one of the "tip-off" men in the arrest of Tom Penny on a charge of slaying Golf Star Marion Miley and her mother, was stabbed in the abdomen on the street near his home tonight.

Patrolman Clyde Callahan said Lunsford told him he did not recognize his assailant. Lunsford was given emergency treatment and dismissed from St. Joseph's hospital.

With Bud Tomlinson, Lunsford gave police information which helped lead to the arrest of Penny in Fort Worth, Tex. Penny now is in the Fayette county jail awaiting trial. The Mileys were shot fatally by gunfire in a robbery of their apartment last Sept. 28.

Duke Heiress' $8,000 Art Works Stolen; Hold Suspect

Somerville, N. J., Nov. 20 (AP).—Capt. Daniel Dunn of the New Jersey state police revealed tonight the theft of two oil paintings and a print, valued at $8,000, from the rural estate of Doris Duke Cromwell, and the arrest of a suspect. The theft occurred Nov. 11. Dunn said the suspect was trapped in a side road between Somerville and Union, N. J., near Elizabeth, by 50 state troopers. Mrs. Cromwell, heiress to the Duke tobacco millions, is at her estate in Honolulu.

U. S. CONGRESSMEN TO BEGIN TOUR OF BRITISH INDUSTRY

Junket Is Unofficial, They Emphasize.

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Nov. 20.—Radiating good cheer, five Republican members of the United States house of representatives arrived today from America. Their expenses are being paid by PM, interventionist newspaper owned by Marshall Field of New York.

Amid quips and mutual kidding, members of the party told newspapermen they had come to Britain to study the effect of American lend-lease aid on industrial, agricultural and labor conditions and methods, to visit farms, industrial areas and shipyards, and, incidentally, to learn something about the advisability of an air force separate from the navy and army.

Not a "Committee of Congress."

When asked if they expected to be able to do all this in two weeks, Melvin J. Maas [Minn.], senior member of the party, quipped:

"Do you know of any congressional committee that did not think it could do it?"

Maas explained that altho the five are here as a "committee of congressmen," they are not a "committee of congress." He introduced three of his companions as "Cowboy" William S. Hill [Colo.], "Our Glamour Boy" W. Sterling Cole [N. Y.], and "Our Don Juan," Joseph C. Baldwin [N. Y.].

[A dispatch by another agency said that Richard Gale [Minn.], the fifth member of the party, said he and some other members felt a little embarrassed at their lack of understanding of what Britain was like today. He said they half expected to find towns in ruins, people exhibiting signs of hardship, and public services operating at something less than normal efficiency. Instead, he continued, "everything and everybody appears to be pretty much all right."]

Minimize Effect of Strikes.

Maas told the British that reports as to the effect of American strikes on output were exaggerated.

All members of the party said America is willing to do everything possible "to see Hitler beaten," but Maas carefully distinguished this as not meaning that American policy was directed to "save any particular country."

WIFE DIVORCES ERNEST T. WEIR, STEEL MAGNATE

West Palm Beach, Fla., Nov. 20 [Special].—Ernest T. Weir of Pittsburgh, Pa., board chairman of the National Steel corporation, was divorced by his wife of nearly 17 years in Okeechobee County court on Nov. 15, it was revealed here today.

Mrs. Weir's action was filed Nov. 1, charging mental cruelty and desertion. The steel magnate was served with papers in the suit on Nov. 5 in Jacksonville, and was represented at the hearing in chambers, but did not appear himself. The record of the hearing, before a special master, was not made public.

According to the decree, a final property settlement reached by the parties, in lieu of alimony, was ratified by the court. The two were married on Jan. 12, 1925.

BRITAIN TO SLASH MILK RATION TO 2 PINTS PER WEEK

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Nov. 20.—Beginning Sunday the liquid milk ration for adults will be reduced to two pints or less each week, Lord Woolton, food minister, announced today. Nursing and expectant mothers, children, invalids and hospitals will be assured of their priority supply.

Supplies of American condensed milk equal to about two pints of liquid milk a month per adult are available. Next month household powdered milk for cooking equal to four liquid pints monthly per family will be available.

WORKMAN DIES OF HEAD INJURIES.

William Bionar, 32 years old, 1166 Milwaukee avenue, a window washer, who was found suffering from a skull fracture Nov. 15 at Madison street and Union avenue, apparently from a fall, died yesterday in the county hospital.

WAR RELIEF TAPS AMERICAN PURSE FOR 91 MILLIONS

500 Groups Aid in Raising Funds for Britain.

BY WILLIAM FULTON.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Nov. 20.—American dollars, sweaters, and ambulances are pouring into the British Isles in a never ending stream, a reconnoitering of the war propaganda front revealed today.

This survey disclosed that more than 500 organizations, all accredited by the state department, are doing a land office business in the field of war relief. They have collected 91 million dollars, most of it for Britain or her allies. Registration with the state department and periodic reports are required by these groups because they are furnishing aid for belligerent countries.

At least as important propagandawise for the British cause are such redhot get us into war organizations as Fight for Freedom, Inc., and Committee to Defend America. These war promoting movements do not have to report.

High Pay Roll in U. S.

Some of the 500 organizations are spending a large percentage on the pay roll at home, maintaining elaborate corps of high pressure fund collectors, publicity agents, executive secretaries, and other high paid officials.

Bundles for Britain, for example, is spending better than one dollar on promotion and administrative pay roll out of every five dollars collected. Cash collections up to Oct. 1, 1941, for two years of operation amounted to $2,467,133 and $521,410 of this amount went to Bundles jobholders.

The British regard Bundles as highly important from the propaganda point of view because thru the organization good American ladies are investing time, labor, and knitting ability on the side of the British.

Two Million Gifts.

Bundles has sent knitted helmets, mittens, socks, and mufflers to the British army and other garments to civilians, numbering in all, 2,517,858. Headed by Mrs. Wales Latham, New York society matron, Bundles is extremely social. Benefits, parties, concerts, balls, musicals are constantly held by the bundling organization.

The British War Relief Society, Inc., has spent $1,034,777 on promotion and administration but has a better record proportionately than Bundles because its total collections have been $11,010,358. Aside from cash sent to the British, the value of knitted garments, surgical supplies, and other gifts sent abroad by this group totals $3,623,760. Guiding genius of the society is Winthrop Aldrich, chairman of the board of the Chase National bank. The society also makes quite a splash in the social swim.

Another of the big organizations is the British American Ambulance Corps, Inc., headed by William V. Ruxton, former master of the hounds at Cattistock, England. The ambulance corps has collected $1,709,818 and spent on promotion and administration a total of $283,524. The corps has expended $963,884 on actual aid abroad and has large unexpended funds still in its treasury.

Foster Parents' Plan for War Children has collected $281,544 to help British evacuated children and used $77,706 for promotion and administration. The executive secretary of the group is Eric Muggeridge, a native of England, who visited the United States for the first time in 1938.

Save the Children Federation, which extends aid to war refugee children in England, spent $139,742 on pay roll out of its collections of $534,141.

A table showing organizations in the United States which have collected more than $5,000 apiece for some effort on behalf of the British since the start of the war up to Oct. 1, 1941, has been compiled from state department reports. Excluding church groups, societies for purely local colonial work as in Canada, and numerous organizations working for Poland and other allies of England, the British aid groups and collections are as follows:

BUY FOOD FOR BRITISH

Washington, D. C., Nov. 20 (AP).—A sharp upturn in shipments of food and other agricultural products to England was disclosed today as officials made public the first breakdown of supplies actually sent.

The department of agriculture announced that 1,650,000,000 pounds of agricultural commodities had been turned over to British officials for shipment in the five-month period from April 29 to Oct. 1. They said the products cost 200 million dollars.

Shortly before, Toy F. Hendrickson, administrator of the surplus marketing administration, disclosed that the 500 million dollars mark in lend-lease expenditures for farm products had been passed this week.

Buying Will Continue.

Hendrickson's statement indicated that 300 million dollars for British aid supplies had been spent in the last six weeks, compared with 200 million dollars in the five months prior to Oct. 1. He said that the increased buying program would continue with expenditure of another 500 million dollars by the end of February. Thus, by the date, the government will have spent two-thirds of the one billion 500 million dollars appropriated for purchase of farm products under the lend-lease act.

Department spokesmen said a detailed report on purchases of agricultural products for October would be made public after Dec. 1. The lag apparently was intended to allow shipments to arrive in England and avoid disclosure of strategic data.

Hendrickson, head of the agency conducting the vast purchase program, said that foods "which left our docks before Oct. 1" included 10,600 carloads of dairy and poultry products; almost 5,000 carloads of pork; nearly 5,500 carloads of dried and canned fruits and vegetables; more than 2,900 carloads of fats, mainly lard; almost 1,600 carloads of grains and cereals; more than 5,100 carloads of non-foodstuffs, principally cotton and tobacco, and several hundred carloads of miscellaneous foods."

Quantities of Supplies.

The SMA head said that officials here "have agreed to provide a substantial part of England's food needs, and we expect to continue making available large quantities of the essential shipments. These food shipments are proving to be a vital factor in Great Britain's fight against aggression.

Hendrickson said that most of the food supplies were being distributed to the civilian population of England "thru normal trade channels, under a rationing system and with strict price controls."

Other supplies were being handled "thru canteens in industrial plants," he continued. "Some are used for free distribution thru mobile soup kitchens in bombed areas, and to children and others thru schools, clinics, and hospitals."

FIRE MENACES OIL FIELD.

Huntington Beach, Cal., Nov. 20 (AP).—An explosion and spectacular fire destroyed two derricks and endangered the entire rich Huntington Beach oil field today. Firemen confined the flames to four other derricks, all of which were damaged.

A Young Idea: Two Freight Cars, a Cornfield—Home!

(Story in adjoining column.)

Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell (Pete) Miller of Rockford lifting packages into one of the freight cars which they intend to transform into a modern but inexpensive home. The homesite will be a cornfield 12 miles north of Rockford. [TRIBUNE Photo.]

EXPECT TO FIND 2 CARLOADS OF HAPPINESS SOON

Rockford Couple Has an Idea and a Home.

BY RITA FITZPATRICK.

You don't need a covered wagon to be a pioneer. A freight car—or rather two—will do.

At least, this is the way the young Maxwell [Pete] Millers of Rockford are coping with the times.

Passers-by on a back dirt road near Roscoe, 12 miles north of Rockford, are startled to see two refrigerator cars sitting complacently in a cornfield far from a spur or a siding. They are not looking at the cars with the farseeing, optimistic eyes of the young Millers.

Instead of the bleak cornfield and the incongruous freight cars, the Millers envision a pale brown native limestone path winding to a picturesque white cottage nestling in the shade of towering trees. They see a lush pasture which spreads beyond, and several horses grazing contentedly. Bright, hardy flowers dot the lawn and halo a charming roof garden. Wisteria tumbles ingratiatingly against the house.

Backed by Ideas.

This bright picture is not just a hazy dream. It is backed by youthful ideas and industry. The Millers were married in a beautiful wedding at Rockford in August, attended by leaders in the social life of the city, but like any young couple, they are starting out to build a home on a shoestring.

Mrs. Miller was Ruth [Bazy] McCormick, daughter of Mrs. Ruth Hanna Simms. Now she is just the wife of a young factory employé living in the cheerful American way on her husband's salary and enjoying it.

Because young factory employés cannot afford even medium priced houses, the Millers put their heads together and came up with three acres of cornfield and two refrigerator cars.

Cars to Be Joined.

The cars, minus wheels and steel understructure, are to be joined together side by side on cement blocks and cement footing. The adjoining walls will be torn out except for a seven and a half foot partition which will be the wall between the kitchen and bathroom. The living room will be spacious, 17 by 18½ feet, with one door of the car facing the road as the front entrance and the other occupied by a stone chimney and fireplace. The bedroom also will be large, 9½ by 15½ feet. All in all, the house will have a floor space of 40 by 19 feet.

The house will be painted white with green shutters decorating the numerous windows which will be cut out of the cars. The flat roof will create a modern architectural touch and be used for a sun deck and roof garden.

Inside there will be all the modern conveniences, electricity, gas, oil burner, plumbing, built-in bookcases, and kitchen cabinets. Brightly painted canvas will transform the bare car walls, and early American furniture will blend tastefully with period pieces.

But the Millers do not intend to wait for spring and the wisteria to grow. Next month, when the plumbing, heating, and electricity are installed, Bazy and Pete will roll up their sleeves and go to work. When Christmas comes the house will present a bright face to friends.

"I HATE WAR"

In an address broadcast to the nation and the world on Sept. 3, 1939—the day that Great Britain and France declared war on Germany—President Roosevelt declared:

"I have said not once but many times that I have seen war, and that I hate war. I say that again and again.

"I hope the United States will keep out of this war. I believe that it will. And I give you assurances that every effort of your government will be directed toward that end.

"As long as it remains within my power to prevent, there will be no blackout of peace in the United States."

Thailand Buys 30 Planes from U. S., Japan Hears

BRITISH IN LIBYA REPULSED WITH BIG LOSS: BERLIN

Nazis and Italians Make Quick Counter-Attacks.

BERLIN, Nov. 20 (AP).—The German high command today said that British forces in Africa driving toward besieged Tobruk "were thrown back with heavy losses" by axis troops.

The high command communique had this to say of the British desert drive:

"In North Africa British forces which for days have been held in readiness south and southwest of Sidi Omar [near the Egyptian-Libyan border 50 miles from the Mediterranean coast] started a thrust in the direction of Tobruk on Nov. 18. In immediate counterattacks by German and Italian units, strong British forces operating west of Sidi Omar were thrown back with heavy losses. Numerous British tanks were destroyed."

Authorized commentators handled the Libyan offensive gingerly, but insisted that "the African operation is not the second front which Stalin demanded" of the British.

Picture Entire Front Ablaze.

ROME, Nov. 20 (AP).—Picturing the entire African front as ablaze with battle, the Italians declared tonight strong British forces were attacking simultaneously in Libya and Ethiopia.

In the Cirenaican desert of eastern Libya the high command said British and Italian tanks were fighting a large-scale engagement along a 90-mile front.

In the mountainous Gondar region of Ethiopia—last stronghold of Premier Mussolini's six-year-old East African empire—British forces described as "overwhelming" were said to be attacking Italian outposts all around a circle of defense 780 miles in circumference.

The war report said British bombers attacked Naples, Brindisi, and Messina again overnight, causing some casualties, while Italian flyers bombed Malta. It was the second night of raids for Brindisi and third for Naples.

Details of the big battle in the Libyan waste land were lacking but the high command said British tanks and mechanized units had been forced to fall back.

"Can't Be Called an Advance."

Without denying a British claim that the army from Egypt had pushed forward 50 miles since dawn on Tuesday, an authoritative source declared only that it could not be called an advance in battle but only a march to make contact with the Italians.

In a five point explanation of the fighting this source said:

"FIRST—The British claim of a 50 mile advance is illusory. What happened is that British forces between Giarabub and Sollum tried to make contact with our troops across the desert where there are no garrison posts, and, therefore, the expression 'advance' is quite improper. It is an approaching march.

"SECOND—The British propaganda is quite out of proportion to the results obtained.

Deny It Was a "Surprise."

"THIRD—British propaganda speaks of a 'surprise.' This is untrue. Our troops immediately answered with strong counteraction.

"FOURTH—The British claim that this battle opened a new front which the Russians so far have asked for in vain is baseless considering the realities of the situation. The Mediterranean and African fronts from the first have been wide fronts where Italians have employed all their forces. The Russians wanted a second European continental front, and from that point of view all the enemy's propaganda and noise cannot hide the fact that such a front has not been created.

"FIFTH—Unlike British propaganda, we do not use empty words on an action in full development and where only weapons will speak."

Ragged Troops at Gondar.

Il Giornale d'Italia said beleaguered forces north of Lake Tsana in Ethiopia have been fighting fiercely for several days in an effort to hold back the British onslaught against ragged Fascist legions and native troops defending Italy's last foothold in East Africa.

The newspaper said the British outnumbered the defense forces at Gondar in man power and especially in weapons and planes, and stated that the Italians there had been cut off for seven months without means of getting supplies.

EXECUTE CROATS; THREW GRENADES AT NAZI FLYERS

ZAGREB, Croatia, Nov. 20 (AP).—Two Croats were executed by a firing squad today after a German court martial had found them guilty of tossing hand grenades into a bus carrying German aviators last Sept. 12. Two of the Germans were wounded.

Sentence 2 in Jugo-Slavia.

SOFIA, Bulgaria, Nov. 20 (AP).—A military tribunal today decreed death sentences for two residents of Prilep, in the Bulgarian held area of southern Jugo-Slavia, after convicting them of membership in the communist party.

Five Executed in Moravia.

BERLIN, Nov. 20 (AP).—Five persons, convicted of preparation for high treason by a court at Brunn [Brno], Moravia, yesterday have been executed, a dispatch from Prague reported tonight.

The War in Ethiopia

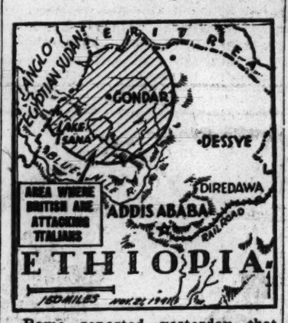
(Story in adjoining column.)



Rome reported yesterday that "overwhelming" British forces were attacking in the mountainous Gondar region of Ethiopia—last stronghold of Mussolini's six year old East African empire—around a circle of defense 780 miles in circumference.

8 U-BOATS SUNK BY U. S. CONVOY, SAILOR ASSERTS

Letter Home Tells of Trip to Ireland.

Indications that American warships have been convoying British vessels to Ireland—even before repeal of the neutrality act—were disclosed yesterday in a letter a young middle western boy, serving in the navy, wrote to his mother.

Written with boyish enthusiasm, the letter also asserted that the convoy escort on the voyage the young man had just completed sank eight German submarines during the trip.

The convoy was within 200 miles of the U. S. S. Reuben James when that American destroyer was torpedoed and lost with almost 100 lives, the letter writer, whose name is withheld at the request of his mother, declared in the letter.

Mailed from a New England port a few days before congress completed repeal of the neutrality act, the missive included the following startling paragraphs:

"Well, Mom, I just got back from Ireland. We took a convoy over and brought an empty one back. We sunk eight submarines going over and coming back, and we never lost a ship.

"Boy, Mom, it really is a thrill to be one of the boys to sink a German submarine. You feel like jumping up and yelling for joy."

GRANGE DRAFTS TAX POLICY FOR ARMS SPENDING

Worcester, Mass., Nov. 20 (AP).—The National Grange recommended today that funds for emergency requirements of the government be obtained thru income and luxury taxes and various forms of corporation and excess profit taxes.

The farm organization, at its 75th annual convention, declared it would oppose a federal sales tax. It urged sharp curtailment of all nondefense spending.

The grange asked also that congress enact legislation designed to guarantee farmers "the same price protection as industry" in the post-war period.

O'Neal Asks Wage Controls.

Jackson, Miss., Nov. 20 (AP).—Edward A. O'Neal, president of the American Farm Bureau federation, called today for legislation controling industrial wages and for sharply increased taxes to curb inflation and to finance two-thirds of the national defense cost out of current revenues. He addressed the convention of the Mississippi Farm Bureau federation.

AUTO KILLS AGED MAN.

Woodson, Ill., Nov. 20 (AP).—Burman Harden, 72, of Woodson, was killed last night when he was struck by an automobile driven by Murray Tucker of Jacksonville. Police exonerated Tucker of blame for the accident.

BRITISH 80 MILES IN LIBYA; DRIVE NEARING TOBRUK

Take Town 10 Miles from Lines; Smash Tanks.

British airmen flew as far as Tripoli, 800 miles away and perhaps the eventual British offensive goal, to raid dock and power installations.

The bombing of axis troops and tanks on the El Agheila-Jedabia road south of Bengazi far to the west indicated that the Germans and Italians were moving up men and equipment in an effort to stop the British.

Deny German Victory Claim.

German claims that they repulsed British tanks west of Sidi Omar during the day were dismissed by British informants with the observation:

"Even if true it means nothing because our first penetration was south of that point."

Moreover, it was added, Gen. Erwin Rommel, axis generalissimo, was in a dilemma; he must rush heavy forces to the south in an effort to breast the British or face the prospect that the advance could never be halted subsequently short of disaster.

All indications were that the British strategy was to use the fleet and air corps to prevent a long drawn-out axis retirement action—to compel Rommel to take his stand and fight it out in the frontier areas where the strain on British communications would be negligible.

The admiralty announced that British submarines had torpedoed an Italian tanker and a German supply ship in the Mediterranean. The tanker Tampico of 4,958 tons was seriously damaged and the heavily laden medium sized supply ship was "almost certainly sunk," a communique said.

"Nazi Divisions in Wedge"—British.

New York, Nov. 20 (AP).—A British radio broadcast said today that two German divisions were being wedged in between Bardia and Tobruk as the British drove deeper into the Libyan desert in North Africa.

The broadcast added that a vigorous offensive was being maintained by British troops along the entire 140 mile front and that axis prisoners already were arriving in Cairo. An Italian division is located due south of Tobruk, the radio said.

BRITISH DESTROY SUB THEY BELIEVE SANK CARRIER ARK ROYAL

LONDON, Nov. 20 (AP).—The admiralty announced today that the German submarine which it was "practically certain" was the one involved in the sinking of the British aircraft carrier Ark Royal had been destroyed in the Mediterranean.

The announcement credited the British corvette Marigold with destroying the submarine with depth charges and gunfire two days after the Ark Royal was torpedoed.

The corvette forced the submarine to the surface then engaged it at once with gunfire, the announcement said. It added that the crew of the U-boat dived into the water as the submarine sank and 34 of them were taken prisoner.

PLAN TO RESUME U. S. TO IRELAND CLIPPER SERVICE

New York, Nov. 20 [Special].—Plans for the resumption of trans-Atlantic service to Ireland this winter were announced today by the Pan American Airways system. The service was suspended in 1939 because of neutrality act restrictions, recently repealed by congress. The announcement follows:

"The Pan American Airways expects to resume trans-Atlantic service to Foynes, Ireland, this winter. Service to Ireland was suspended by the company in 1939 owing to certain restrictions imposed by the neutrality act which congress has just repealed.

"For a short time the service can operate only via the southern route. In the spring, however, Pan American will resume trans-Atlantic service over the northern route to Ireland.

TELLS HOW FLEET SHELLED AXIS TO AID LIBYAN PUSH

British Ships Pound Coast and Go Unscathed.

BY LARRY ALLEN.

ABOARD MEDITERRANEAN FLEET FLAGSHIP OFF LIBYA, Nov. 20 (AP).—The flash of big British naval guns mingled with stabs of lightning during a violent thunderstorm early Tuesday morning as hundreds of high explosives were pumped into German and Italian bases on the Libyan shore to aid a huge British land drive westward across the desert.

There was little answering fire from the shore, and no British warships were hit in this bombardment, officially described as successful.

Views Attack from Flagship.

From the top deck aft of this flagship which stood farther out to sea to screen the attacking cruisers, destroyers and other light units from any Italian warships, I watched the attack concentrated mainly on Sollum, nearby "Hellfire pass" and Bardia, all east of Tobruk, where a British garrison has held out since April.

The British ships jockeyed into position just after midnight. Rain fell in torrents. At times lightning lit up the area in blinding flashes, but most of the time it was the flames belching from British guns which illuminated the sea and the dark Libyan coast.

"Hit Axis Munitions Dumps."

Heavy explosions rumbled from ashore after the cracking blast of landing shells. British officers said these indicated hits on axis munitions dumps and that their shelling had disrupted axis troop deployment ashore.

The battle fleet took plenty of time in cruising back and forth before their shore objectives, lobbing shells with little or no opposition in the same manner in which they aided the successful land offensive last winter when more than 100,000 Italians were captured.

Before dawn the British naval units had ceased fire and moved away some distance from axis air bases, on the lookout for Italian warships which never came.

But just before dusk the fleet was put on the alert when axis torpedo planes were sighted. From the aft director tower of this ship I saw the gunners ready at their sights, then looking skyward again I saw planes of the RAF sweep out from shore to meet the threat. These planes, flown by Britons, had been made in the United States. The axis flyers were driven off.

Later in a moonless night a single plane roared over this ship and dropped flares from 300 feet up, but no attempt was made to attack.

BRITISH SPEEDBOATS BEATEN OFF IN RAID ON CONVOY, NAZIS SAY

BERLIN, Nov. 20 (AP).—Patrol boats of a German convoy off the Flanders coast beat off an attack by British speedboats without loss, the German high command said today.

One of the British speedboats was set afire, it said, and its loss was apparent.

It reported that a medium sized British merchant ship was damaged by German bombs near the Faeroe islands and said objectives along the English southwest coast were attacked from the air.

Boy Saves Baby from Fire Just as Roof Collapses

Joplin, Mo., Nov. 20 (AP).—Clarence Wald, 12 years old, dashed into a blazing house a moment before the roof collapsed and rescued a 6 months old baby at the Charles Ward home near here today. The baby suffered only minor burns. Fire, blamed on an overheated stove, destroyed the house. Mrs. Ward was absent. The Wald boy is her brother.

French Refuse to Order Caballero Back to Spain

VICHY, France, Nov. 20 (AP).—A French court refused today to extradite Francisco Largo Caballero, civil war Republican [loyalist] premier of Spain, to his homeland to face charges pressed by the Franco régime. The former premier was released by a Nimes court where he had been taken for hearing on the Spanish extradition request. Mexican Minister Aguilar had made protests to prevent extradition of Caballero.

GOLD STAR MOTHER DIES.

Holland, Mich., Nov. 20 [Special].—Mrs. John A. Rankin, 74, daughter of a former pastor of the Reformed church, died yesterday at her home at Cooperville, northeast of Holland. She was the mother of a son killed in action in France.

FRANCE 'RETIRES' GEN. WEYGAND AS AFRICA CHIEF

Captured General Freed by Nazis Heads Army.

VICHY, France, Nov. 20 (AP).—Gen. Maxime Weygand, regarded as lukewarm to collaboration with Germany, was "retired" tonight as delegate-general and military commander of French North Africa, and that strategic area was placed under the direct control of the pro-German Vice Premier Jean Darlan.

Adm. Jean Darlan.

The 74 year old Weygand, who commanded the final unsuccessful allied stand against Germany in France, sent this farewell message to his African army and colonial heads:

"Remain faithful to your magnificent traditions and to Marshal Petain."

War Prisoner Takes Charge.

Lieut. Gen. Alfonse Juin, 53 years old, released by the Germans from a prison camp June 16, was sent to North Africa to command the troops there amid indications of increasing French-German commitments.

[Informed London quarters took the view that Weygand was removed because he was an obstacle to German ambitions in Africa. They said Darlan long had wanted to oust the general for fear of Weygand's reaction should the British succeed in sweeping west across Libya and Tripoli to make a junction with French Tunisia.]

Vice Admiral R. A. Fenard, former Weygand aid, was named permanent secretary general of French Africa, answerable to Darlan. Yves Chatel, assistant governor general of Algeria, became governor general.

In French West Africa the military command was given to 59 year old Gen. Jean Barrau.

Demands Nazi Aid.

These changes came as the German controled Paris newspaper Nouveaux Temps demanded that France allow "German military collaboration" in French Africa to withstand what it called "British-American attack" and while the British are driving into Libya in eastern Africa.

The newspaper also attacked William D. Leahy, United States ambassador to Vichy, who conferred urgently yesterday with Petain on the changing political situation here.

Weygand was cited for "the order of the nation" upon his retirement. He left Vichy this morning by airplane for what authorized circles said was "a few days' rest" at Antibes.

Officials here said Weygand's "usefulness is over and so he is retiring."

The citation referred to Weygand as "a glorious officer who has served France 56 years" with qualities "worthy of remaining as examples of our military tradition."

BRITON EXPLAINS REFUSAL OF PLANE SEAT TO LITVINOV

LONDON, Nov. 20 (AP).—Richard Law, British undersecretary for foreign affairs, said today that a slipup which prevented Maxim Litvinov, Russian ambassador to the United States, and his wife from obtaining seats on a British Overseas Airways plane from Teheran [Iran] to Cairo [Egypt] was being investigated. Litvinov was told curtly at the Teheran airport yesterday that there were no seats available, and the plane roared off—leaving him astonished and angry.

"I have this morning received a report from the minister at Teheran from which there appeared to be an unfortunate misunderstanding as a result of which the departure of Litvinov and his party was delayed," Law said.

"The exact circumstances are being investigated by the minister who at once sent a personal apology to Litvinov and the soviet ambassador at Teheran. I am glad to have this opportunity of saying how much we regret that an unintentional discourtesy to our Russian ally and Mrs. Litvinov was involved in this unfortunate occurrence."

AUTO KILLS TWO PEDESTRIANS.

The Inquiring Camera Girl

BY BARBARA QUEST

THE QUESTION.

What do you consider the most annoying habit of the opposite sex?

WHERE ASKED.

Field museum.

THE ANSWERS.

Jessie Louise Lewis, service representative for telephone company, Dallas, Tex. — After I've looked forward to a special date and spent all my leisure hours getting beautiful for it, I find it darn annoying, believe me, to have to suggest where we'll go and what we'll do. It seems to me that men could occasionally have an original idea or two, and maybe plan a couple of hours in advance.

Norma Lewis, housewife, Dallas, Tex.—The way a man can stand with his hands in his pockets, jingling coins that drown out the conversation—that's what annoys me. I happen to know a man who specializes in that little stunt. He's no Kieran when it comes to conversation, but I would like to hear what he has to say. Besides, I know how much money he has.

Robert McIntyre, student, Pontiac, Mich.—You know what gets me? It's the girl that giggles. Especially when she's the type with a phony smile. Sooner or later that kind of girl can be depended on to come thru with a giggling spell. When a girl learns to laugh, that's an indication that she's learning how to be a lady.

Mary Helen Dawson, housewife, Pasadena, Cal.—My pet peeve is having a man who thinks he is nothing less than a Greek god himself [and he probably patronizes a beauty shop on the sly] give you the business about the vanity of women. And the thing that starts a man like that going is nothing more than a hasty glance at the mirror just to be sure everything's set. Most unreasonable, I call it.

David Brown, timekeeper, Westmont, Ill.—I find the shopping habits of most women—and one I might name for you—quite disgusting. Take the one I'm thinking of. Only yesterday I went with her to buy some hose and you won't believe it but she took 30 minutes by the clock to pick out the right color—the same one she's been wearing for years.

Joseph Fizzi Jr., stenographer, Rosemont, Pa.—Too many women load on loud shades of greasy lipstick to suit me. I could give you some [shall we say "colorful?"] reasons why I don't like it. But one that should appeal to the girls is that it's not even easy on the eyes.

CHURCHILL BARES AIM: ANNIHILATE AXIS IN AFRICA!

Admits Britain Gambles on Quick Victory.

LONDON, Nov. 20 (AP).—Annihilation of all German and Italian troops in North Africa is the objective of the sweeping desert offensive in Libya, Prime Minister Winston Churchill told a cheering house of commons today. The prime minister made it clear that the British command had gambled on a quick victory.

The drive, he explained, is by nature one of the most extraordinary grand maneuvers in history, a thrust "like a clash of fleets and flotillas, and as in a sea battle all may be settled one way or another in the course of a few hours."

"This offensive," Churchill went on, "has been long and elaborately prepared and we have waited for nearly five months in order that our army shall be well equipped with all those weapons that have made their mark in this new war.

". . . I do not know whether the trial of strength has yet taken place between heavy armored forces, but it cannot be long delayed.

First Clash With Equal Arms.

"One thing is certain: That the British and empire troops are animated by a long pent-up and ardent desire to engage the enemy, feeling as they all do that this is the first time we have met the Germans at least equally well armed and equipped and realizing that part which a British victory in Libya will play upon the whole course of the war."

Having told the house that Britain's troops already had won positions of "marked advantage," and then having warned that the result of the real battle was still to come, he dispatched to the British commanders, on land, afloat and in the air, a message reminiscent of Lord Nelson at Trafalgar:

"I have it in command from the king to express to all ranks of the army and the royal air force in the western desert and to the Mediterranean fleet his majesty's confidence that they will do their duty with exemplary devotion in the supremely important battle which lies before them.

Urges "Hardest Blow Yet."

"For the first time British and empire troops will meet the Germans with ample equipment in modern weapons of all kinds. The battle itself will affect the whole course of the war. Now is the time to strike the hardest blow yet struck for final victory, home and freedom.

"The desert army may add a page to the history which will rank with Blenheim and Waterloo.

"The eyes of all nations are upon you. All our hearts are with you. May God uphold the right."

[The battle of Blenheim, to which Churchill referred, was fought on Aug. 13, 1704, during the wars of the Spanish succession. In it the English, under Marlborough, and imperial forces, under Prince Eugene, defeated the French, under Tallard and Marsin, breaking the spell of Louis XIV.'s victories. The battle took place at Blenheim, Bavaria. The battle of Waterloo was fought on June 18, 1815, during the Napoleonic wars. In it the allied British, Germans, and Dutch under Wellington and Bluecher defeated the French under Napoleon, ending Napoleon's career.]

GEN. JAMES BURNS IS SLATED AS NEXT ENVOY TO RUSSIA

Washington, D. C., Nov. 20 (AP).—Maj. Gen. James H. Burns, lend-lease executive, was reported in diplomatic circles today to be a likely choice by President Roosevelt for the post of ambassador to Russia.

Laurence A. Steinhardt, the present ambassador who is en route home by plane, is understood to have asked to be relieved after more than two years in Russia.

Gen. Burns, a regular army officer and a member of the recent official mission to Moscow, is a specialist in the production of munitions. His appointment to the embassy in Russia would give the United States an ambassador with technical knowledge on problems of supplying munitions to the soviet armies.

Calls for 100 Per Cent Aid in European War.

problem facing America in its attitude toward world affairs, I can only say that the problem is the ever increasing danger of diminishing distances. Science, particularly American, now has brought America within a very close grip of Europe, despite its Maginot line of 3,000 miles of ocean. America has been brought so much nearer Germany on the one hand and Japan on the other that between these two mighty aggressor forces she no longer can afford to play an ostrich and confine herself within the limits of her own 'billion dollar country.'

"You commence your letter with an ineptitude attributed to the late Lord Esher, who is said to have made some misrepresentative comment on misrepresentative Americans. I am compelled to point out to you that the opinion of one Englishman, distinguished or undistinguished, upon the character of American men and women in general is of little consequence and has no bearing on the point at issue. We have no Gallup poll in this country to ascertain the general estimate of English views on the American characteristics, but even if we had it would be of as much and no more value to us than the Gallup polls that come from America dealing with other questions.

Denies All Colonies Were Refuges.

"You claim that every colony in the United States—apart from Virginia—was founded as a refuge from oppression. Is this quite in accord with the historical fact? There can be no question that a considerable element of the first settlers in America had a refuge complex, but in comparison with the vast bulk of the population as exists in America today this element is now the barest fraction and its political views form a meager part of the principles of the state as a whole.

"You try to establish the view that racially and historically the United States had very little in common with the British empire. I must be forgiven if I point out to you that, in the main, the people of the United States speak basically the same language as prevails thruout the British empire. That your legislation is founded upon the same elemental justice and its method of administration as we introduced it into your country. Your literature, art, and philosophy all have been founded upon a British pioneer work in each of these fields. They have been taught to your students by British professors.

Cites Fight for Press Freedom.

"The statement that you make, that freedom of religion as well as an executive with responsibility to the people originated in the United States, is surely wide of the fact. You have heard and read of many martyrs in this country who fought for, died for, and eventually succeeded in establishing general freedom in the exercise of religious views. Their battles were taking place before the soil of your country was disturbed by Amerigo Vespucci.

"As a notable member of the press, your must have heard of John Wilkes and his fight in the City of London for press privileges and freedom.

"In considering the executive responsibility to the people, your knowledge of English history will establish to your satisfaction that long before the French revolution or the arrival of George Washington the doctrine of responsibility to the people was maintained and established in England and the circumstance that America has elaborated and improved upon the British idea is at once a justification for these ideas and an acknowledgment of a debt that cannot be repudiated.

"You say that people who have inherited wealth are not admired in the United States. I think I am right in saying that disparities in earthly possessions are, in fact, greater in the United States than anywhere else in the world. So much do we agree with your American view that all men are born free and equal that we are engaged in fighting for that conviction and we must not be blamed for expecting and anticipating your complete aid in our struggle. Hitler has overrun and enslaved up to date no less than 12 countries. The barriers that prevent him from seeking Japan's coöperation and turning also his own resources against the American material interests are gradually being pulled down and may shortly become nonexistent.

Upholds Inherited Wealth.

"I am not in a position to question your conviction that people who have inherited wealth are not admired in the United States, but you will allow me to express my own view, that the fact of a man inheriting wealth cannot, ipso facto, be counted against him. Men of outstanding ability and character in the past have inherited wealth and put it to the best uses in improving upon the work of their fathers. The socialistic idea that wealth is a natural deteriorating influence upon character is not justified by the evidence. The absence of wealth may, quite reasonably, be expected to produce more results.

"Your statement that in England inherited wealth is the basis of all gentility has absolutely no justification. In no country is parvenu qua parvenu the subject of greater ridicule than in England. Here it is not sufficient for a man to inherit wealth if he has no character. He will soon find his wealth has been taken away from him and that his social level is regulated by his character, and his character alone. The sensible people of Britain do not judge Americans by the behavior of the few vulgar visitors from that country who have inherited fortunes and used them to make Europe their playground and it is to be hoped that the sensible people of America will not generalize and form unhappy conclusions upon the English character because of the indifferent samples escaping this country to playgrounds in America.

100% Intervention Sought.

"No one in this country or out of it in sympathy with the allied cause has suggested that America should attempt to land an army over 3,000 miles of water after the Russian army has been defeated. We are not yet convinced that the Russian army can be defeated. We are hoping that it will not be defeated. But if, unhappily, it should be defeated, America certainly will have to look more closely to her defenses and, even tho she may not attempt to land an army on the continent, her measures of defense will amount to war on a 100 per cent basis and we ask for American intervention on that scale, not because we want American soldiers to make a 3,000 mile trip across the seas, but because we believe that the effect upon the German morale, if the German people could be told that America had made out a declaration of war against Germany, would be a more damaging catastrophe than anything that has happened to date.

"You say that no sooner would victory be won in the event of American participation than the American participation would at once be dispensed with; but do you mind my asking who it was that dispensed with American participation in the cause of peace when victory was won on the last occasion? Who was primarily responsible for disintegrating the terms of that peace? Who was responsible for the drawing up of the 14 points which ultimately brought about the second great war? Who was responsible for the sudden and disastrous withdrawal from continental affairs after the most meddlesome and aggravating interference in them? Who was it who proposed the league of nations, only to be mainly responsible for its subsequent collapse? Who was responsible for putting Germany in a financial position by loans and other methods, a position which enabled her to make her second attack upon the world's peace and bring Europe into a state of general oppression and depression? Who but the Americans themselves?

Defeat Not Driven Home on Germany.

"Surely the great evil in the last war was the lesson that the defeat was not sufficiently driven home upon the Germans. They declined to believe what their leaders would not allow them to believe, that they had in reality been defeated, and I believe that in arriving at this idea they were very largely aided by misguided American statesmen, American columnists, and American sympathizers.

"If you have any real fault to find with us it should be that we overrate your countrymen, not underrate them. We prefer to think of them on a basis of friendship and relationship and your repudiation of that friendship and relationship rather shocks me. We think of you on the basis of complete equality. We are not like the Germans, continually boasting of our culture, altho our all around contribution to civilization has been of such value to America that it has provided the main elements of the greatness in your constitution.

"Do not think that I am not conscious of the very large percentage of magnificent people you have in America who are the equivalent of our own 'middle class' and 'lower class' folks, but don't you forget that the people who now are doing most of the fighting and dying are doing so to preserve the American principles as well as their own. But for them the American independence—real independence—would not have five years to run.

America's Responsibility.

"I think that the United States have a greater share of responsibility to the world and to themselves than you apparently realize. As a part of the great human family, the Americans are bound to share its failings and its faiths. They cannot, in the state of the world which Hitler and the German people now have created, dissociate themselves from the world cause of human freedom. America must take its share to bring about a new birth. 'The land of the free,' the land that fought with itself for the freedom of its slaves, must continue to be protagonists in the cause of freedom. It cannot confine freedom within the limits of its own frontiers. The cause of freedom is the cause of God; its flames are unquenchable; it is the noblest of human blessings; the cure for anarchy, and the key to world unity.

"'There is but one task for all—
"'One life for each to give.
"'What stands if Freedom fall?
"'Who dies if England live?'
"Yours sincerely, KEMSLEY."

FABRIC EXPERTS RECOMMEND SUPER SUDS!

Here's How to Wash Rayons, Silks and Wool

NEW YORK, Nov. 3—Better Fabrics Testing Bureau, widely-known authorities on all textile and fabric subjects, say "Wash rayons, silks, and woolens in Super Suds." Here are their expert instructions:

Test a small patch in plain water for color-fastness. If color runs, it's not washable. (Test woolens in soapy water.)

Wash garments separately, by hand.

Use lukewarm suds as follows: Dissolve Super Suds completely in warm water, then add cold water to get lukewarm suds.

Do not soak. Wash quickly and gently. Do not rub, wring or twist. Woolens especially shrink from rubbing—avoid any excessive handling while wet.

Rinse thoroughly, gently, in clean, lukewarm water.

Roll in towel, but don't leave there. Never dry woolens in excessive heat or direct rays of sun.

Shape garment over ironing board before ironing. Use a moderate iron.

Certain types of weaves and prints should never be washed. Many makers guarantee washability.

Look for this when you buy.

Without Painful Backache

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

3 GERMAN TROOP VESSELS SUNK IN ARCTIC: MOSCOW

Believed on Way to Bolster Northern Front.

MOSCOW, Nov. 21 [Friday]—(AP).—Three German transports and a tanker have been sunk by Russian ships in the vital Arctic supply route area north of Murmansk and Archangel, the soviet communique announced today.

The German convoy, apparently en route to reënforce Finnish and German units in the far north, was reported sent to the bottom in the Barents sea, but no mention was made whether it was protected by German warships.

[Germans said in Berlin on Wednesday that German submarines were operating in the White sea, on which the port of Archangel is located.]

The communique reported fighting on all fronts, with particularly fierce engagements in the Rostov, Volokolamsk and Tula sectors.

Heavy tank battles on the central and southern fronts were reported. In one engagement 30 German tanks, 100 trucks carrying infantry and ammunition, 140 wagonloads of equipment, two cavalry squadrons, and an infantry battalion were reported destroyed. In another battle 35 German tanks and 2,000 soldiers and officers were reported killed.

Bend Back Moscow Flank.

LONDON, Nov. 20 (AP).—The Russian line northwest of Moscow appeared today to be bending back under the shock of one of a series of strong new German offensives all about the capital, but the southern Russian anchor was reported holding firm at Tula against violent tank and infantry assaults.

At least 100,000 German troops were in frontal action around Tula, 100 miles below the capital, and about Volokolamsk, 65 miles northwest of Moscow, while other large invading forces were beating at the Kalinin defenses 30 miles still farther north.

About Volokolamsk, soviet military dispatches acknowledged that Red forces had been compelled to abandon a number of villages in the face of repeated infantry assaults by five German divisions, which were said nevertheless to have suffered great losses.

Twin Drives in the South.

Of the far south, where the twin areas of crisis were at Rostov-on-the-Don and along the Kerch strait—the northern and southern entrances to the Caucasus—official Russian information was meager.

The Russian command acknowledged, however, the evacuation of the port of Kerch—which the Germans had claimed at the beginning of the week—but insisted it was an orderly retirement to "more advantageous positions" which had been dictated more by strategy than by overwhelming German force.

The area to which the Kerch garrison had withdrawn was not stated, but it appeared likely the troops somehow had been ferried across the Kerch strait to take their stand with the forces holding the western extremity of the Caucasus itself.

Claim Nazis Lose 20,000 Men.

More than 20,000 Germans were declared to have been annihilated in the battle for Kerch and the Russians said moreover that they had destroyed 130 German tanks, 200 guns and more than a thousand ammunition trucks.

Delayed dispatches told of heavy action on the northern front on the Volkhov river east of Leningrad, which the Germans were trying to cross in an apparent effort to make a junction with their Finnish associates striking southward from east Karelia.

These dispatches declared that the advance of three élite Nazi "death head" divisions had been broken on the Volkhov's west bank by Russian counterattacks.

CROSSING CRASH WRECKS TRAIN; TWO ARE KILLED

(Picture on back page.)

Dallas, Tex., Nov. 20 (AP).—Two persons were killed and six injured, four seriously, in the collision of a streamline passenger train and a steel-laden truck at a grade crossing on the outskirts of Dallas today.

The truck driver, identified by police as Arthur Spearman, was killed outright. The engineer of the Fort Worth and Denver train, D. E. Sewell, died later in a hospital.

The engine and several cars of the train, en route to Dallas, overturned and went into a ditch. The injured included four passengers and two crew members.

MARINE CORPS GLIDER DIVISION FORMING HERE

Officers, Enlisted Men Under Training.

A dozen United States marine corps aviation officers and 10 enlisted men are training at two airports in the Chicago area in preparation for immediate development of a marine glider division, it was learned yesterday. Lieut. Col. V. M. Guymon, who will command the new glider unit, is in command of training here and himself is taking a shortened course in glider operations.

Altho the marines refused to discuss plans made in Washington for their uses of gliders, it is understood that these include supplying of ground troops from the air and utilization of gliders as transports for parachute troops and shock troops for landing behind enemy positions. Similar uses of gliders have been made by German air units.

Enlisted Men Fly Planes.

Col. Guymon and three other officers are flying with the Motorless Flight institute at Ford airport, near Lansing. The others and the enlisted men are taking their training at Lewis School of Aeronautics at Lockport, Ill. The officers are being trained only in gliders but the enlisted men who are not qualified military airplane pilots are being given preliminary instruction in light airplanes. Their glider training will come later.

"We're here to get the maximum amount of training in the minimum time," Col. Guymon said yesterday. "We begrudge every hour lost because of weather or any other delays. I've got to get back to Quantico [the marine air base in Virginia] and get busy."

The officers will complete a course of about 50 hours of flying in approximately three weeks each. They will be towed into the air behind power planes, automobiles, with a power winch winding up cable on a drum, and by a rubber cord launching. They are expected to learn how to direct glider operations as well as fly the powerless craft.

110 Foot Wing Spread.

The navy aeronautics bureau has ordered several cargo-carrying gliders with wing spreads of 110 feet. These could be used for transporting food, ammunition and supplies, or troops, and they are the types of gliders that the marine corps will be using. These craft are similar in size to German gliders used for the same purposes.

All the glider training here is being carried out in two-place planes, and five of these gliders will be towed behind two airplanes on Saturday afternoon to give Chicagoans a glimpse of this phase of the training. Three of the gliders will be from the Motorless Flight institute and two from the Lewis school, and they will be divided in that way behind their tow planes. They will be flown over the loop about the noon hour.

REDS TRY TO ESCAPE FROM LENINGRAD BY PLANE, NAZIS CLAIM

BERLIN, Nov. 20 (AP).—A German military spokesman said tonight that the Russians were attempting to evacuate their troops from besieged Leningrad by transport planes and that six of these planes had been destroyed by German airmen. Three escorting Red fighter planes also were knocked out of the air, he said.

The war bulletin from Adolf Hitler's headquarters said offensive operations in Russia "continue successfully," but gave no details of land operations.

However, news dispatches told of a bitter fight for an unidentified village near Moscow which the Germans claimed they captured. Five hundred Russian prisoners were taken and 200 were killed in a tank and flame thrower engagement, it was said.

North of Leningrad in the Karelian forest the dispatches told of joint German-Finnish destruction of a trapped soviet battalion.

The high command said soviet air bases along the northeast Black sea coast and in the Donetz basin were bombed heavily and that fire and explosive bombs were showered on Moscow again.

16 DRAFT BOARD MEMBERS JOIN IN STRIKE PROTEST

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 20 [Special].—Support for the stand taken by a Florida draft board which has refused to send any more young men into armed service until the CIO mine strike is settled is contained in a telegram to President Roosevelt today from 16 members of Marion county [Indianapolis] selective service boards.

The telegram follows:

"The undersigned members of Marion county selective service boards indorse the reported position taken by the Lee county [Fla.] board as respects the John L. Lewis strike and its demoralizing effect on our foreign policy, our national defense effort, and our selective service system.

"Thru wholehearted sympathy with the defense program and eagerness to contribute our individual services to carry it forward, we are prompted to invite your attention to the effect upon selectees, so evident to us of the plain unfairness of the sacrifice they are required to make while others are allowed to use the emergency to advance their selfish interests."

FALL FATAL TO WOMAN, 65.

Mrs. Ingeborg Rice, 65 years old, died yesterday from internal injuries suffered Nov. 13 when she fell on the front steps of her home, at 3721 Fullerton avenue.

MISS THOMPSON CHALLENGED TO PROVE CHARGES

Mothers' Spokesman Hits 'Hysterical' Talk.

Miss Dorothy Thompson, interventionist and newspaper columnist, who called members of a mothers' organization protesting against a second American expeditionary force "black cockroaches" in a speech here on Wednesday night, was called to task yesterday by one of those whom she attacked.

Mrs. Grace Keefe.

Mrs. Grace Keefe, 6029 Laflin street, secretary of We, the Mothers, Mobilize for America, wrote Miss Thompson in reply, called her hysterical, and challenged her to prove her charge that the mothers who picketed the White House in Washington, D. C., last November were paid to do so.

Cites Age of Columnist's Son.

After writing the letter, Mrs. Keefe also made the following statement:

"While Miss Thompson is willing to give a million American boys to defeat Hitler, her own son [born to her and Sinclair Lewis, the novelist, from whom she is seeking a divorce] will not be called upon to make good on her offer, since he is only 11 years old. But he'd probably be a captain if he got into the army, like Jimmy and Elliott Roosevelt. If Miss Thompson loved America more than she hates Hitler, she wouldn't be so hysterical."

Mrs. Keefe prefaced her letter with the quotation, "Whom the gods destroy, they first make mad." Then she wrote as follows:

"Your hysterical outburst against the mothers who picketed the White House and dared circulate petitions for impeachment of the President betrays your state of mind.

Calls Pickets Courageous.

"'Black cockroaches, black crows' you label the mothers whose sons are being called upon to fight and die for such as you. If these courageous mothers whom you so crudely seek to vilify had access to the radio, the press, and the platform, such as you, who bask in the sunshine of official favor, they would not be forced to picket to get their views before the public.

"Your libelous charges that these mothers were paid are what one might expect. You, of course, could not understand how any one would endure the rebuffs and hardships suffered by these mothers unless material compensation were forthcoming. Only a true patriot could understand.

"I was with the mothers who picketed the White House and circulated the petitions, and I challenge you to name any mothers who were paid. Give us an opportunity to meet you face to face on this charge. And in conclusion, if you are a sample of American motherhood, God will indeed need to help America."

Mrs. Keefe said she felt her letter expressed the thought of other members of her organization.

LOST: 1 ARMORED DIVISION; RETURN TO GEN. SCOTT

BY CAPT. M. M. CORPENING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Chester, S. C., Nov. 20.—The battle of the Carolinas, being fought in this section of the first [Blue] army and the 4th corps and attached armored units [the Reds], apparently had reached a confused stalemate today.

The tank pincer movement inaugurated yesterday by Maj. Gen. O. W. Griswold of the Reds to surround the main body of Blue infantry advancing from the east has not met with success. The 1st armored division, commanded by Maj. Gen. Bruce McGruder, ran into strong Blue opposition southwest of Albemarle and sent a message to GHQ stating that because of heavy casualties its remnants would attempt to join Maj. Gen. Charles L. Scott's 2d armored division.

When asked what his division was doing about guarding the right flank of the Red forces, Gen. Scott replied: "I don't know. I just came back from air reconnaissance over that area and couldn't find the 2d division."

2 AMERICAN OFFICERS TEACH REDS TO USE NEW PLANES FROM U. S.

KUIBYSHEV, Russia, Nov. 20 (AP).—Col. Boris Smirnov, commander of the first Russian air force unit to use war planes which were built in the United States, said in an article in Red Star today that two young American army officers helped train the pilots who now have taken the planes into action.

"Meanwhile new fighting machines are arriving from America," Col. Smirnov asserted. "With them we are arming a reserve force—a powerful air army which is being formed at the rear so that tomorrow it can be taken to the front."

The American officers were identified as Capt. John R. Alison, 29 years old, of Daytona Beach, Fla., and Lieut. Hubert Zemke, 27, of Missoula, Mont. Partly thru their work, Col. Smirnov related, several air units already have taken over the planes without a single accident.

A plate of SCALLOPS is a picture.... at HENRICI'S.... here's what you'd see

JAPAN DEMANDS PANAMA TREAT ASIATICS BETTER

Renews Protest Against 'Unfriendly Attitude.'

BULLETIN.

TOKIO, Nov. 21 [Friday] (AP).—Kumaichi Yamamoto, vice minister of foreign affairs and director of the American bureau of the foreign office, told a diet committee today that Japan had protested strongly to Washington against the seizure of Japan-bound mail from the liner Tatuta Maru in San Francisco Nov. 2.

TOKIO, Nov. 20 (AP).—The Japanese foreign office charged Panama today with an unfriendly attitude and presented firmly worded diplomatic demands for better treatment of Japanese nationals there.

Specifically, the foreign office renewed strong protests against the recent action of the government of Panama preventing Japanese residents from continuing in or engaging in business there.

Protest for All Asiatics.

The Japanese said they were protesting not only for their subjects but for all Asiatic races.

[Japan's original protest was rejected Nov. 7 by the Panama government which termed it "couched in strong, even insulting terms." Panama said at that time that the law was not aimed directly at the Japanese, but "refers to a class of individuals of prohibited immigration."]

Call Action "Inhumane."

Announcement of the protest said Panama had rejected demands for payment of indemnity for business property Japanese subjects lost under the law and showed an unwillingness to reach any amicable settlement.

It said Panama did not give Japanese time to dispose of their stocks and turned down their applications to continue temporarily in business until they could wind up their affairs.

The Japanese declared Panama's action was "racial discrimination" and "inhumane" in that it took away the means of livelihood from Japanese who had entered Panama legally.

JAPAN'S ENVOYS AND HULL IN HOUR LONG PEACE TALK

Washington, D. C., Nov. 20 (AP).—Japanese envoys, supplied with new instructions from Tokio, conferred for an hour today with Secretary of State Cordell Hull in a renewed attempt to find a basis for peaceful settlement of Pacific problems.

Asked for reasons for their visit to the state department, Special Envoy Saburo Kurusu jokingly said: "We were making a Thanksgiving call."

Ambassador Kichisaburo Nomura, in reply to questions, said merely that "the conversations are continuing." When asked whether they expected to meet with Secretary Hull tomorrow, he said that would depend on a study of the information they now have.

Earlier, Sen. Gerald P. Nye [R., N. D.] said he is convinced the United States could end the Sino-Japanese war on a satisfactory basis if it were willing to "help Japan save her face" by agreement to relatively minor concessions for Japan in China.

"The trouble is," he told reporters, "that the administration doesn't want to settle this thing, because it is largely responsible for any war fever that may be felt in this country now."

FESTIVE TABLES MARK CHICAGO'S DAY OF THANKS

Turkey and trimmings were on the menu for Chicago yesterday. Tons upon tons of the traditional birds went to feed the city's orphans and aged, homeless and destitute, soldiers and sailors, criminals, and other institutional inmates.

The 18,400 soldiers and sailors in the Chicago area dined on 9 tons of turkey, flanked with sage dressing, two kinds of potatoes, three vegetables, cranberries, and a half dozen kinds of dessert. Twenty-three hundred patients and employés at Hines Veterans' hospital got away with about that many pounds of turkey.

At St. Vincent's orphanage 175 little Chicagoans were served a Thanksgiving feast donated by the Edgewater Beach hotel. Seventy-five other children were fed at the Adventurers' club, 14 North Michigan avenue. Inmates of the Bridewell and county jail picked the bones of 2,400 pounds of chicken.

Even Bushman, the Lincoln park zoo's gorilla, got a holiday meal. Two extra bunches of grapes were added to his dinner.

SHE LOVES HIM, SHE LOVES HIM NOT—2 VERSIONS

Turkey Day Brings Family Rifts.

Two men will be arraigned in Town Hall court this morning on disorderly conduct charges brought by their wives. Thanksgiving day enters into both stories, too, but not in exactly the same way.

Barton Hazzard, 32 years old, will face the judge with a song in his heart. His wife still loves him. In token of this she brought a chicken dinner yesterday, which he munched happily in the cell in Sheffield avenue police station into which she had him tossed Wednesday night.

Richard Moore, 41, a bridegroom of three months, will face the judge in what should be a less cheerful mood. He didn't get any Thanksgiving dinner to speak of, altho, in a way, it was his fault.

Marched to the Station.

Hazzard, whose troubles began Wednesday night, told Lieut. John O'Malley that he came home to 2402 North Clark street broke but happy—maybe a wee bit too happy. He explained to his wife, Betty, that four colored men had robbed him. It was raining hard, but she suggested looking for them and Hazzard agreed.

The next thing he knew Betty shoved him neatly thru the front door of the police station, charged him with disorderly conduct, and went away. She returned shortly with his trunk and belongings, but was persuaded by the desk sergeant to take them away.

Hazzard then told Lieut. O'Malley that Betty had him arrested a week ago on a similar charge, but refused to prosecute. He said he thought he could talk her out of it this time if given the chance. Lieut. O'Malley assured him it would be useless.

Praise for His Wife.

But Thanksgiving came, and with it came Betty, the chicken dinner and reconciliation. Hazzard said he has been promised a job if things turn out all right in court. He sighed happily as he said this, and added:

"I've got a swell wife. She doesn't stay sore very long."

The desk sergeant said he would never have guessed it.

Just as Hazzard began eating his dinner there came a disturbance report from 2956 Pine Grove avenue. Policemen John Stack and John Walsh responded and found Moore trying to kick in the rear door of his home. He already had thrown a rock thru one of the windows. They took him away and his wife, Nanette, signed the complaint.

Helpful Offer Rejected.

As he sat in a cell next to Hazzard, but in a much gloomier mood, Moore explained that he had only been trying to help his bride when she chased him right out of the house. This made him so angry, he said, that he tried to get back inside.

"I wasn't doing anything to make her angry," he said, a little coldly. "I was just telling her how to make the turkey dressing. I know more about it than she does. I used to cook a lot before we were married."

When this was reported to the desk sergeant, an old married man, the sergeant shuddered and grew pale.

PROWLER RIFLES DESKS AND FILES IN FISH'S OFFICES

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 20.—The congressional offices of Rep. Hamilton Fish [R., N. Y.], leader of the anti-war group in the house, were broken into Tuesday night and all the desks and files rifled, it was learned today.

Walter Reynolds, secretary to Fish, reported the incident to Speaker Sam Rayburn. Reynolds said he could find nothing stolen, but the intruder apparently had done a systematic job of going thru all the congressman's papers.

Fish, a reserve corps colonel, is attending maneuvers of the First army in the Carolinas.

Reynolds said he believes there may be some connection between the rifling of the offices and the current District of Columbia grand jury investigation of Nazi propaganda.

Ingenuity in Malaya

[Acme Photo.]

According to the British, these Australian soldiers stationed in Malaya have taken a few pieces of wood, a pair of wheels, and half an oil drum and designed a serviceable barrow for excavation work.

NEW CONTINGENT OF AUSTRALIANS REACHES MALAYA

SINGAPORE, Nov. 20 (AP).—The Australian imperial forces in Malaya were strengthened today by the arrival of a large contingent which included infantrymen, airmen, technical auxiliaries and a group of nurses.

Officials said the army reinforcements amounted to "a substantial number" while considerable additions were made to the air squadrons already forming an important part of the far-flung British far eastern air defenses.

RUSSIANS PRINT A NAZI CLAIM OF BRITISH FAILURE

KUIBYSHEV, Russia, Nov. 19 [Delayed]—(AP).—The soviet press today published a German communique stating that the British air force had failed to execute any large operations on the European coast and had suffered heavy losses.

This, the first German communique printed here since the start of the Russo-German war, was incorporated in a Geneva dispatch of Tass, the official Russian news agency. The full text was printed including assertions that the British had inflicted no important damage on German war industry and had lost 2,501 planes between Jan. 1 and Oct. 31, compared with a German loss of 602 planes.

This followed publication of a speech in the house of commons alleging that some members of the British government were not sympathetic to the soviet union.

Japs Open Germ Warfare from Air, Chinese Charge

CHUNGKING, China, Nov. 20 (AP).—The authorized spokesman of the Chinese army in a conference with foreign correspondents today accused the Japanese of starting germ warfare. He said that on Nov. 4 Japanese planes dropped foodstuffs and clothing at Changteh, northern Hunan province, and that many persons who ate the food or used the clothes developed symptoms of bubonic plague and died.

Pope Authorizes Daytime Yule Masses in War Zone

VATICAN CITY, Nov. 20 (AP).—Pope Pius XII. today again authorized the holding of Christmas eve masses in war zones in the afternoon instead of at midnight in order to enable those attending to return home before the blackout. This is the second year afternoon masses have been authorized.

2 DUTCH CABINET MEMBERS QUIT IN ROW WITH CHIEF

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Nov. 20.—Two members of The Netherlands cabinet in London have resigned following a row in which they protested against Prime Minister P. S. Gerbrandy making important decisions without consulting cabinet members, it was revealed today with appointment of their successors.

Minister of Colonies J. I. M. Welter and Minister of Economics and Shipping M. P. L. Steenberghe were the ministers who quit. Queen Wilhelmina appointed as their respective successors Dr. H. J. Van Mook, who until now has been director of the economics department of Batavia, Dutch East Indies, and P. A. Kerstens, chairman of The Netherlands East Indies Catholic party and member of the board of delegates of the national council of Batavia. The two ministers were purposely chosen from The Netherlands East Indies to further strengthen contact with The Netherlands' overseas territories.

The prime minister has rejected the idea that all matters of general government policy must be subject to consultation, saying that situations arise in which speedy decisions must be left to him.

BUICK BUILDS FOR DEFENSE

Our assignment: Building Pratt & Whitney valve-in-head aircraft engines for defense use.

THE needs of the defense program dictate, as in good sense they should, how many Buicks we can build for you in 1942.

The requirements of national security determine what materials can be used, and which ones must be conserved for our country's defense.

But—and this is spur and hope to men of ingenuity—there is no limit in any of that on how well we may build with the materials at our command.

So we invite you to look upon this car not as you would any ordinary new model, but as an unusual vehicle built to square with unusual times.

Check into the strength we have forged and hammered and wrought into the frame, the chassis, the drive.

Look into the everlasting softness which creative discontent with "good enough" has provided in soft, all-coil springs.

Dig into the engine, and see how resourceful engineering has stepped up the efficiency of valve-in-head design with Domite pistons and FIREBALL compression—how it also enables you to conserve fuel while actually getting more power through Buick's exclusive Compound Carburetion.†

You may have little interest normally in things like connecting rods and main bearings and wheel rims.

But it is of utmost importance now that Buick knew how to strengthen rods for heavier duties without increasing weight—that Buick found a way to oil-finish crankshaft journals so as to double bearing life under equal loads—that every Buick wheel has a rim that not only provides a steadier and smoother ride but actually insures top tire mileage.

Little of this special ruggedness shows in the suave outward look of this trim and steady-rolling Buick—the beauty you see there is merely the garnish on the solid substance beneath.

But examine such structural details and we believe you'll quickly discover one fact:

While there may be a shortage of cars and of materials from which to make them, there's no shortage in stamina in the cars Buick builds.

And what is more important in any car these days?

†Available at slight extra cost on Buick SPECIAL models, standard on all other Series.

MORE MONEY TO SPEND.

The national income in September was running at the annual rate of 92 billion dollars a year, has since continued to rise, and must now be close to the 100 billion a year rate. In 1929 the income of all the people amounted to 83 billion dollars and this record has not been in danger until now.

It is evident that people will have more money to spend next month than they have ever had before—20 per cent more than in the holiday season in 1929. Rents for workingmen's dwellings are 25 per cent lower than in 1929, and food prices are down 16 per cent as compared with prices of 12 years ago. The lower costs of the necessities of life will release a larger per cent of the income for gifts. Continued pronouncements by government officials that the coming year may bring on a wild inflation have a certain effect in leading people to convert money into goods anyhow.

The prospects is, therefore, for a volume of traffic in the stores just before Christmas that will dwarf any previous experience. Many stores are certainly going to be swamped at the peak of the season. Last year a number of merchants said that so many persons waited until the last week before Christmas to stock up for their Santa Clausing that the capacity of the stores was exceeded.

Merchants have stocked up heavily for the holiday season. Some stores have as much as 50 per cent more inventory than last year at this time. In the ordinary year it is good sense to shop early in order to be able to choose gifts from the complete holiday lines. This year the penalty for delay will mean being caught in a mob of shoppers of such size that almost no one may be able to get what he or she wants. Christmas is still a little over a month away, but there are only two weeks left to shop efficiently and in comfort.

MR. CHURCHILL AND THE FREEDOMS.

The Indian council of state has adopted a resolution asking that the viceroy convey to the British government India's "deep discontent" in its present relations with the British empire. Mr. Churchill was known to have signed the Atlantic charter of freedoms with his fingers crossed. He explained in the house of commons that the problems arising out of the evolution of self-governing institutions in regions owing allegiance to the British crown were a separate matter entirely from the problems created by the Nazi subjection of European nations.

The prime minister couldn't have said much more plainly that nothing in Mr. Roosevelt's rhetoric would change the status of people in the British empire. "Everywhere in the world" does not mean everywhere in the world, and no sensible person could regard the phrase as anything but moonshine. People later, however, will convict its authors of insincerity, if not hypocrisy, in dressing a pretentious crusade up as a moral show.

These fictitious altruisms are not harmless. Mr. Wilson's high moralities proved to be evil in the other peacemaking, and harmful just to the extent that they had been effective as war propaganda. The disillusionments caused by the actual peace terms produced a bitterness and cynicism wherever a sense of betrayal and injustice was felt.

Only over-sentimental or over-simple minded people now can be taken in by professions of universal freedom when it is apparent to the average foresight that no such millennium is in prospect.

Mr. Churchill doesn't propose to be embarrassed later by any misunderstanding now as to the position of his government. He has signed some declarations but he has hastened to qualify his signature and put himself in position later to reject the ideas as impractical, undesirable, and premature if he ever has the good fortune to sit down at a peace conference with the power to dictate the terms.

Mr. Churchill has had some experience with idealogues and, quite prudently, he puts himself on record in advance as writing his own reservations. He cannot wholly escape the reproach that he is lending himself to the promoting of false hopes and expectations of things that are not to be. America cannot impose its ideas outside the dominion of the United States, and it can't wholly maintain them within its boundaries.

ANOTHER USELESS JOB.

Congressman Dies has called attention to the appointment of Mr. Goodwin Watson as chief broadcast analyst for the Federal Communications commission. Mr. Dies says he knows and can prove that Mr. Watson is a "propagandist for communism and the soviet union." Chairman Fly of the commission is asked in a letter from Mr. Dies to explain the appointment.

The reply should make interesting reading. Meanwhile another question can be raised. The duties of the chief broadcast analyst are to draw conclusions as to "the probable trends of the war, the internal morale and conditions of foreign nations, their objectives, and their probable political, economic, or military action." All of these inferences are to be derived by the analyst from a study of the official broadcasts as they are received from foreign stations.

The question is: What has all this to do with the work of the Federal Communications commission? That agency was set up to regulate the radio in this country. The analysis of foreign propaganda is wholly outside the commission's proper sphere of activity. The gathering of evidence regarding foreign governments and speculation on the meaning of this evidence is the business of the state department. Probably somebody in Mr. Hull's department is already concerned with the foreign broadcasts. If not it must be because the state department isn't interested and, if that is the fact, it won't read Mr. Watson's reports no matter how shrewd his interpretations may be. In that event Mr. Watson's $5,600 salary might as well be tossed into the Potomac for all the good it will do.

There appears to be no limit to the growth of the burocracy in Washington. No effort is being made to reduce the unnecessary expenditures in face of the stupendous outlays for armament and lend-lease aid. Whether Mr. Watson is a communist or not, his job ought to be abolished as superfluous.

THEY CAN'T SAY THEY WEREN'T WARNED.

The news story of the Cook county board's preliminary estimates on its 1942 budget appeared, quite appropriately, on the obituary page of THE TRIBUNE. The boys in the county building are in their worst hole since the assessment hiatus and tax strike a decade ago. The board is, at the very minimum, nearly $3,500,000 short of finding the money to finance its operations for the coming fiscal year.

The only comfort we can find in this threat to services that are important to every resident of the county is that we warned them. So did Assistant Controler Daley and Commissioner Maurice Kavanagh, chairman of the board's finance committee. Maurice is a graduate of the moss-back—or two plus two never makes more than four—school of arithmetic.

When the 1939 budget estimates showed the surplus that the county had enjoyed for a number of years had turned into a deficit thru failure of penalty collections on delinquent taxes to come up to estimates Kavanagh and Daley warned the board and the elected county office holders that it was time to trim sail. Their warnings were in vain. The best that their valiant rear guard action accomplished was to prevent a few increases in expenditures without accomplishing any reductions.

Just how reckless the county's conduct of its finances has been is indicated by the fact that there is still an indicated shortage of nearly $3,500,000 for 1942 after the legislature gave the county about $1,000,000 more to spend in a tax rate increase and relieved it of nearly $1,000,000 more in mothers' pension costs. And the budget shortage takes no account of $4,500,000 more that the county owes because of the city's unjust but legal charges for Municipal court costs.

If the county board is to have an honestly balanced budget it must both cut expenses and find more revenue. It probably will fail to do either, choosing instead to base its budget on a phony, inflated estimate of income that will leave affairs mired even deeper a year hence. The suggestions that follow are made for the record. We don't expect much to come of them.

The Circuit judges' committee on help, which dictates nearly $9,000,000 of the county budget in the appropriations for fee offices, has been scamping its responsibilities for years. It should force a general reduction in the swollen staffs in these offices. But any one who expects it will do so should scan the returns in the recent judicial election.

The way to get more revenue is to collect more taxes. The county gets better than 30 cents in every dollar of delinquent tax payments, counting the penalties. The county board inflated its estimate of penalty collections for the present year to $7,800,000 in order to balance the 1941 budget. Actually it will collect about $6,000,000. The estimate that collections for 1942 will be $5,000,000 is, if anything, too liberal.

It is doubtful that anything effective will be done in the next 12 months to clear up delinquent taxes. The program for mandatory foreclosure and sale of delinquent properties was grossly mishandled and perished in the legislature. The county officials concerned are shadow boxing. The best record for delinquent tax collections is in the sheriff's office. We retract nothing that we have said recently about the Statesman O'Brien, but point out that even he is able to make other county officials concerned look like bums when it comes to collecting taxes.

Short of a virulent epidemic of bubonic plague in the county building we see little hope of the county getting out of its troubles.

UDET.

Ernst Udet was 45 years old when he was killed the other day in what the Nazi government said was a test of a new weapon. He held the rank of colonel general in the German air force and was its quartermaster general, charged with the development and manufacture of the planes that make it the most powerful in Europe.

Udet was a pilot in the last war. There was no place for him in the army at its close. He spent most of his adult life in civilian pursuits. He manufactured planes for a while. Spectators at American air shows knew him a decade ago as one of the world's best stunt flyers.

He had his counterparts in American aviation in Lindbergh, Rickenbacker, and Williams. The difference is that while Hitler and Goering recognized Udet's genius and used it our American peacetime air leaders are ignored by a stupid or jealous war department.

Editorial of the Day

A WEAK ARGUMENT.

[Columbus Evening Dispatch.]

A standard technique of the proponents of American war entry in attempts to disparage the logic of the noninterventionist arguments is to scoff at the still not disproved contention that America's geographical position is a potent asset which cannot be dismissed with an airy gesture. As month follows month without a successful invasion of England—at present it appears not even to be contemplated by Hitler—the logic of this point becomes more apparent. Therefore, it is to be expected that intervention advocates should attack it even more vehemently.

An example of this is furnished by a cartoon printed last week by an eastern newspaper. It shows a figure labeled "Isolationists" sitting on the edge of the ocean, holding a paper on which is written "the oceans protect us." Almost at his feet a vessel labeled "Kearny" is being torpedoed, splashing water over the man. The caption is "Proving They're All Wet."

If this is the best counter-argument that can be produced, it is pretty weak. The attack on the Kearny has nothing whatever to do with the physical safety of the North American continent. It proves nothing except that an American naval vessel sailing in European waters, near the war areas under orders of the President and unauthorized by congress or people is liable to be shot at by a German submarine—particularly since its commander has orders to shoot first if he has the opportunity.

The absurdity of trying to rationalize this into proof that the United States is vulnerable to invasion by a European power is evident.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may. Reg. U. S. Pat. Office

LINE BOOK PREVIEW.

On our desk, a patch of color against inkstains, is an advance copy of the Line Book of 1941, which will be ready for copious distribution next Friday. Its cover, a merry-andrew's profile laughing at a silhouette of the Tribune Tower, is bright enough in its red, white, and blue design to be seen on a newsstand a block away. We like it and applaud the artist, Sol Berger, who thus joins a distinguished company of Line Book illustrators.

* * *

A specimen of the column was wanted for photomontage in the cover design, and we found one that was smack in the bull's-eye, carrying the caption, "Lore of the Line Books." It contains a bit of verse which is half-hidden by the lettering of the title, and that item, "Little Parcel," happened to creep into the contents; see page 12 if you are curious.

* * *

In preparing the book, we tried to run up a larger score in items than ever, and succeeded [227 in 1940; 261 in 1941]. We also said, "Don't let the war stuff run away with the gayety," and so you will find that the book does not wallow in the world's worries, altho admitting their existence. We also decided that one man's name should be barred, and so here is indeed a novelty—a contemporary book that does not mention Hitler.

* * *

Better than last year's? Well, the youngest child in a family is always the favorite.

The Line Books get a wide geographic distribution. Two letters came to our desk the other day, one from New York asking permission to reprint material in an anthology of verse to be circulated in army camps, the other from a schoolteacher in Honolulu, hoping she could use Line Book selections in student publications.

A POET'S NOTEBOOK.

Fragments, dead as fallen flowers;
Somber lore in sorrow gained,
Exultant moods of wayward hours,
Notes too high to be sustained;
Lilting phrases, haunting clear,
Lines that might have played a part
In some song to banish fear
And lent new courage to some heart;
Unfinished now, till end of days,
These thoughts as free as winging birds,
Obscured in death's eternal haze
That hushed the rapture of his words.
And we who learned too late the pain
That pointed all his melody
Pay homage now to every strain
In his unfinished symphony.

Quizzicuss.

Tale of a Black Sheep.

You asked for a story about the "black sheep" in the newspaper fold, the Dispatch [Nov. 11], so here is one. I confess to having been a reporter on the staff, but I do not "point with pride" to that chapter in my career.

One of its sources of revenue came from a page of small ads entitled "Massage Parlors," in reality assignation resorts. Another disreputable money-getter was to have a writeup suppressed, after galley proofs were shown to the interested parties, who were given a hint to "come across or else——." My suspicions were aroused when a story assigned to me failed to appear, so for the sake of retaining my reputation I soon turned in my star for a place on a decent paper.

Newspaper men of lowly rank, while offering no apology for Dunlop's scandalous sheet, considered his judges were too vindictive in pushing him behind the bars, more persecuting than prosecuting, with motives not of the purest. The Dispatch went out with the downfall of Dunlop.

The azure butterflies above the golden grain
Knew ecstasy without regret or pain;
Their golden hour of love was spent
Before this grain against the sickle leant.
Beauty and love exempt from pain or strife?
Ah, no, I'll take the sickle's reaping for my life.

THE PRACTICAL PAYING TELLER.

(Men About Town.)

The Paying Teller takes your check,
Then questions you till you're a wreck.
He wants to know your age, and weight,
And middle name in duplicate.
He gives you such a piercing look
You're half convinced that you're a crook,
And while he's checking the address,
Decide you'd better just confess.
At heart he's quite a trusting lad—
It's just his training that's been bad.
From dealing with the human race,

YOUR NERVES AND YOUR DIGESTION.

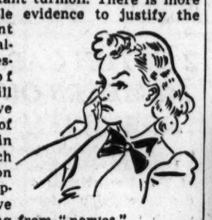
ATTENTION has been called repeatedly to the fact that the digestive tract cannot do its work efficiently when the mind is in constant turmoil. There is more than ample evidence to justify the statement that a gallon of essence of pepsin will not dissolve an ounce of food within the stomach of a person who is apprehensive or suffering from "nerves."



Such troubles with our wires [nerves] are personality defects. They rise from many causes—unhappy conditions in the home or on the job, a tendency to magnify rebuffs, the habit of worry, celebrating "blue Monday" every day of the week, or becoming distressed over trifles.

A few months ago I encountered a laboratory worker who complained of attacks of indigestion with occasional spells of vomiting. Altho some improvement had been observed at times, she would relapse into starvation because of intermittent waves of nausea. For days on end appetite would fail almost completely.

Following a careful examination, organic disease was ruled out. Wherein lay her difficulty? Methodical questioning elicited the information that she was under the dominance of an exacting employer who was driving her beyond endurance. He was never satisfied with what she was able to accomplish and persisted in assigning many more tasks than could be handled.

For a time she put in extra hours daily in an effort to catch up. Finding this impossible she began to let things go. Naturally conscientious, this disturbed her, whereupon dyspepsia appeared in full force. Her physician assured her that there was nothing wrong physically, and advised that she find another position in a more congenial environment. This she did, and within 10 days after accepting the new appointment every symptom vanished. She began to gain weight and has since continued in excellent health.

Another case, that of a 30 year old accountant, was traced to family friction dating back to childhood. The characteristic signs of peptic ulcer seemed so clear cut that treatment by a specialist was sought. Needless to say no benefit ensued. The patient then consulted a possibly less scientific but far more discerning physician. On hearing the story, the medical man spotted the cause accurately. A severe father and an indulgent mother had clouded his youth. There were constant battles between the parents and he was reared in an atmosphere of hostility.

Fortunately, his medical adviser was able to convince him that no organic disease was present. Within six weeks he had shipped all of his anxieties to Halifax. The change in his appearance, outlook, and general well being was striking.

We should not wonder that the stomach will fail to behave when every mouthful that is dispatched to it is mixed with bitter disappointments and frustrations. Nerves are sensitive and, more often than not, a meal will be rejected because the autonomic [sympathetic] system is in a state of unrest. Dread of cancer, or of almost any other serious malady, can wreck the most stalwart frame. All the victim needs to do is think about it enough.

The least we can do is to try not to destroy ourselves. Morbid thoughts and self-accusations tear down poise. Whenever we encounter indigestion which cannot be explained on a rational basis we may well start on the hunt for upset emotions. As the French physician, Cabanis, put it, "The nerves, they are the man."

LACKS WAX.

L. O. N. writes: I have no wax in my ears. Is this unusual?

REPLY.

Wax producing glands are found in the inner portion of the ear canals. They may be destroyed by infection, such as ringworm. In your case, some organism may be responsible for inactivity. On the other hand, you may belong to the dry skin family.

REPLY.

You have been an unwise cracker. Nothing can or need be done.

WARTS.

REPLY.

No—a virus is responsible. The miserable things are contagious where conditions are ripe.

FAMILIAR STORY: TOO OLD.

Elwood, Ill., Nov. 18.—I've read of the "American way" of life until my patience forces me to inquire just what it means. Does it mean that when a fellow who asks for a job and he is past the 30 mark he is too old?

Recently a friend of mine sought a job as a fireman. Everything went along until they asked his age. "Thirty-one," my friend says. Then started the same old story, and I quote: "I'm awfully sorry, but 31 is too many; we want firemen, but the age limit is 25 years." If you wonder why I don't go there and ask for a job I can easily explain. I'm 32.

A married woman can't get a job any more, either. It's true, a married woman's place is in the home in most cases, but what if the father can't make enough to provide the things necessary for a family? I don't mean a car as long as Einstein's memory, but I mean the meat and staples that a child's body must have. What's to be done about it; do you know the answer?

If you should happen to publish this don't put my name to it. There may be some poor misguided hobo read it and refuse to share the same trash can with me on the grounds that I am not a good American.

O. R.

FEELS THE PINCH OF WAR.

Manitowoc, Wis., Nov. 10.—The President is harping on the fact that many employés have lost their jobs on account of national defense, yet he raves on that there should be three shifts a day, seven days a week work on national defense.

I am one of the aluminum workers in Manitowoc who are feeling the pinch of war.

I am 60 years of age, buying a home, and trying to live, as the President says, in the good American way. Now with my income cut off I cannot continue with my payments on the home.

There seems to be no place for one of my age. Were I 65 and entitled to an old age pension—social security—I would not be secure nor feel secure with the paltry sum I would receive, and try to live, properly housed, properly clothed, and properly fed. He should send instructions with each check showing plainly how it can be done.

The question is where do we go from here?

B. B.

SEATS IN THE THEATERS.

Chicago, Nov. 17.—Your editorial on why Chicago theaters are dark is timely.

I like to see all of the good shows, but when I recently tried to buy some 10th row seats I was told that they were sold out to the 18th row no matter how far ahead.

The scalpers have plenty, however, at a 50 per cent markup and it might be a good idea to take a crack at the show managers who are howling about poor business.

W. A. KUEHL.

CITY FIREMEN'S PAY.

Chicago, Nov. 15.—With the cost of living rising steadily, why not a raise for city firemen?

Most people are unaware that firemen are on duty 84 hours a week and that they pay for their own food, linen, flashlights, and various tools. Their equipment is so outmoded it is no wonder so many men are injured going to and coming from fires. Some of the trucks are over 20 years old—definite hazards.

These men certainly deserve better pay.

MADELEINE KELLY.

PRAISE FOR THE SOVIETS.

Chicago, Nov. 17.—Why do you always malign the soviet union? The fact is that it is the only true democracy of any considerable size in the whole world; possesses many advantages over the United States.

For an instance: 91 per cent of youths of military age within the soviet union have better than a high school education. The vast majority of American youths of comparable age have not attended any high school. The greatest curse in capitalistic countries is unemployment. There is no unemployment within the soviet union, and there has been none during the last two decades. Women are receiving similar treatment with men as to wages and working conditions. There are more free nurseries, clinics, and hospitals within the soviet union than in all of the rest of the world combined.

Chances of advancement are better than anywhere else. Only ability, capability, and application count. That applies to military as well as civil life. I was drafted into the army at the age of 22. I became a captain two years later. After serving the required three years I was mustered out as major. That was in times of peace, not of war. We Russians look up to Josef Stalin as a kind hearted father.

I came to this country 10 years ago and am now a citizen. Whether I gained or lost by the change I shall never know. But now that I am here I intend to stay here. My wife and my two boys were born here. But it hurts to see my motherland so shamefully maligned by a newspaper that is underedited.

BEST PILOTS ON THE FERRIES.

Chicago, Nov. 16.—I have flown the air lines for the last five or six years, but like many other American business men, have discontinued flying for the present.

Why? Why should I, as an American citizen, risk my life on planes today? Good mechanics get more money building planes for England in American factories. Good American pilots get more money to ferry American made planes to England. Good American made parts go England-bound in preference to American plane requirements in our own country. The answer—the good old American public is flying on planes that should be replaced with new ones, but our American air lines must continue to use old, worn out equipment as the new planes must go to England.

¼ MILLION MILE FLYER.

GIRLS AND THE UNIFORM.

Chicago, Nov. 15.—A kindly young woman who signs D. C. brings up an important problem: Our young men have been transported to distant parts of the country. In the new situation there is no possibility of introduction by a person who knows both the young men and the girls. Young women are faced with two alternatives. One is to limit their acquaintances to refugees, men rejected by the army, and those fortunate enough to have high draft numbers. The other alternative is to select their companions from among those young men who have been torn from their homes.

It came as a shock to me, the mother of a soldier, to find that any girl would hesitate to make a date with my son. I surmise that the traitorous old biddies who criticize her for so doing are just the ones who wear the lion rampant and whoop up a war for my boy to die in. What opinion does a soldier have of the courage of a young woman who is afraid to walk down the street with him because he wears a uniform?

The present situation demands that young people select their friends with only the personality of the individual to guide them. I believe that American home training has been such that our young people will rise to that responsibility.

PROPERTY DEED.

Chicago, Nov. 13.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—We have a lot on which we wish to build a house but have lost the blue print.

1. We do have the deed.
2. Must we have the blue print? If we ever intended to sell the house [3] would the blue print be necessary?
4. What must we do to get another if necessary?

B. A.

1. After a deed has been recorded, its subsequent possession is unimportant.
2. Depends on whether boundary questions are involved so the grantee asks for a survey.
3. Not necessarily.
4. We would advise you to wait until the necessity develops.

GUNMEN IN CAR SLAY EX-PRIZE FIGHT MANAGER

5 Shots Fired in Street on West Side.

Samuel Rothaiser, alias Roth, 50 years old, who had in his pocket an undertaker's business card bearing the underlined notation "In Case," was shot and killed last night as he walked in Kedzie avenue near Arthington street. The gunmen escaped in a black sedan.

Samuel Rothaiser.

Rothaiser, an ex-convict, was a former pugilist and fight manager, and about 15 years ago managed Ray Jefferies, widely known Chicago bantam and flyweight. Recently he had been clerking in a cigar store, and before that had worked in handbooks. Friends said he had been out of work lately.

Sees Car Roar Away.

The only witness to the killing, John Chagnick, 26, attendant in a gasoline station at 900 South Kedzie avenue, told Fillmore police that he heard five shots in quick succession, and ran to the window to see a car roar away and Rothaiser's body sprawled in the station driveway. Chagnick said he did not see the killers.

Rothaiser, who apparently was returning to the Sears YMCA, 3210 Arthington street, where he had been living since Sept. 15, was identified from a card in his pocket and by fingerprints. His record at the bureau of identification shows that he served a six month Bridewell sentence in 1906 for robbery and was sent to Pontiac in 1907 for assault to rob. He also had been arrested in Los Angeles in 1913 and 1929, and was picked up in Chicago in 1930.

Sergts. Francis Donohue and Ollie Karwoski, investigators for Coroner A. L. Brodie, said Rothaiser was killed by a bullet that struck him behind the right ear. Powder marks indicated that it was fired at close range. Coroner Brodie and Sergt. John Coughlin were in charge of the inquiry at Fillmore station.

Card Found on Body.

A search of Rothaiser's body disclosed the business card of Jaffe & Albert, undertakers, 704 South Pulaski road. The penciled notation "In Case" was twice underlined.

William Jaffe of the undertaking concern is a brother of Ray Jeffries, who adopted that name for ring purposes. Jaffe said he had known Rothaiser for years and had breakfast with him yesterday. He said Rothaiser also called last evening, about two hours before he was shot, to suggest having dinner together. Jaffe, however, was unable to do so.

Rothaiser's body was identified by a nephew, Robert Roth, 3149 West 15th street, and Roth's sister-in-law, Mrs. Norman Roth. Roth, a furniture salesman, said he had not seen his uncle for many years until about four years ago.

At that time, Roth said, he saw Rothaiser running into a store at Ogden and Kedzie avenues with an armed man in pursuit. Roth said he ran after them and the gunman fled. Rothaiser, after recognizing Roth, said, according to his nephew:

Recalls Previous Threat.

"They tried to take me for a ride, but I jumped out of the car."

He did not explain further.

Authorities today will talk to a number of persons whose phone numbers were found in Rothaiser's room. They also will examine a .38 caliber revolver found there. Attendants at the YMCA said Rothaiser was a quiet lodger.

PACK CITY HALL AS CINDERELLA WEDS HER HERO

Garfield, N. J., Nov. 20 (AP).—Josephine Phillips, the Central park C'nderella, and Sailor Bill Langford went into an 11 second clinch today after a marriage ceremony in the crowded council chambers of Garfield's city hall.

Both Josephine, 19, and the husky sailor from the Philadelphia navy yard repeated their vows for John Gabriel, mayor of Garfield, who officiated. They will honeymoon in style in a suite provided by a New York hotel.

They met several weeks ago in New York's Central park. Josephine was cold, broke, and friendless. Bill, 22 year old sailor, fed her and they made a future date. Bill was unable to keep the date, learned later that she was arrested for vagrancy while waiting for him, and the wedding plans came as a sequel.

BRITTON I. BUDD, DR. A. M. BAROTHY INJURED IN CRASH

Britton I. Budd, Chicago utility executive, and Dr. Arpad M. Barothy, physician, were injured early yesterday when the automobile driven by Budd was forced off the road near Ottawa, Ill. They were on their way to hunt ducks at Senachwine lake, near Henry, Ill.

Britton I. Budd.

The injured men were moved to a hospital in Ottawa, where it was found that Dr. Barothy, who lives at 7619 North Eastlake avenue, and has offices at 108 North State street, has a broken left arm and other minor cuts and bruises. Budd, whose home is at 1500 Lake Shore drive, apparently suffered only a sprained left ankle and wrist.

Mrs. Sophia Hahn, 66, of 2709 North Kilpatrick avenue, died in her home last night apparently of injuries suffered on Oct. 27 at Cicero and Diversey avenues when a car struck a newsstand, which tipped over on her.

Anna Goldovitz, 17, of 1432 West 13th street, died yesterday of injuries received Wednesday when she and her sister were struck by a cab in Roosevelt road near Laflin street. Florence Goldovitz, 19, the sister, was in critical condition at the Mother Cambrini hospital from her injuries. Charles Lipman, 22, of 3451 Douglas boulevard, was the driver of the cab.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 843 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these 586 were killed in Chicago, where 23,183 were injured in the same period.

TIPPY REJOICES AT A JOB WELL DONE FOR BOSS

(Picture on back page.)

Olympia, Wash., Nov. 20 (AP).—Tippy had been very busy. There was a rabbit burrow to sniff, a crawling black bug to chase, a bird to bark at along the right of way.

The boss was busy, too. He was fighting Indians, or riding a magic airplane, or pushing the school teacher down a well. All very interesting business, requiring plenty of imagination, as they do for 7 year old boys.

The boss never saw the train coming, but Tippy did, almost in time. He scampered, or barked, or jumped. Neither he nor the boss knew just what. But the boss landed in the gravel alongside the track, unhurt, while Tippy rolled beneath the churning wheels.

Tippy won't chase the birds so fast again. He can't, on just three legs. But it will not matter so much, because the parents of 7 year old Alvin Johnson will gladly chase the birds for him.

JAIL RACINE MEN IN CALIFORNIA AS KIDNAP SUSPECT

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 20 [Special].—Joseph Pezanoski, 31 years old, and Frank King, 31, both of Racine, Wis., were arrested late last night by police in Huntington Park, on suspicion of kidnaping.

In a telegraphic warrant from the sheriff's office at Janesville, Wis., the two men are charged with bringing Beverly Clark, 17, here from Beloit. She was taken to Los Angeles county juvenile hall from Huntington Park. She told police she came here voluntarily with the two men and her friend, Lorraine Wintermuto, 19. The men told police they came here seeking work as welders.

Will Send for Men.

Janesville, Wis., Nov. 20 [Special].—Sheriff Owen M. Rex, who requested the arrest of Joseph Pezanoski, 31 years old, and Frank King, 31, at Los Angeles, Cal., on suspicion of kidnaping Beverly Clark, 17, said tonight that the two men and Lorraine Wintermuto, 19, called for the Clark girl at her mother's home in Beloit on Nov. 15. Beloit is in Rock county and is in Sheriff Rex's jurisdiction. In Arizona the sheriff learned the four said they were eloping. Sheriff Rex said both Pezanoski and King are married and their families reside at Racine. The sheriff said he would seek a governor's warrant for the men tomorrow and would send an officer for them.

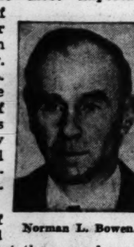
DR. BOWEN WINS GEOLOGISTS' TOP AWARD OF MERIT

U. of C. Professor's Rock Studies Cited.

The Penrose medal, regarded by geologists as the most important recognition of merit in their field, has been awarded to Dr. Norman L. Bowen of the University of Chicago. It was granted him by the Geological Society of America for his research work.



Norman L. Bowen.

Presentation of the medal will be made Dec. 30 at the annual meeting of the society in Boston, Mass. In the announcement of the award it was stated that it went to Dr. Bowen "in recognition of his achievements in the application of the principles of physical chemistry to the study of the origin of igneous rocks."

Aided Glass Industry.

Dr. Bowen's early experiments in molten rock brought forth fundamental facts that made possible advancies in ceramics and in the glass making industry. While working for the war industries board during the World war he supervised the production of optical glass, a work that was recognized as of prime military importance. He was also a co-discoverer of mullite, a basic constituent of fire clay refractories.

The University of Chicago professor is 54 years old and the youngest scientist to receive the Penrose medal. According to Dr. Edson S. Bastin, chairman of the university's geology department, the youngest previous recipient was Dr. Reginald A. Daly of Harvard university, who was 64.

At Chicago U. Since 1937.

Dr. Bowen was graduated from Queen's university at Kingston, Ont., Canada, and received his doctor of philosophy degree from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

He has been a field geologist for the Canadian geological survey and a member of the Carnegie institution of Washington, D. C. He has been with the University of Chicago since 1937.

GAMBLING JURY RECALLS O'BRIEN, CHIEF FLEMING

Sheriff Thomas J. O'Brien will make his second appearance today before the Cook county grand jury, which for the last two weeks has been investigating the gambling monopoly which the Guzik-Nitti gang enjoys in the county. The sheriff and his chief of highway police, James Fleming, appeared as witnesses last week and were ordered to return for further questioning.

Lieut. Henry R. Andel, who is in charge of the Morton Grove highway station, and Lieut. Fred Mulhausen, in charge of the Willow Springs station since Lieut. Fred Haeger disappeared, also are scheduled to face the jury today.

The November jury is expected to recommend that the inquiry be carried on by the December jury and succeeding juries if necessary. This jury is not expected to vote any indictments because, under the statute, it must adjourn next Friday.

BURGLAR SHOT BY POLICEMAN ADMITS GUILT

Morey Hall, 17 years old, admitted to police yesterday that he is a "burglar by profession on occasion." He was arrested late Wednesday night in a rooming house at 1832 South Sawyer avenue, where he had been traced by Berwyn police. Police had been looking for Hall since Tuesday, when he escaped from Policeman William Ponshe of Berwyn while Ponshe was questioning him. Ponshe fired two shots at Hall when he escaped and wounded him in the right arm and right shoulder. He was administering first aid to himself when found. Yesterday he was taken to the county jail hospital. Police said Hall admitted attempting to burglarize a motor sales agency at 6839 Ogden avenue, Berwyn, just before being apprehended by Ponshe and confessed a recent burglary of a south side filling station.

EXPECTS QUICK INDICTMENT OF FOUR FUGITIVES

Sheriff Marcus W. Damisch of Kane county said yesterday that he expected the county grand jury, meeting in Geneva this morning, to vote assault to kill indictments against four young hoodlums who escaped from the Illinois Training School for Boys, near St. Charles, Monday, after overpowering a watchman, threatening him with knives, and stealing $50 from him before they fled in his car.

The four were captured in St. Louis, Mo., after stealing a second car in Keokuk, Ia., and are now being held in Clayton, near St. Louis. They are William Langkals, John Fletcher, Joseph Rose, and Alex Biernacki, all 17 years old.

If the grand jury indicts the hoodlums promptly, Sheriff Damisch will take the papers to Springfield for extradition warrants from Gov. Green's office and then drive on to Jefferson City, Mo., to get warrants from the governor of Missouri. He hopes to bring the prisoners back sometime Sunday, to be held in jail until trial.

7 TO GET PRISON SENTENCES FOR OIL LINE BLAST

Decatur, Ill., Nov. 20 (AP).—Nine persons, including seven union officials, were convicted early today by a Circuit court jury on a charge of conspiracy in the bombing of an oil pipeline near here.

The explosion occurred Feb. 9, 1940, on property of the Texas Empire Pipe Line company, which pumps oil thru here from the Salem, Ill., field to refineries at East Chicago, Ind. Six other pipe line bombings occurred in Illinois the same winter.

Two other union officials on trial were freed yesterday when Circuit Judge Charles Y. Miller ruled the state had not proved their connection with the conspiracy.

Seven of the defendants will receive penitentiary sentences, which can be anywhere from one to five years, and four of the seven are to be fined $2,000 each and the other three $1,000 each. Two defendants will get county jail sentences up to a maximum of two years.

INSTALMENT XI.

BULLY BEATEN.

Tracy gave a roar of rage, circling the table behind which Waugh stood. Jack traveled in the same direction, swiftly. He did not want to be trapped in a small cabin where the other could seize and crush him.

"I'll break you in two," Tracy cried. "Stop him, Ike."

Parker blocked the doorway. The man's right arm was stretched across his body, the fingers round the butt of a revolver hanging in a scabbard from the left shoulder. Jack's fist lashed out at his chin, caught it flush, and flung the fellow against the wall. An instant later Waugh was outside, with the foreman at his heels.

Young Carey took a hand. He did not wait for the gunman to recover from the jarring effect of the blow, but while his mind was still dazed and his body lax snatched the weapon from its holster.

"There won't be any shooting in the back today," he said.

In the open, Jack turned so suddenly that it brought Tracy up short, surprised to find out that this young fellow meant to face him, surprised too at what he saw in his foe's face. All the suppressed resentment of the long years had flamed into implacable anger. Hard and callous tho the A C man was, it beat into his dull brain with an intensity that startled him.

The foreman came forward on his toes, head down, arms swinging wide. Jack crashed a right to the dish face and ducked out of danger. His enemy turned, anger blazing in his eyes, and rushed again. One flailing fist was brushed aside, the other struck a slanting blow on the cheek of Waugh that left a bruise. But at the same time a hard jolting uppercut caught the big man under the chin and rocked his head.

Jack danced away. He took note of Carey, gun in hand.

"Keep out of this," he ordered sharply. "My fight."

Carl nodded. "I had to take the gun from Parker," he explained.

Tracy crowded in again, slashing heavily at his enemy. Most of the blows Jack smothered. One caught him in the chest and sent him crashing back against the side of the car.

Carey watched them doubtfully. He had expected that the A C bully would hammer down his opponent rapidly, but he could see now that Waugh had a chance if he could weather the fierce attacks. Altho he lacked the terrific brute strength of the foreman, he was a far more skillful boxer.

Tracy was punching fast and furiously, yet the major part of his effort was wasted. The blocking and ducking of Waugh were beautiful to see. The fists pounding at him were whistling past his head or landing on elbows and shoulders. When the smaller man got home his foe winced at the clean, hard smashes, especially when they went driving into his stomach. The Clinton majordomo had lived carelessly, priding himself that he could go thru heavy drinking bouts with no bad results. But they had taken toll of his stamina. He began to breathe hard.

For a moment Tracy dropped his fists to his sides. His chest rose and fell fast, the wind whistling thru his nostrils.

"Don't stop now when you have me practically licked," Waugh taunted.

Again Tracy rushed him, driving his lighter foe back with the weight of the charge. A slogging swing caught Jack on the cheek bone and as he ducked to escape another landed on the eye. He was off balance and it flung him from his feet. The foreman gave a yelp of triumph and threw himself at the man on the ground. He was too late. Waugh had rolled beyond his reach and was already scrambling to his feet.

Coming up heavily from the ground, Tracy met hard rights and lefts in the face. It seemed to him that a dozen fists were flying at him. For the first time he covered up and backed away.

Watching him closely, Jack saw in his eyes the realization that he was going to be beaten unless he could close with this lightfooted, slippery antagonist and fling him to the ground. Instantly Waugh shifted from a defensive to an offensive battle. He feinted with the left for the jaw and sent his right into the pit of the stomach as hard as he could drive it. Tracy gasped and plunged at Waugh, arms wide to encircle the strong, lithe body. Jack drove him back with a tattoo against the face followed by two more straight rights aimed for the solar plexus.

Panting heavily, Tracy put all he had into one wild rush. He came at Waugh, head lowered like a charging bull. Jack sidestepped, and the foreman's brindle hair butted into the door of the car. He went down like a pole-axed steer, dead to the world.

Ike Parker walked to where his boss lay and looked down at the huge sprawled body. He lifted his eyes, cold as those of a dead cod, to meet those of the victor.

"Better get outa this country pronto," he advised.

"Why?" asked Waugh, derision in his mocking eyes.

"Unless you want to go out in a wooden box."

"The A C talks a good fight, but its performance is a little short," Jack told him. "Your big cock-a-doodle-do swings his fists like an old woman, and when you reach for a gun Carl takes it from you like candy from a baby. You'll have to do better or old Ab won't like it."

Altho he was badly bruised and bleeding, Jack had never in his gusty lifetime looked more the man on horseback. The gayety in his face advertised the recklessness of a dare devil soul. He was enjoying himself as he had not done for a long time. To have taken the first fall out of the A C outfit was bread and meat to him.

"Don't make a mistake, fellow," Parker warned coldly. "Just because you had a little luck don't mean you can get anywhere with our crowd. You'll last about as long as a snowball in hell."

"You're still talking your fight," Waugh replied contemptuously. "Better get that dead freight into the car and report casualties to Brad Clinton."

Tracy showed signs of returning life. He rolled his eyes, groaned, and lifted a wavering hand to his bleeding head. Presently he looked around and propped himself up against the running board of the car. His sullen gaze fixed on Waugh, in it the deadly hatred of the arrogant brought low.

"If I hadn't hit my head against the door of the car I would of busted you wide open," he growled. "If I ever see you again——"

"More promises," Jack commented lightly. "They pour out like water from a bottle. Mr. Parker has just been making some, too."

By means of the running board Tracy eased himself to his feet. He put a hand against the side of the car to balance himself while he wiped his bloody head with a handkerchief. Inside his skull he felt a dozen hammers pounding. What had occurred still seemed incredible to him. He had straddled unchallenged thru his world for 20 years, sustained by the assurance of his physical supremacy, and now that certainty had been snatched from him by this young fellow whose jauntiness mocked him.

He said, his voice shaking, "I'll kill you for this as sure as you're a foot high."

Waugh stabbed a question at him. "With other men's bullets, as you did with my father?"

The vanity of the foreman escaped in a burst of malignant fury. "Who told you I killed him with other men's bullets? Who told you I wasn't right on the job?"

Jack had been given his answer. He knew now that Tracy was one of the men who had hidden in the wagon stalls to ambush his father. He knew it, even tho the AC man tried to cover his admission with a belated denial. "I might have been there if I had been in town, which I wasn't."

BY MARY MEADE.

(Copyright: 1941: By The Chicago Tribune.)

Leeks resemble huge green onions and belong to the onion family, altho they have a much milder flavor than many of their sisters, cousins and aunts. They're delicious boiled and served with salt, pepper and butter, and they make wonderful soups.

Wash leeks well, for sometimes they harbor dirt which isn't apparent because it is held so snugly between some of the outer leaves. Trim the "whiskers" and part of the tops, but don't trim the tops ruthlessly, for they are flavorful, too.

"Vichysoisse" is the name of a famous cold leek soup. This is a hot one, easy to make, nourishing, and exceedingly good.

Hot Leek Soup.
[Serves four].
1 bunch leeks
3 tablespoons butter
2 cups water
1 bouillon cube
2 cups milk
3 tablespoons flour
Salt, pepper

Wash leeks and slice, including most of the tops. Sauté in the butter until yellow. Add water and bouillon cube, cover, and simmer until tender. Make smooth paste of flour and a little cold milk, and add with remaining milk to soup. Simmer and stir until soup thickens. Add salt and pepper to taste, bring to the boiling point, and serve.

Applesauce Cake.
[Eight inch square pan].
½ cup butter, margarine or other fat
1 cup sugar
1 cup cold, thick, unsweetened applesauce
2 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon nutmeg
¾ teaspoon cloves
1 cup raisins and nuts [one or both]

Cream butter and sugar together thoroly. Add applesauce. Sift flour with leavenings and spices, and add. Add raisins and nuts. Mix well, spread in greased and floured pan, and bake at 350 degrees for 40 minutes, or until done. Ice with plain confectioner's sugar frosting.

Swiss Steak.
[Serves four].
1½ pounds beef steak, cut thick
¼ cup flour
3 tablespoons lard or bacon fat
Salt, pepper
Water, tomatoes, tomato juice or sour cream

Pound the flour into the meat and brown on both sides in hot fat, in one piece or cut into portions. Sprinkle liberally with salt and pepper. Reduce heat and add about ¼ cup water or one of the other suggested liquids. Cover closely and let meat cook gently about 2 hours, or until very tender. Add more liquid as it cooks off, in fourth-cup amounts. Serve gravy left in skillet over the meat on a platter.

Gingersnap Crust on Pumpkin Pie

Pumpkin chiffon pie in a gingersnap crust is a tempting flavor combination. To make the crust mix 1¼ cups gingersnap crumbs with ⅓ cup butter and back into sides and bottom of pie pan. For the filling combine 1¼ cups pumpkin with 1 cup brown sugar, 3 egg yolks, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon ginger, ¼ teaspoon allspice, and 2 teaspoons cinnamon and cook in double boiler until custardy. Then remove from heat and add 1 tablespoon gelatin dissolved in ¼ cup cold water. Cool and fold in 3 egg whites beaten until stiff with 2 tablespoons sugar. Turn into crumb lined pie pan and chill until firm. Top with whipped cream and sprinkle with additional gingersnap crumbs.

TOSSED GREEN SALAD IS GOOD AT ANY TIME AND EASILY PREPARED

One of the best possible salads to serve on any occasion is a big bowlful of crisp greens tossed in oil and vinegar. For the greens at this time of year you may select from, chicory, head lettuce, broken into smallish pieces, watercress, and tender spinach and dandelion leaves. All of these are available — use whichever ones you prefer. This is the way to make the salad. It takes only a few minutes and can be tossed up and served at the table while your husband's busy with the carving knife.

Tossed Green Salad.
[Serves six.]
4 or 5 cups loosely packed greens
3 or 4 tablespoons olive or other salad oil
1½ tablespoons vinegar
1 chopped clove garlic or few drops juice
¾ teaspoon salt
Sprinkling black pepper

Wash the greens thoroly and drain well, wrap in damp cloth and place in refrigerator to crisp. When ready to serve, place greens in large salad bowl and sprinkle with oil. Toss lightly until leaves are well coated, adding more oil if necessary. Add chopped garlic, salt, and peper to vinegar and stir with salad fork until flavors are well blended and salt is dissolved. Sprinkle over greens and toss until well mixed. Taste and add more vinegar, if needed. Thin slices of cucumber, wedges of tomato, sliced radishes, shredded red cabbage or thin strips of carrot may be added to the bowl, if liked.

TRY THESE TASTY CORN CAKES WITH THE LACEY EDGES

Serve these corn cakes with the breakfast eggs and bacon, with your next ham dinner, or with a vegetable plate lunch. They're always delicious. The name comes from the crispy, thin edges of the cakes.

Lace Edged Corn Cakes.
2 eggs
2 cups milk
1 cup corn meal
¾ teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons melted margarine

Beat eggs well; and milk and beat with rotary egg beater; add corn meal which has been mixed with the salt; then add margarine. Stir well and drop by spoonfuls onto hot well-greased griddle. Stir each time before dropping onto griddle. Serve three or four cakes to a person.

ONIONS ALWAYS GOOD VEGETABLE FOR YOUR DINNER

Onions are inexpensive and are always a good vegetable to serve at dinner time. Try them stuffed with a green vegetable next time you have a roast pork dinner. Glazed onions make a pretty and edible garnish for the meat platter.

Stuffed Onions.

Cook medium sized onions in boiling salted water for 15 minutes. Drain and remove centers with a small sharp knife, being careful not to cut thru base or sides of onions. Leave a shell about ⅜ inch thick. Fill with peas or beans which have been cooked until almost tender. Top with buttered crumbs and a little grated cheese if liked. Set in pan with water to cover bottom and bake in a moderate [350 degrees] oven for 10 or 15 minutes or until crumbs are browned. Serve immediately.

For another variation on the traditional theme serve glazed onions. Here's the recipe:

Glazed Onions.
[Serves four.]
2 cups cooked sliced onions or whole small ones
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons sugar
1 tablespoon water drained from onions

The onions should just be cooked uncovered in boiling salted water until tender. Drain and reheat slowly in mixture of butter, sugar, and water until glazed.

GRAPEFRUIT TANG IS APPRECIATED WITH ANY MEAL

Pick Those Which Are Heavy for Their Size.

Tangy, golden skinned grapefruit adds flavor to any meal, whether it's served in halves for breakfast or combined with other fruits in a cocktail or salad.

This citrus fruit, rich in vitamin C, is available the year around. The greater part of our supply comes from Florida, California, and Texas, where the fruit is most plentiful between the months of October and June.

When buying grapefruit, choose those that are heavy for their size, since the lighter fruit is likely to be dry and pithy. The skin should be thin and smooth textured. When flecked with green spots the fruit is immature and usually will taste quite tart, or even bitter. When you're looking for color, pick the pink-fleshed variety grown in Texas. They're less acid than the varieties found in other sections of the country, and are especially desirable for fruit compotes and luncheon salads, where color is an important item. Don't turn up your nose at slight scars, scratches or rusty discolorations on the grapefruit skin, for the quality of the fruit is rarely affected by these blemishes. Thick skinned, spongy grapefruit may taste all right, but there's little juice to be squeezed from them.

Not Necessary to Remove Core.

To halve grapefruit, cut crosswise with a sharp knife and cut inside each dividing membrane to free the segments. It isn't necessary to remove the core unless a filling or garnish is used in the center of the cavity. A maraschino cherry or sprig of mint makes an attractive garnish for the chilled fruit, or if you prefer to serve the grapefruit halves hot, sprinkle with a bit of brown sugar, honey or maple sirup and heat under a moderate broiler for about 15 minutes.

To prepare grapefruit segments, cut a thick layer off the top and bottom of the fruit, then cut around it deep enough to remove all of the white membrane. Cut on either side of the dividing membranes and remove the meat, piece by piece.

Even the grapefruit peel is worth some attention, for it can easily be candied and preserved in a tightly covered container until ready to use.

Perhaps one of the following recipes will inspire you to serve this nutritious fruit more frequently.

Baked Sweet Potato with Grapefruit.
[Serves six.]
3 cups mashed cooked sweet potatoes
2 tablespoons granulated sugar
½ cup hot milk
1 egg, well beaten
1 teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons melted butter
Segments from 1 large grapefruit
¼ cup brown sugar.

Combine mashed potatoes with granulated sugar and gradually add the hot milk, mixing well. Add beaten egg, salt, and melted butter and blend. Place mixture in greased baking dish and top with grapefruit segments. Sprinkle with brown sugar and bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees, about 30 minutes.

Grapefruit Fritters.
[Serves six.]
¾ cup milk
1 egg yolk, well beaten
1 cup flour, sifted
1 tablespoon sugar
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
1 egg white, stiffly beaten
2 whole grapefruit, cut into segments.

Combine milk and beaten egg yolk. Add dry ingredients which have been sifted together, mixing well. Fold in stiffly beaten egg white. Drain grapefruit segments well, dip in flour, and then into the batter. Fry in deep hot fat until golden brown. Serve with confectioners' sugar as dessert, or as accompaniment to the meat dish.

Thrifty Round Bone Pot Roast

Boneless Chuck Pot Roast—boned and rolled by your meat-man. A handsome roast—easily carved.

When you have a cut of meat boned, remember you can use the bones for delicious soup.

Thrifty Blade Bone Pot Roast

There are so many different cuts of beef that can be deliciously pot-roasted (or braised). Three of them are shown here. You needn't always use the same cuts. Ask your meat-man to show you the variety of thrifty pot roasts he has and give your family a change.

Try it this way—Rub 4-lb. roast with bruised clove of garlic. Season with 3 tsp. salt and ¼ tsp. pepper. Brown meat on all sides in hot lard melted in heavy kettle (with tight fitting cover). Add 1 cup hot water, ¼ tsp. Worcestershire sauce and ¼ cup chili sauce. Cover; simmer gently until meat is done, about 3½ hours. Turn occasionally. Add more water if necessary, a little at a time. Thicken liquid for gravy. Serve with buttered noodles, green beans and garden salad.

Naturalness Wins Honors in Charm for Teen Age Girls

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

[Copyright: 1941: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

Aren't you getting a little "fed up" with the "glamor girl" ideal? There's been talk lately about the "vitality girl." But there's one girl who tops them all. She's the "natural girl."

Youth does not need a lot of artificial beauty aids to charm. All youth needs is to be absolutely faultless about personal cleanliness and grooming of the nails, hair, and teeth. The kind of girl men admire is the girl who looks as fresh and sweet as a flower. It matters not if she has any great claim to prettiness. What does matter is that she give time each day to taking care of her natural loveliness.

Getting to bed at a reasonable time each night will prolong that naturalness. Not trying to be a "copy cat" of some older, more sophisticated woman will make her more appealing to all with whom she comes in contact. Being herself is the greatest asset she can cultivate. She need not drink or smoke in an effort to be gay and glamorous.

Some girls believe that they must "throw on the dog" and act in a conspicuous manner to be popular. Nothing is further from the truth. Going along with the crowd and being as inconspicuous as possible is the charming girl's attitude.

Two Kinds of Slippers

BY JEAN MACDONALD.

If it is difficult to decide whether to give knitted or crocheted bedroom slippers as a gift, compromise by creating two pairs. Crochet one for summer and knit the other pair for winter. The filet design is easy to execute and serves ideally for warm weather. The moss stitch and heavy wool used in knitting the sandals creates just the slipper for chilly days. The knitted slippers make an ideal gift for the man of the house.

Gay Boy Shy of Altar Is Best Ousted

BY DORIS BLAKE.

[Copyright: 1941: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

"I've been going with a man for two years. During this time he never has spoken of marriage to me, and I am beginning to wonder whether he has serious intentions. He makes no bones about the fact that he goes with other women. I like him very much, but don't want to go on indefinitely without knowing where I stand with him. He tells me all about his associations with women. Quite recently, he suggested that he have an affair with me. When I refused, he told me I was too old fashioned.

"Shall I continue to go with this man? If not, what should I say to him?" —READER.

We're not attempting to judge the man as to "good husband" qualifications. Many a man-about-town has married after he has sown his wild oats, and proved to be a faithful, devoted husband. But we will judge him as to his behavior while you are a friend to him.

Continue to be "old fashioned." Don't let him change you in that respect. Have a talk with him and find out how he feels toward you. Give him to understand that you will not give him your continued friendship if he is not interested in your seriously. That is the only way you will make him your man. If you let him have an affair with you, you might as well make up your mind that you will eventually be thrown over for some other woman.

If, after your talk with him, he goes blithely off on his merry way, forget him.

FASHIONS By ANGELA

If all the woolen dresses in the country were laid hem to shoulder. . . . We'd best let the statistics on wool consumption figure out how many times around the world such a ribbon could be wrapped.

It seems too much can't be said about wool this year. Skilful designers have adapted it to every daily wardrobe need—sports clothes, afternoon, business, even evening. When it goes dressy it glistens with studs, beads, jewels, and shiny braid in generous or limited amounts—tricks that in seasons past conservative critics would have considered inconsistent and inappropriate. Wedding dresses, too, are made of wool.

Diagonal tucks form a diamond pattern on the front of this purple wool. On the skirt the tucks continue around in the back, meeting eventually at the zipper. No other decoration is necessary unless it is a bit of costume jewelry at the throat. Comes also in aqua.

Wide vertical stripes weave up and down the front of the two piece dress on the center figure. A dark bronzey green is the foundation accented with stripes of red and natural. Or brown, with gold and aqua. Under $11.

And then fragile white for winter. The only color on this white wool jersey is a jewel studded belt. Simple but dressy. Under $15.

Front Views and Profiles

Gourmet.

The tiny 4 year old child, whose father admonished him as they entered a north side grocery store, "Now if you're not good, you can't have your red caviar."

Metropolitan Mosaic.

Mrs. Jack Norworth, the sparkling little wife of the veteran comedian who opened here last night in Village Green, is in town with her Siamese cat, Allofadither. "And he really is, too," she murmured. "Why, he even lost his kitten-for-Britain tag on the train." . . . The nearsighted hostess at a large tea who greeted her daughter with, "Ohhhh, how do you do?" . . . Kitty, the little Alsatian hat check and dice girl at a Walton place night club, who, when business is dull, climbs upon the high stool behind her 26 game, rings a noisy brass bell and cries, "Come on, you suckers!" . . . The cameo which Chicago artists have missed: the last light of day as it cleaves a path down the dark shaft of Adams street to the Art institute.

He Had a Telephone.

The housekeeper at the Hotel Knickerbocker sent an employé home the other day because he had a severe cold. The next morning he wobbled in, braced himself against her desk, and said hoarsely, "I just came to tell you I'm too sick to work today."

Maybe This Should Be on the Sports Page.

Two coaches sat down to a turkey yesterday. One cut off the wings and back and passed them to the other. "O," the recipient exclaimed, "a double wing back."

The Stone Age.

A brave, but guarded, letter from Lurçat, French abstract painter and designer of tapestry whose strange, desolate "Delphi" hangs in the Art institute, is going the rounds of his Chicago friends. It is a Tchekovian tale of scarcity in occupied France.

"Who would have thought," he wrote, "that one day the word, 'nourishing,' would move us? And yet it has. Do you want proof?

"Already I have dreamed twice that I was drinking oil seated at a table in a café. Six months ago we dreamed of coffee. We find ourselves gradually approaching the standard of living of the rabbit, cattle, dog period. From coffee we pass to grease, and from grease where will we pass? To a dream of a dry bone.

"But this is by no means a complaint. It is, at most, an ironic statement of facts. Man learns again the value of things of which he had lost the sense of value, the sense of taste, and the sense of the marvelous. Wheat, butter, tobacco, cloth, leather take on spectral divine qualities and become the salt of life, and work continues, and magazines of poetry are published, and one paints without cadmium, without chromium, without cobalt."

Generosity.

A Chicago buyer last week took bids on cotton goods from two New York manufacturers. One quoted a price of 11 cents a yard, the other of 7. The buyer, amazed at this discrepancy, said to the second, "What goes on?" "Aw," came the protest, "can't I be a good fellow when I can't deliver?"

Beets a la King Today's Winner of Recipe Prize

Beets à la king are very much like Harvard beets, but the cream used in the sauce is a variation. Mrs. C. O. Carleton, 4303 Wilcox street, Chicago, wins $5 for this recipe. Watch for other good recipes to follow from day to day. And send your own favorite to the Recipe Contest, CHICAGO TRIBUNE. It may win a prize for you!

Prize Recipe

BEETS A LA KING.

- 5 medium beets
- 1 tablespoon butter or other fat
- 1 tablespoon flour
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 1 cup cold water
- 3 tablespoons vinegar
- 3 tablespoons cream
- ⅛ teaspoon paprika
- ⅛ teaspoon pepper
- ½ teaspoon sugar.

Cook beets and cut into thin slices or any shape desired. Melt butter, add flour, salt and blend. Add cold water and stir until smooth. Add vinegar and remove from heat. Stir in cream, pepper, sugar, and paprika. Pour over beets and serve hot.

Contract According to Culbertson

[Copyright: 1941: By Ely Culbertson.]

LAST FRIDAY'S QUESTION.

Question 32: Rubber bridge; both sides vulnerable. The bidding proceeds:

| South | West | North | East |
|---|---|---|---|
| Pass | Pass | 1 diamond | Pass |
| ? | | | |

You are South and hold:

♠ K Q 8 5 4 ♥ 2 ♦ K 7 6 4 3 ♣ K 9

What call do you make?

Answer: Two spades. Considering you passed originally, and that partner's bid fits your hand so well, a mere one spade response, which is not even a force under the circumstances, is not strong enough. There certainly should be a game in the combined hands and perhaps there is a slam. [Ten points credit for 2 spades; 10 points demerit for 1 spade; 15 points demerit for 3 diamonds; 25 points demerit for two, four, or five diamonds; 40 points demerit for any other call.]

TODAY'S QUESTION.

Question 39: You are East, defending against a seven spade contract, the bidding having gone:

| North | East | South | West |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1 heart | Pass | 2 spades | Pass |
| 3 diamonds | Pass | 4 no trump | Pass |
| 5 no trump | Pass | 7 spades [final bid] | |

DUMMY
♠ 10 5 2
♥ A K 10 8
♦ A K J 5
♣ 6 3

WEST
♠ 8 7 3
♥ Q J 9 4
♦ Q 10 7 2
♣ 5 4

SOUTH

Declarer wins first trick with club ace, cashes club king, then ruffs a club with dummy's spade nine. What do you play on this third trick?

TODAY'S HAND.

South, dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.

NORTH
♠ Q J 10 9 5
♥ K 8 7 4 3 2
♦ A 9

WEST
♠ 6
♥ Q J 10
♦ K J 6 4
♣ Q 9 7 5 3

EAST
♠ 8 4
♥ NONE
♦ Q 10 7 5 3 2

SOUTH
♠ A K 7 3 2
♥ A 9 6 5
♦ 8
♣ K J 10

The bidding:

| South | West | North | East |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1 spade | Pass | 3 spades | Pass |
| 4 no trump | Pass | 5 diamonds | Pass |
| 5 hearts | Pass | 6 spades | Pass |
| Pass | Pass | | |

Since no more than a normal heart break was needed for 13 tricks, a grand slam would have been the correct contract. It was difficult to reach in the bidding, however, and since West had all three missing hearts, North-South should have been grateful for that difficulty. Due to declarer's play, however, the only thing saved by stopping at six was a measly 100 points.

West opened the sueen of hearts, not because he dreamed that his partner could ruff, but merely because it seemed as good as any opening lead. For reasons known only to himself, declarer played the king from dummy. East ruffed, and after that there was no earthly way for declarer to avoid the loss of a heart trick.

The declarer in this particular hand was by no means a novice. It is incredible that he should have failed to realize that, by ducking the opening lead in dummy and thereby seeing whether or not East would follow suit, he could insure his contract.

Tomorrow's Hand

Cecil Barnes Jr. Is Betrothed to Loretto Van Rie

BY JUDITH CASS.

MR. AND MRS. CECIL BARNES did not have Thanksgiving dinner at home but the party they attended was a family one just the same, for at it formal announcement was made of the engagement of their eldest son, Cecil Jr. His fiancée is Miss Loretto Van Rie, and her father, Dr. Leo Paul Van Rie, made the announcement at their home in Mishawaka, Ind. Mr. and Mrs. Barnes and Mr. Barnes Jr. drove there yesterday for the dinner party. Young Mr. Barnes had arrived in Chicago by train in the morning from Warrenton, Va., where he is teaching in the Stuyvesant school.

Mrs. John de Koven Will Give Dinner for Couple.

Miss Van Rie accompanied the Barnes trio back to Chicago and will spend the week-end here with her fiancé and his parents. Mrs. John de Koven, mother of Mr. Barnes Sr., will give a dinner party for her grandson and his bride-to-be tomorrow night at her home in North Dearborn street. Mrs. de Koven and the Barneses are about the only ones in social circles who still retain their old houses in the 1100 block in Dearborn.

Miss Van Rie and Mr. Barnes met several years ago when she was doing graduate work at the University of Chicago and living at International House. Mr. Barnes prepared for Harvard at the Fountain Valley school and was graduated from Harvard five or six years ago. Neither of his brothers, Edward or Benjamin Ayer, was able to be in Mishawaka yesterday, for Edward is working for the government in Washington, D. C., and Benjamin is attending medical school at Columbia university in New York. No date is set for the wedding.

Parents of Barbara Burch Announce Her Engagement.

At an open house yesterday in their home in Winnetka, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton B. Burch announced the engagement of their daughter, Barbara, to James Ellwood Jones Jr. of Washington, D. C. Mr. Jones came from the east to spend Thanksgiving and the coming week-end with his fiancée and her family.

Miss Burch made her debut during the Christmas holidays last year at a tea in the Indian Hill club. She attended Pine Manor and this year is at home studying art. Mr. Jones, son of Dr. and Mrs. J. Breckenridge Bayne, attended the University of Arizona and Babson institute.

Mrs. Edwin P. Dewes will give a small dinner-dance this evening at the Casino for two debutantes, Miss Lana Jelke of Lake Forest and Miss Helen Stewart Brauns of Baltimore, Md. Miss Brauns, Mrs. Dewes' niece, is her guest over the week-end. She will return to her classes at Bennington on Sunday. Miss Jelke's father, John F. Jelke, is a cousin of Mrs. Dewes.

Emerson House Board Aids Will Serve at Benefit Sale.

The young women who serve on the Emerson House board are going to be busier than usual during this pre-Christmas season, for they all are going to serve as saleswomen in the Collector's Corner shop which the board is sponsoring from Monday thru Dec. 31. The shop is to be on the corner of North Michigan and Delaware place and is a branch of a downtown store. Antiques and small inexpensive gifts will be featured. Mrs. Gardner Brown is president of Emerson House, Mrs. Homer Hargrave vice president, and Mrs. Loring Rowe, second vice president. Mrs. Press Hodgkins is treasurer,

BY CECIL SMITH.

Apart from Jack Norworth's mild and friendly impersonation of a Democratic senatorial candidate in traditionally Republican Vermont, "Village Green" is somewhat less rewarding than a quiet evening at home.

Carl Allensworth's fable of New England politics and folkways is a trite and flimsy patchwork, a compound of overworked plot contrivances and historically familiar repartee, written and acted in the style which brought the family trade to the Cort theater a generation ago. The family trade has now transferred its affection to the neighborhood movie house, and it is hard to imagine just who is likely to become exercised over a nude mural in the Rutlidge Center town hall, and whether Judge Peabody's daughter really did pose for it.

Mr. Norworth, who once was the husband and co-star of Nora Bayes, has a gentle and winning way about him. Unfortunately there is neither any electric charge nor any dash of spice about the character with which the script provides him. Accordingly he walks calmly thru the evening, retaining his New England uprightness in spite of many adversities and political temptations, and he ultimately succeeds in demonstrating that even a Vermont village can be taught to tolerate free opinion and to develop a little of the spirit of neighborliness.

With so bland and essentially monotonous a central figure, "Village Green" might have been brightened by a few deftly drawn characters in the surrounding parts. As things stand, only bromidic hokum can possibly result from the interplay of such straw-filled caricatures as an intolerant and hypocritical small town minister, a harsh shrew on the lookout for something to reform, a relentless big business man with a gift for blackmail and other illicit pressure techniques, and a knowing judge's wife who keeps her husband's morals neater than his clothes.

Competent acting is provided by Jeanne Dixon as the judge's wife and Jean Arden Cobb as the shrew named Harmony. Some of the other individual efforts are passable, others are rather on the corny side.

For their first adventure in local producing, Lee Sloan and Clyde Elliott have obviously behaved in good faith, even to the point of obtaining the original New York stage setting. Perhaps fate will be kinder to them when they choose their next play.

White Collar GIRL

BY RUTH MACKAY.

Collecting as Hobby.

Not many persons know that the "hello girls" are enthusiastic collectors. Possibly their work, dealing entirely with the human voice, develops a longing for silent, inanimate things. . . . Whatever the reason, the telephone girls collect everything from prehistoric skulls to wishbones. Their collections include dolls, buttons, bracelets, stamps, glassware, coins, dogs, everything you can imagine.

One Chicago telephone operator collects teapots and has a fascinating "what-not" with teapots of every form and size, of unusual design, some in the shape of animals, and one dating back to the days before the Civil war.

Another telephone girl—a supervisor—collects tiny musical instruments . . . miniature orchestras . . . incredibly small pianos which actually play. . . . Another collects vases from all over the world and numbers among them a vase which survived the Chicago fire. Still another has a delightful china cabinet, its shelves filled with after dinner coffee cups of interesting pattern.

Just to show what the telephone girls do when not answering your calls: The long distance operator who collects prehistoric skulls took time off from her hobby to learn to fly a plane.

Transportation Costs.

The cost of "getting around" takes quite a nick out of the business girl's salary. The live-aloner spends about $8 a month for transportation. . . . The average married couple, on a $200 a month income, living in a city and not owning an automobile, spends $20 a month for transportation [bus, street car, or elevated fare to and from work, transportation for recreation and vacation journeys]. . . . The minimum cost of operating a car, counting lowest possible insurance, taxes, depreciation, gasoline for 10,000 miles a year, oil, tires, and repairs amounts to $274 a year, or $22.83 a month.

Troublesome Types.

In the opinion of a personnel director of a large company there are three types of troublesome feminino employés:

Those who are so thin skinned that any criticism reduces them to tears.

Those who pit one employé against another, not giving the newcomer a chance to form her own judgment of her associates.

Those who have been with a firm so long they "rule the roost."

On Going to Sleep.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS:

"In the absence of a satin quilted back rest for reading in bed, we learned in our Red Cross class that a small chair, tilted, or a suitcase can be made to serve the purpose."
—Maurine A.

"On the subject of getting to sleep after a particularly strenuous day without counting sheep, I find any poem which brings a peaceful image to the mind does the trick."
—J. L.

What more peaceful image than Shelley's lines:

My soul is an enchanted boat
Which like a sleeping swan doth float
Upon the silver waves. . . .

Come! Come! It's not evening time . . . and there's work to be done.

There's Shine and Sparkle to Evening Shoes

BY REA SEEGER.

The world's at your feet when you make your shopping decisions about properly festive evening slippers. Every imaginable fabric, leather, color, and combination is available. Velvet, brocade, even lace; horsehair braid, satin, ribbon, supple kidskins in gold, silver, copper and trick color jobs in leather all combine to make the current evening collections the last word in lavish splendor.

From the sleek black satins and crêpes glinting with jet, sequins, silver or gold kidskins to the medieval splendor of scarlet velvet with embroidered bead work, anything and everything you ever dreamed is yours for the money.

There are slender high heeled slippers with the minimum of narrow straps forming the instep and toe decorative motifs. There are thick wedge soles covered with beautifully appliqued brocades and fine leathers. There are delicate flowered satins and silks with true French floral patterns in pastels. The horsehair affairs are Cinderella slippers with thin soles and uppers of this twisted, filmy looking but sturdy wearing horsehair in transparent white or high colors and black.

Daring contrast of colors in soft satin are worked in sometimes as many as six shades, making the ideal all-purpose slipper for any evening wardrobe. White satins with silver beadwork, or with gold embroidery, as well as the all whites, ready for expert dye stunts to match a wanted shade of a pet gown, are plentiful in both low heel sandals and the high heeled dancing slippers.

Exotic creations for dinner clothes are especially beautiful for nothing has been overlooked to make these sophisticated accents for super-sophisticated costumes. Some of them rival a jewel casket for color and variety and richness of simulated jeweled designs.

On the House

A modern idea for waste paper containers is to paint the lower half of them a different color from the upper half. . . So if you happen to find some rather worse-for-the-wear paper containers around the house, whether of cardboard, metal or wood, give them a new appearance by a coat of colorful enamel. . . The lower half can be brown, the upper tan, or dark green and light green, or light blue and lavender. . . And inside they can be painted any shade you like—as long as it is a color on friendly terms with the outside of the container.

Official of Red Cross Will Address Society for Hard of Hearing

"The Red Cross in National Defense" will be the topic of a talk by Philip W. Dodd, director of public information of the American Red Cross, at 8 o'clock this evening in the rooms of the Chicago Society for the Hard of Hearing, 410 South Michigan avenue. Three motion pictures illustrating the work of the Red Cross will be shown. Sunday afternoon Miss Dorothy Posey will give a dramatic review of "The Keys of the Kingdom" at a tea at the society's rooms. All deafened persons are invited to hear these programs by means of the society's group hearing device.

Reveal Membership of New Medinah Club Board of Governors

Announcement of the membership of the new board of governors of the Medinah Club of Chicago was made yesterday by E. O. Howle, newly elected president of the club. The new board consists of John L. Banner, Charles Bear, John W. Buggie, James C. Downs Jr., J. J. Finnegan, J. B. Mulligan, Walter W. Pearson, Charles C. Peck, Irwin W. Preetorius, John J. Ryan, Russell H. Sherwood, Arthur H. Shroeder, Frank O. Show, Charles C. Smith, Robert F. Smith, L. A. Williamson, and Alex B. Wilson. The club is housed in the former Chicago Towers club building at 505 North Michigan avenue. The new name resulted from a reorganization of the Chicago Towers club.

Comfortable, Simple Dress

MISS' JUMPER DRESS.

Simple is the word for this comfortable dress, and its very plainness makes it ideal for plaids and other attractive fabrics and for all kinds of workaday occasions.

Style No. 3284 is designed for sizes 10, 12, 14, 16, 18, and 20. Size 16 requires 2¾ yards of 39 inch material for jumper; 2 yards of 39 inch for long-sleeved blouse; 1⅝ yards for short-sleeved blouse.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central annex, NEW YORK CITY, including 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred—wrap it carefully) for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT! Be sure to state clearly the number of the pattern and the size desired and write your name and address plainly. The fall and winter pattern book costs 15 cents. 10 cents if ordered with a pattern.

GASOLINE ALLEY—THE PUMP IS WORKING

THIS IS A REPORT MR. BEVEL WANTED ME TO DELIVER TO YOU PERSONALLY, MR. CHIGGER.
OH, YES, SKEEZIX, SIT DOWN. HOW ARE YOU GETTING ON OVER AT THE PLANT?
ALL RIGHT, AS FAR AS I KNOW.
TELL ME, WHAT OUTSIDE VISITORS DOES BEVEL HAVE THERE?
NONE AT ALL THAT I'VE SEEN, MR. CHIGGER.
IS HE PARTICULARLY CHUMMY WITH ANY OF THE EMPLOYEES? WHO ARE HIS SPECIAL FAVORITES?
THIS IS JUST PERSONAL INTEREST, YOU UNDERSTAND. YOU DON'T NEED TO MENTION IT TO MR. BEVEL.
I UNDERSTAND, MR. CHIGGER.

After 6 Years, Jerry Gets His Movie Break

Looking at HOLLYWOOD By John Chapman

Hollywood, Cal., Nov. 20.—Success story: Six years ago Jerry Hausner, then 27, a short, black-haired vaudeville actor, came to Hollywood to get in the movies. Nobody would hire him. Not even an agent would take him, because all an agent wants is a leading man and short guys don't make leading men.

William Dieterle.

Jerry thought he'd go in some of the little theaters roundabout, but he discovered that, instead of them paying him, he was supposed to pay them. So he went into radio and did right well; married and bought a house. . . . He played on lots of air shows—Silver Theater, Big Town, Screen Guild, Burns and Allen, Flagg and Quirt, and many more. His one nonradio acting venture was in the Los Angeles production of "Of Mice and Men," in which he played the louse who got his hand crushed. But always he hoped for a movie break.

The girl he married is Lum and Abner's secretary, and he got to know L. and A. Recently this pair made a deal to star in an RKO film and they promised Jerry a part. So he was not surprised when the RKO casting department called him in for an interview.

The casting department took his name and age and height and weight, then led him to a stage where a great big guy silently walked around and around him, looking. Next they took him to wardrobe for a dinner jacket.

"Better not use your own," he was told. "It might get torn in the fight."

"What fight?" asked Hausner.

"The one in the Dieterle picture."

"But I'm for the Lum and Abner picture, and who is Dieterle?"

"You're in the Dieterle picture, 'Syncopation,'" and the big fellow was Dieterle. This information put Jerry in a daze he's just fighting out of. He had no agent, he wasn't listed anywhere, hadn't been around a studio for years—yet here he was, down on the books for $100 a day as a screen actor. And somebody was painting a scar on his eye.

Well, William Dieterle had remembered Jerry's "Mice and Men" job for nearly three years and when he wanted a small gangster he thought of Hausner but couldn't recall his name. The casting office did a detective job identifying and locating him.

After six years, Jerry Hausner has got a break that he wasn't looking for. Everybody says he makes a swell baby-faced mobster.

"I have a sneering voice," he says, shamefacedly. "I dunno why. But my wife thinks I'm sore at her if I say, 'Honey, will you close the window?' She says it isn't what I say, it's the way I say it." [Mrs. H. is just like any other wife, huh?]

P. S. The Lum and Abner show got going this week. Jerry is too busy to be in it.

William Saroyan has shipped a new play to the Theater guild. . . . Good news, that Irving Berlin plans a new Music Box revue for New York. . . . If Gary Cooper plays Lou Gehrig, he'll have to train for weeks. A guy can't learn to throw lefthanded overnight. Goldwyn expects to make tests of him soon, to find out if he looks like a ball player.

Norwegian Minister Coming to Chicago for Benefit Concert

Wilhelm Morgenstierne, royal Norwegian minister to the United States, will arrive in Chicago this morning by plane to attend a concert which Storm Bull will give this evening in Orchestra hall for the benefit of Norwegian relief. Mr. Morgenstierne will address the audience during the intermission. Recently he arrived in this country by Clipper ship following several weeks' conference with his government in London.

Ignore Those 'Bad Words' a Child Adopts

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.
[Copyright: 1941: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

The first thing to remember when your small son brings home a "bad" word, is that it isn't bad to his way of thinking. Frequently he hasn't the faintest idea of its meaning. It's simply a new word, or a dashing word, or an exciting-sounding word, perhaps used by an older child whom he admires and likes to emulate.

Don't look shocked and think something "must be done about it" immediately. On the contrary, if you watch your facial expressions and ignore the fact that he's said anything out of the way, he'll probably forget all about the so-called "bad" words or phrases within a day or two.

If you punish him and do a great deal of talking, you only impress the words upon his mind and exaggerate and set them up as something important.

If these words happen to have a sex connotation, don't brand them as shameful, but you can explain that those are not the words to use, and take the necessary time to explain quietly the correct names for the various parts of the body, in this way setting your child straight on the subject.

What causes tantrums? How may a child be encouraged to be neat? What two things help the nervous child? For advice on these and other related topics read "You and Your Young Child," Mrs. Gladys Bevans' latest booklet, on sale at the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 S. Dearborn street and Tribune Tower. Price, 15 cents; postpaid 18 cents.

Mrs. Albert deWolf Erskine Jr. will be in the shop all day, every day, and three others of the board will assist every day. Tea will be served each afternoon. Mrs. James Ward Thorne, who will arrange the window displays twice each week, will pour on the opening day.

Mrs. Thorne Preparing a Regency Doll House.

Mrs. Thorne also is fixing up a Regency doll house, which she says is the last work of the sort she plans to do, to be sold in the shop. Mrs. Hargrave, who as Colleen Moore is the owner of the famous doll house that has been displayed all over the country for the benefit of crippled children, also is "doing" a doll house to be in the shop's stock.

Other board members who have volunteered to work in the shop on regular days are Mrs. Edwin W. Winter II., whose mother, Mrs. Philip Elting, was one of the founders of the settlement; Mrs. James R. Addington, Mrs. John D. Ames, Mrs. Richard Juergens, Mrs. John R. Hurley, Miss Adrienne Ely, Mrs. Robert Critchell, Mrs. George W. Dixon Jr., Mrs. Calvin Fentress Jr., Mrs. Charles Y. Freeman Jr., Mrs. William M. Collins Jr., Mrs. James Getz, Mrs. Henry McIntyre, Mrs. Paul Oliver, Mrs. Edward V. Platt, Mrs. Morrison Waud, Mrs. Robert T. Wheeler, Mrs. Gerald Smith, Mrs. Louis C. Sudler, Mrs. Stuyvesant Peabody Jr., Mrs. Conway Olmsted, and Miss Virginia Waller.

Large Crowd Is Expected at Cenacle Convent Party.

The annual Cenacle Covent card party is expected to draw between 1,500 and 2,000 guests to the grand ballroom of the Stevens hotel tomorrow afternoon. Mrs. Hempstead Washburne heads the benefit committee. Working with her have been Mrs. Henry C. Murphy, Miss Margaret Moran, Mrs. James Delaney, Mrs. Edward H. Ball III., Mrs. George McLaughlin, Miss Ursala Murphy, Mrs. Bolton Sullivan, and Mrs. Leslie Cooke. Mrs. Gerald V. Hollins has supervised the choice of prizes and Mrs. Harry L. Drake serves as floor chairman.

"Sun and Snow Fashions" is the title of a fashion show to be given at Camellia house on Monday, Dec. 1, for the benefit of the British-American ambulance corps. Mrs. Elisha Dyer Hubbard [Muriel McCormick] will be the "Lady of the Camellias" [albeit an absent one] because of her efforts in the national fund raising campaign the corps has carried on. Mrs. Walter P. Deems of New York, national vice president, is coming west for the tea, but Mrs. Hubbard will not be here.

Mrs. Charles Edward Allen, who recently moved to Evanston from London, will be hostess at the party.

Chicagoans won't be surprised when they open their mail this morning to find that the invitations they have received from the woman's board of Travelers' Aid are unusually attractive, for in the two years that they have given a ball the enterprising young workers have won a reputation for ingenuity. This year the invitations to their third annual ball, set for Dec. 6 at the Arts club, have been designed by Mrs. Paul Butler. Under her direction gray and pink cards printed in quaint old lettering have been tied together with white satin ribbons and little white candles, a symbol of the ball's name—the Candlelight ball.

Tickets to the ball are being sold at the board's benefit at 900 North Michigan avenue, where Mrs. Henry Sincere is in charge.

Habit of Oiling Hands at Night Is a Good One

Thru the LOOKING GLASS
ELEANOR NANGLE

The more we see of hand skin troubles the more we're sold on the habit of oiling the hands well at night and sleeping with some sort of comfortable mitt on that permits the skin to lap up all the lubrication it will take.

Hand creams and lotions to be used after each hand washing are helpful, no doubt about that. But for the woman who does housework, whose hands become absolutely parched and torn because of exposure to hot water, cold wind, and plenty of dust, we don't think there is any treatment that equals a leisurely massage with a greasy cream the last thing at night.

In a pinch, any rich cream will do. Work it in generously, giving special care to the area around the nails and across the knuckles. Stroke up toward the wrist. Mixing a little warm oil with the heavy cream means that you get even more lubrication.

Many women find gloves uncomfortable. There are mitts that leave the fingers nicely free. In flannel these are quite inexpensive; if you want something a little more swish there are silk ones, flannel lined, in peach color, that aren't at all hard on the eyes.

One overnight treatment accomplishes wonders, we have found. Supplement an occasional thoro oiling like this with the consistent daily use of a rather quick drying cream or lotion and you won't have chapped hands this winter.

The Housewife

The makers of an old, tried and true furniture polish also make a household insecticide which has the clean, pleasant odor of cedar and which will get rid of a lot of small pests such as ants, waterbugs, and roaches. Also, it will destroy mustiness and odors in rooms that have been closed, in closets, etc. If used regularly its makers assert it will keep moths away. Full directions for the use of this spray are in printed form and come with each can. The liquid is put up in pints, quarts, and gallons.

EDITH WEIGLE.

Honored at Bryn Mawr.

From the Bryn Mawr campus at Bryn Mawr, Mass., comes word that Miss Harriet Dexter Case, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gaylord J. Case of Wilmette, has been elected secretary of the junior class.

Numerology By Evelyn Holmes

Nov. 21, 1941.

Universal day—Keep an even tempo. Haste makes confusion today.

December—Those in a one year this year have probably felt the increased tempo already, but now should feel it even more so; and it will be hard to concentrate on the more routine matters which come up this month. Get your work done early in the month because you are going to feel more like playing around the holidays and you should have everything set by then. Get your money matters into a sound basis. The urge to spend may get stronger as you start into your two year, but next year as a whole is not one in which you should spend, but should save, so curb those extravagant impulses. You should put whatever project you began this year on a practical ground plan. Bring it down out of the realm of dreams to a practical realization.

Bela Bartok's Music Easier on 2d Hearing

BY EDWARD BARRY.

The Hungarian composer, Béla Bartók—slight, earnest looking, white haired—appeared with the Chicago Symphony at Orchestra hall last night as piano soloist in his own Second Concerto. Frederick Stock conducted.

This is the concerto which was first played here three seasons ago by Storm Bull [who, by coincidence, is giving a benefit recital for Norwegian relief at Orchestra hall tonight].

Possibly because Chicago had heard the work before, but more probably because regular concertgoers have become increasingly familiar with the general idioms of modern music, the concerto as played last night was neither incomprehensible nor even especially difficult.

We were impressed by the concerto's enormous rhythmic vigor, the consummate skill with which the composer handles its shifting harmonic background, the challenging way in which dynamic extremes are used, and the frequent emergence of perfectly clear and meaningful melodies.

Mr. Bartók softened some of the concerto's severity and played down its extreme percussiveness. Much of the performance was sensuously beautiful, even according to pre-twentieth century ideas as to what constitutes sensuous beauty.

The purely orchestral portions of the program consisted of the Dvorak overture, "In der Natur," Beethoven's Sixth ["Pastoral"] symphony, and four of the Brahms Hungarian dances [Nos. 17-21].

The "Pastoral" symphony is one of the least pretentious and consistently good natured of major works. It has flashes of genuine musical humor; it contains many of Beethoven's most delightful melodies. Sometimes—as when the simple horn call, based on the common chord, is transmuted into the soaring main theme of the final movement—it achieves actual sublimity.

Last night's performance was quiet and workmanlike, but glorified again and again by a particularly exquisite handling of a countermelody or by a more than usually pure tone coloring.

HAWKS DEFEAT BRUINS, 3-2; STILL UNBEATEN

N. U. PROBLEM: HOW TO TRUMP ZUPPKE TRICKS

Illini Should Be 'Up' for Bob's Exit.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Northwestern's Wildcats, who are as expert at fearing as at losing one point decisions, are constructing a one hundred per cent new mental terror as part of their preparation for tomorrow's combat with Illinois in their 1941 season gridiron final.

What's worrying them is the little guy in the perpetually slouched hat and the perpetually turned up overcoat collar. The little guy won't throw any passes. He won't even touch the ball. He'll just sit on the sidelines, directing the last act of his 29 year Orange and Blue football show.

The little guy, of course, is Coach Bob Zuppke, and the Wildcats are fearful that the Illini actors may rise up mightily in hopes of sending him on his way with a performance reminiscent of palmier days.

Wildcats Should Win.

On paper, the Wildcats should have nothing disturbing on their minds. They have three Big Nine victories under their belts. They lost to Michigan, Minnesota and Notre Dame, but by the slim margin of one point in two cases and one touchdown in the other. The Illini have only defeats to show for their conference efforts. But, there is reason to believe the Illini will go all out in behalf of their departing teacher. Zup might even spring some new trick, just to prove again that football is only in its infancy.

Even if the boys can't come thru with the present they want to give the little guy in the slouch hat, he may not spend an unpleasant afternoon. He can go back into the head under the slouch hat and find a store of rare memories. That, naturally, would be easy for a man, who, in company with Harold [Red] Grange, had carried football to its heights. All that Zup has to do tomorrow, if his swan song appears to be failing, is to imagine he's sitting in on one of his memorable battles.

Remember 1924, Michigan?

The little guy would find it easy to see No. 77 flitting like a ghost thru the Michigan team in 1924. The famous Redhead scored five touchdowns that afternoon. He could recall the day the Redhead went onto Franklin field and ran the breath out of Pennsylvania. He could amuse himself by recalling how Penn came west with its so-called hidden ball attire and how easily Illinois found the ball.

Twenty of the Wildcats will be stepping out of college circles tomorrow and this may induce at least some of them to rear up and stage the concluding party according to their own plans. Nine of the prospective graduates are back field men, a matter which a year hence may be the cause of groans from Coach Lynn Waldorf's quarters. An all-senior back field will be started tomorrow and there will be four of them in the line if Leon Cook, fully recovered from hurts received in the Indiana battle, is assigned to right tackle.

Northwestern to Honor Zuppke.

Just before the kickoff Northwestern will present Zuppke a silver plaque in recognition of his long service and brilliant contributions to football. The presentation will be made by K. L. Wilson, director of athletics, who played under Zuppke at Illinois in 1919. Burt Ingwersen, the Wildcats' line coach, a member of the championship eleven of 1919, also will take part in the ceremony.

A new football trophy will take its place alongside the famed little brown jug of the Minnesota-Michigan rivalry and the old oaken bucket, battled for each year by Purdue and Indiana, when Saturday's game is over. The Wildcats and the Illini will be battling for a 100 year old fire bell taken from the loft of a fire station in Oshkosh, Wis. R. J. Erdlitz, father of Dick Erdlitz, Northwestern's senior quarter back, will present the trophy to Wilson and Doug Mills, Illinois director of athletics, at a joint alumni luncheon of the two schools in the Bismarck hotel at noon today.

ILLINI LEAVE TODAY.

Champaign, Ill., Nov. 20 [Special].—Bob Zuppke will put an Illinois football team thru a practice in Memorial stadium for the last time tomorrow morning. The Illini will entrain at 1 o'clock for Chicago and will stay in a north side hotel until time to meet Northwestern Saturday.

Dick Good, Zuppke announced, will start at quarter back and will be acting captain.

The starting lineup probably will be:

Others players selected for the trip:

Ends—Isaiah Owens, Bob Gibbs, Gordon McKenzie, Ronnie Viehman. Tackles—Elmer Engel, Dominic Mattiazza, Marvin Gordon, Roy Hoppe, John Genis. Guards—Joe Pawlewski, Andy Bacevich, Cliff Niedzielski. Centers—Bob Cherry, John Cipriano, John MacArthur. Quarter backs—Liz Astroth, Daryl Robb. Half backs—Don Griffin, Dick Tumilty, Maurice Gould, Steve Sucic. Full backs—Myron Pfeifer, Bert Piggott.

Altho both teams have suffered defeats, this final battle of the year shapes up as a hard fought one—the Wildcats hoping to atone for setbacks by Minnesota, Notre Dame, and Michigan, and the Illini determined to give Coach Bob Zuppke a victory in his last game as their chief. ## Notre Dame Expects Trouble from Trojans' Bob Robertson

Notre Dame, Ind., Nov. 20 [Special].—A defensive dummy scrimmage, designed to check Bob Robertson, Southern California's one man back field, occupied Notre Dame's football squad in its next to last workout of the season today. Coach Frank Leahy then dismissed the squad with the admonition that Thanksgiving turkey next week, instead of today, would be more in order than dead ducks Saturday when the Irish shoot for their first undefeated season since 1930.

Leahy today reviewed the personal history of Mr. Robertson, and the history of the Trojan-Irish series. Robertson, he pointed out, plays tail back for a team which has won only two games while losing four. Yet the durable Trojan star, who completed six passes and intercepted three against Notre Dame last year, is sixth in the Pacific Coast conference in rushing and passing, and second only to Frankie Albert of Stanford in total offensive feats. He passed and ran for 170 yards against the 1940 Irish.

He Must Be Good.

Robertson has made 663 yards in six games, passing and rushing, for an average of more than 110 yards a game. He has run for 304 yards and passed for 359.

This brought Leahy to his second point, the ability of the Trojans to pull themselves together for the Notre Dame game, no matter what they have done before.

They had just a fair season last year, but the movies of Notre Dame's 10 to 6 victory show that they were not too far from victory or a tie. In 1938 the team was criticized before the Notre Dame game for losing two contests in eight starts. The Trojans got together against Notre Dame's opportunists, who had won eight straight, and knocked the Irish out of a national title, 13 to 0.

TROJANS FIND A PASSER.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 20 [Special].—Coach Sam Barry was smiling tonight as the University of Southern California traveling squad of 35 passed thru Kansas City en route to Notre Dame and a battle with the Irish Saturday. Barry's mood was inspired by the passing proficiency of Bob Musick in a workout today in Herington, Kas. Musick, whose tossing reminded spectators of the work of Notre Dame's Angelo Bertelli, will not start the game, but he will see plenty of action.

Barry indicated he would start Capt. Bob De Lauer at right tackle. De Lauer, who was hurt against Stanford, has been mending rapidly. The Trojan coach still was undecided whether to start Mel Bleeker, a hard running back, or Paul Taylor, southpaw passer, at right half and may hold up the decision until game time. The rest of the starting back field will consist of Bill Bundy at quarter; Bob Robertson at left half and Mickey Anderson at full.

Anderson ran wild against Notre Dame three years ago, but he was held out of school two years by injuries. Southern California will work out at Stagg field, Chicago, tomorrow morning and remain in town until Saturday morning.

OVERLIN MEETS HOSTAK TONIGHT; W-G-N AIRS BOUT

New York, Nov. 20 (AP).—Ken Overlin, one of the busiest campaigners in boxing, will be making his 14th start of 1941 when he fights Al Hostak of Seattle in Madison Square Garden tomorrow night. Both Hostak and the ex-sailor from Washington, D. C., are former middleweight champions, but their meeting here will be in the light heavyweight division and is scheduled for 10 rounds.

The fight will be broadcast over the Mutual network. W-G-N is the Chicago outlet at 9 p. m. Chicago time.

MICHIGAN DIETS (ON TURKEY) FOR GAME WITH OHIO

Drill Ends; Sellout Crowd of 85,757 to Attend.

BY WILFRID SMITH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 20.—The University of Michigan football squad, approaching the climactic game of its season with a record identical to that of 1940, practically completed preparations today for its game with Ohio State on Saturday—a contest that will attract 85,757, a record crowd for the series between Wolverines and Buckeyes.

Practice started at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon, and after the usual passing and kicking, the players reviewed their defenses for the Ohio State attack. In the evening the squad was served its Thanksgiving dinner. Tomorrow's program calls for a brief limbering up in the afternoon, after which the squad will go to the Barton Hills Country club until game time. Ohio State's players are scheduled to arrive tomorrow on a special train and will drill an hour in the Michigan stadium.

The teams will have a trophy for which to play, a "little red bull," given by the Michigan student senate. The red plaster trophy will be put up each year, just as is the little brown jug in the Minnesota series. Ohio students had suggested a wooden Indian, but the Michigan undergraduates held out for the bull.

Hopes for a Title Tie.

As in 1940, Michigan approaches the end of the trail with a record of six victories and a defeat by Minnesota. Three of these triumphs have been over Big Nine teams, so that if Michigan wins Saturday and Minnesota is beaten by Wisconsin the Wolverines will share the conference title with the Gophers.

Ohio State matches Michigan's record. The Buckeyes have won six games, three of which were with conference opponents, and been beaten only by Northwestern.

Ohio State's renaissance in Paul Brown's first year as head coach [Ohio State lost four games in 1940] is partly responsible for the record breaking crowd. By special trains and by automobiles, thousands of Buckeye supporters will convene on Ann Arbor to augment Michigan rooters from Detroit and other Michigan cities. Last year, Michigan whipped Ohio State, 40 to 0, and while Ohio State partisans may not be too confident of victory, they are certain Michigan will not pile up that kind of a score.

Crisler None Too Confident.

Fritz Crisler, Michigan coach, called the game a toss-up today when discussing the Wolverine's chances. "I think the squads are about even in personnel," Crisler said. "And don't be misled by the 12 to 7 Ohio State victory over Illinois. For one thing, the Illini have improved. I also am certain that no attempt was

Why did I rush and scuttle them down,
To be up and off on my way?
I just happened to think of something,
And I now know it wasn't right,
I didn't stay home just to talk to them,
No, not one single night.

"Some of the gang would call on the phone
Or blast on the horn of the car,
And off I went, whoop-er-doo bent,
To range both widely and far;

But they must have felt pretty bad,
I had plenty of time for every one else,
But none for mother and dad!"

OPEN 3D BLOCK OF DAY, JACKSON MATCH TONIGHT

Champion Bowls on His Home Alleys.

BY C. H. BEUKEMA.

Ned Day, match game bowling champion, and Lowell Jackson, challenger, will open the third 30 game block of their title event when they meet on Day's home alleys in West Allis, Wis., tonight. They bowl 10 games tonight, 10 more tomorrow, and conclude the block with 10 Sunday night. When they have finished the West Allis assignment they will have bowled 90 games on their schedule of 160, the last 40 of which are to be rolled in the All-Star eliminations and match game tournament in the Chicago Coliseum starting Dec. 7.

Day, who has held the title since the retirement of Hank Marino early in 1938 and already has repelled one title threat by Jackson, leads Jackson, 283.46 points to 249.26, using the Petersen point system as the scoring basis. He built up a wide margin in the first block on another set of his home alleys, Day also owning a recreation center in Santa Monica, Cal. He increased it in the first two 10 game series, but then lost five points of it in the last 10 games in Indianapolis last week-end.

St. Louis, Then Chicago.

The final 30 game block before the two stars move into Chicago will be rolled on Jackson's home alleys in St. Louis. Lowell is expected to mark up some impressive scores there because of his familiarity with the alleys.

Regardless of Day's present lead, the two stars are expected to really decide the match in the 40 games to be bowled in the Coliseum. There they will compete before larger audiences than can be crowded into any of the recreation centers in which the earlier blocks of their match are being rolled.

They will bowl 10 games each of the first four nights of the All-Star tourney, Dec. 7 thru 10, their match to feature the program of these days. During this same period, however, 70 All-Stars, chosen from a field of 143 entrans, will compete in a 20 game elimination, and at the end of the four days the loser of the title match and the high 11 men among the All-Stars will automatically move into a four day round robin of five-game matches, ending Dec. 14.

Preps' Interest Grows.

Indications are that the tournament will be attended by not only adult bowlers, but also by many of the thousands of high school students who have taken up the game. High school bowlers who are members of leagues associated with the Bowling Proprietors Association of Greater Chicago are to be admitted afternoons for 25 cents by showing their BPAGC cards. In one case, at least, they will be accompanied by an instructor who will explain the features of the stars' bowling that makes them stars.

The Lawrence Bowl, which is one of a large number of Chicago centers that have purchased boxes for the entire show, is to send the more improved bowlers among girls in the Amundsen High School league to the show on certain afternoons.

IT'S GETTING CLOSE!

The All-Star Bowling Tournament and Ned Day-Lowell Jackson championship match will be held in the Coliseum Dec. 7 thru Dec. 14. There you'll see the nation's best bowlers, 70 of them from 43 cities in 19 states, all shooting for the match game title. You'll see them, if you get in your order for tickets now. Prices for reserved seats are:

Evening—Box Seats, $1.65;

Other Reserved Seats, $1.10

Afternoon—Box Seats, 85 Cents

Make out your check or money order to the Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., and mail it to the All-Star Ticket Manager, Tribune Tower, Chicago. Or make reservations with your neighborhood bowling proprietor.

The Blackhawks last night whipped the world champion Boston Bruins, 3 to 2, in the stadium before 18,222 fans, most of them hysterical, to remain the only undefeated team in the National Hockey league.

In several ways the game was similar to Sunday's match with the Detroit Red Wings, which sent 18,146 away jabbering to themselves. The score was the same and both games ended in frantic drives by the losers, with the goalie out of the nets in the last minute of each battle.

Second Was Busy Period.

The difference was that the Bruins are a much more skillful outfit than the Wings, but the Hawks' superior physical condition stood off the desperate final challenge in much the same way it did against the Detroiters.

All the Hawk goals and Boston's first were made in the second period. Doug Bentley, Alex Kaleta, and Joe Papike counted for Chicago. Eddie Wiseman, one time Chicago Shamrock, tallied the Boston goal. The second Boston marker was caromed home by Art Jackson late in the game.

The Hawks in ending a three game winning streak for the champs, scored their fourth victory and their third before home customers. They have been in one tie.

Doug Goes to Work.

Bentley's goal was registered in 59 seconds of the second period. Bill Thoms slapped the puck out of the opening faceoff to Mush March and, as Mush headed toward the goal, he saw the Bruin defense aiming to converge on him, whereupon he passed to Bentley. Doug cut loose from about 10 feet inside the blue line for the score.

The contest forthwith became a frenzied enterprise. With the period three-fourths gone, Kaleta and Cully Dahlstrom got the puck in the extreme right corner of their defense zone. Accompanied by Phil Hergesheimer, they went the length of the rink, zig-zagging the puck. The last zig was by Dahlstrom, but the last zag was by Kaleta, Alex's first major league goal. Dahlstrom and Hergesheimer earned assists.

Wiseman Cages One.

Twenty seconds after this one, the Bruins counted. Roy Conacher and Bill Cowley fed the rubber to Wiseman and Eddie beat Goalie Sammy Lo Presti from close in.

The score became 3 to 1 in 17:19 of the period. George Allen sent Goalie Brimsek into a highland fling with a couple of close shots, then Papike took George's second rebound and banged it into the nets. Allen and Bill Carse got assists.

The Hawks will play the league leading Toronto Maple Leafs in Toronto tomorrow night.

HEY, NAVY! GOAT ELEVEN AT ARMY TIES ENGINEERS

West Point, N. Y., Nov. 20 (AP).—There is joy on the campus of the United States Military academy today, for a victory—or at least a tie—is in the offing for the Army football team when it clashes with the Naval academy in Philadelphia a week from Saturday. The lowly Goats, scoring a moral victory by holding the Engineers to a 0 to 0 tie, brought the joy to the Cadets.

The Goats are a football team composed of West Point's lowest ranking juniors, academically speaking, while the Engineers are the smart ones of the second class.

This traditional Thanksgiving morning battle has been played for the last 51 years, and it is a well known saying that as the Goats go so will Army go in its gridiron engagement with the Midshipmen.

Two thousand fans, including almost the entire corps of 1,850 cadets, watched this morning's stalemate.

New York, Nov. 20 (AP).—The Brooklyn Americans roared thru a wobbly New York Rangers defense for four second period goals and a 4 to 1 victory before a crowd of 12,222 in Madison Square Garden tonight. This was the first game of the season's intra-city National Hockey league rivalry.

The Americans, their veterans and youngsters clicking in a well-balanced mixture of two goals to each group, played bang up hockey that had the Rangers on the defensive thruout, despite the fact the Rangers led, 1 to 0, at the end of the first period.

Goalie Earl Robertson and Defenseman Tommy Anderson sparked Brooklyn to its victory.

After Rookie Grant Warwick gave the Rangers their lead Anderson tied it early in the second period. Then Buzz Boll put the Americans ahead to stay, and goals by Rookies Johnny O'Flaherty of Toronto and Harry Watson of Saskatoon made the issue certain. Lineup:

A Hard Game Brings Out Fast and Fancy Skating

Alex Kaleta of the Blackhawks (left) and Roy Conacher of the Bruins maneuver at high speed during last night's hockey game in the Stadium. The Hawks kept their season's record clear of defeat by making three goals in the second period to win, 3 to 2. Kaleta made one of these goals—his first in National league competition. # Maloney and Gilmore Will Meet Tonight

BY FRANK MASTRO.

Pat Maloney, welterweight standard bearer of the Madison Athletic club, one of the organizations fighting for the Chicagoland Amateur Boxing league championship, will meet Eddie Gilmore of Morgan park in a three round bout featuring a nonleague show tonight in the Madison arena, 4711 Madison street. Gilmore is expected to give him a hard test in preparation for his scheduled appearance in the interclub match between the Madison club and Fort Sheridan at Fort Sheridan next Wednesday.

Maloney, who is 19 years old and of Irish extraction, has been fighting two and a half years. During that span he has engaged in approximately 70 bouts, winning all except 28. In his last start a week ago he scored one of his team's points in the league match against the Catholic Youth organization contingent by beating Jimmy Hunt.

Wants to Sell Insurance.

Pat loves to box, but his ambition is to be an insurance broker like his father, with whom he lives in Maywood. Young Maloney is a senior at Austin High school. He formerly attended Proviso Township High and was a member of the school's football team.

Fred Peeler, light heavyweight, and Watt Pitts, lightweight, members of the Savoy Athletic club, will appear in two supporting matches, the former against Pete Blouir and Pitts against Vince Ortiz. Peeler and his teammate will be among the boys representing the south side Negro club in competition against Ashland Athletic club color bearers at Social Turner hall, Belmont avenue and Paulina street, next Wednesday.

Savoy to Face Madison.

Savoy boxers also are scheduled to face the Madison A. C. team at the Madison arena Dec. 26. Their other league matches will be against the Catholic Youth organization, Dec. 2; Milwaukee, Dec. 9, and Illinois Athletic club, Dec. 16, at Savoy arena, 47th street and South Parkway, and West Suburban Boxing club at Cicero stadium, 19th street and 52d avenue, Jan. 7, and CYO at CYO center gymnasium, 31 East Congress street, Jan. 14.

FOOTBALL COACH DIES WATCHING HIS TEAM PLAY

Boonville, Mo., Nov. 20 (AP).—Coach Ralph Conger, 41 years old, died of a heart attack today while watching his Wentworth team battle Kemper in the annual Thanksgiving day football game between the two military academies.

Neither team had scored when Conger slumped dead against a player sitting next to him on the bench. Players on the field were not informed until the first half ended a short time later.

Kemper scored twice in the second half to win, 14 to 0. At game's end the 2,000 spectators stood for one minute in silent tribute.

YALE PREPARES AIR ATTACK FOR HARVARD BATTLE

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 20 [Special].—Yale's football preparations for the Harvard game were confined this morning to a session in which Head Coach Nelson gave the running game and air attack a thoro going over for the last time this season. The squad will leave for Cambridge early tomorrow morning and top off its work with a final session in the stadium.

Coach Nelson said he expected to start the lineup which started against Princeton last Saturday, with the exception that Jock Thompson, 180 pound senior end, will take over the right end post, replacing George Greene.

CORNELL ENDS DRILLS.

Ithaca, N. Y., Nov. 20 [Special].—Cornell's football squad this afternoon concluded practice for Saturday's game with Pennsylvania at Philadelphia. A squad of 40 players will leave at noon tomorrow. There will be no practice in Philadelphia.

Leg injuries to Phil Goldenberg, reserve full back, and to Lou Daukas, center and blocking back, probably will keep both players out of action, but they will make the trip.

ARMY AT FULL STRENGTH.

West Point, N. Y., Nov. 20 (AP).—Army's football team worked out today before hundreds of cadets who took advantage of the holiday to watch the squad prepare for the game Saturday with West Virginia. Coach Earl Blaik said his first string would be intact against the invading mountaineers for the first time since the Notre Dame game.

COLUMBIA WORKS HARD.

New York, Nov. 20 (AP).—Today was no holiday for Columbia footballers, who hustled thru a lengthy workout in preparation for Saturday's engagement with Colgate. Coach Lou Little expressed confidence that his squad would bounce back from last week's loss to Michigan, adding that the Lions "seldom look bad two weeks in a row."

MIDDIES ACE READY.

Annapolis, Md., Nov. 20 [Special].—Coach Swede Larson today rounded out Navy's preparation for the Princeton game with a morning workout. The three Navy varsities all had an offensive drill, pass defense work, and a brushup on Princeton plays.

Bob Woods may start at right half back in place of Sammy Boothe, injured in practice. Two battalions of 1,500 midshipmen will be in Princeton's Palmer stadium Saturday. The middies and squad will leave Saturday morning.

WHEATON CLOSES SEASON; BEATS NORTH PARK, 27-13

Wheaton college closed its football season with a 27 to 13 victory over North Park college in Wheaton yesterday. Harold Mordh ran seventy-eight yards for Wheaton's first touchdown. North Park scored in the second and fourth quarters on passes. Six seniors played their last game for Wheaton: Co-Captains Harris and Glatfelter, Morlais Hughes, Don Patterson, Joel Wilson, and Carl Devries, who made two touchdowns.

Indiana Tests Its Forward Pass Defense

Bloomington, Ind., Nov. 20 [Special].—Indiana's football squad romped thru a brisk drill on a wind swept field today, reviewing offensive and defensive assignments for the Old Oaken Bucket battle against Purdue here Saturday.

Bill Hillenbrand, sophomore tailback who was handicapped part of the season by an injured foot, appeared in top form as he passed, ran and punted in a rehearsal of plays.

Lou Saban, rookie quarter back, was drilled on kickoffs and place-kicks, altho Capt. Gene White likely will handle the latter department if the occasion arises.

Anticipating an aerial attack from the Boilermakers, the Hoosiers engaged in several minutes of pass defensive tactics. Mike Saban, freshman brother of the varsity quarter back, threw the mock Purdue passes.

While most of the Indiana student body spent the holiday at home, the Hoosier football players were treated to a turkey dinner at the I. U. Union building.

PURDUE GEARS UP ATTACK.

Lafayette, Ind., Nov. 20 [Special].—Thanksgiving dinner for the members of Purdue's football squad was postponed until late today after the Boilermakers had put in an extended session devising ways of halting the Hillenbrand-led Indiana offensive at Bloomington on Saturday.

The effective Boilermaker defense, which bottled up a number of the country's leading backs so far this season, was warned particularly of the broken field ability of the Indiana ace.

Purdue's own offense was not neglected as Coach Mal Elward attempted to gear up the Boilermaker attack. Kenny Smock was back at the number one left half back post supporting Bob Chester and Walter Cook after being out of action for two weeks.

A light drill tomorrow afternoon will complete the Boilermakers' preparation for the quest of the Old Oaken Bucket, which went down Bloomington way last fall as the Hoosiers scored their first victory in the series in five years by kicking a field goal in the final 13 seconds of play.

SPARTA DEFEATS VIKING SOCCER ELEVEN, 2 TO 1

Conversion of a penalty shot into a goal enabled Sparta to defeat the Vikings yesterday in a Major league soccer match in Winnemac park stadium, 2 to 1. The only other scheduled match, in which Olympia was to have faced the Center Sports club, was postponed because of wet grounds.

Despite the raw weather, 1,400 fans turned out to watch Sparta and the Vikings. Lineups:

BADGERS TO USE 3 FULL BACKS IN STARTING LINEUP

Seek Defensive Strength Against Minnesota.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 20 [Special].—Wisconsin's football squad ended its practice in Camp Randall for the season with a signal drill this afternoon in which Coach Harry Stuhldreher indicated he will start three full backs against Minnesota Saturday in an effort to bolster the defense.

Marlin [Pat] Harder, the Badgers' sophomore star, will be at his regular full back position, with two other full backs, Bob Ray and Len Calligaro operating at right half back and defensive center, respectively. Calligaro will start if Wisconsin kicks off, otherwise Dick Thornally will be at center.

After today's drill, in which defense again was the keynote, the players and coaches ate their annual Thanksgiving day dinner together at the Memorial Union. The squad will leave for Minneapolis early tomorrow, work out tomorrow afternoon in the Gopher stadium, and spend the night at St. Paul.

HAWKEYES FINISH DRILL.

Iowa City, Ia., Nov. 20 [Special].—Iowa's Hawkeyes, hoping to finish the season with a victory over Nebraska Saturday to bring their percentage for the year up to .500, ran thru their final workout, a long defensive drill, today.

Guard Gene Curran, hospitalized with an attack of boils, was not listed on the traveling squad announced tonight. Bill Green, the ace full back and leading offensive threat, was still having trouble with a bad hip, injured in the Minnesota game. Green took another short workout and retired early to undergo heat treatments.

The Hawkeyes will forego practice tomorrow, taking instead a brisk walk in Omaha, where pregame headquarters will be set up.

The squad picked for the trip to Nebraska follows:

CENTERS—Capt. Bill Diehl, George Fry, Robert Lauterbach, Tom Hand.
GUARDS—Ross Anderson, Del Dickerhoof, Don Tweedt, Bob Penaluna, Harris Stageberg, Joe Byrd.
TACKLES—Jim Walker, Al Urban, Bob Knowlton, John Staak, Bob Otto.
ENDS—Bill Parker, Bill Burkett, John Maher, Henry Miller, Al Mannino.
QUARTER BACKS—Al Couppee, Ben Trickey, Jerry Ankeny.
FULL BACKS—Bill Green, Bill Staues, Art Johnson.
RIGHT HALVES—Bernard Mertes, Henry Vollenwelder.

DUCK SEASON A FICKLE ONE, BUT POPULATION'S UP

There's a-Plenty Still to Be Had in Illinois.

BY BOB BECKER.

Due to the high water in the Illinois river and the fickle weather this year, the 1941 duck season undoubtedly is going into the records as one of the most unusual in many years. This could have been expected by hunters because, when mallards need diving helmets to reach their food supplies and the corn harvest is late along the Illinois, something is bound to happen.

So far this season the shooting has been up in one place and decidedly down in another. But, after hunting at several different spots along the Illinois river and getting many reports from others, this much is certain: every prediction about an increase in ducks is 100 per cent correct. There is a decided upturn in our duck population, thanks to the work of Ducks Unlimited, plus a favorable hatching season in Canada.

There Are Plenty of Ducks.

There still are hundreds of thousands of birds in the valley. But only a small percentage have been working to blinds, which may lead some hunters to the erroneous conclusion that there aren't many ducks this year.

Here are some recent reports on the duck situation from different spots along the Illinois river:

Sangamon river—Up from the mouth of the Sangamon tremendous flocks of mallards and some pintails still on the flyways. But L. H. Barkhausen says they have a schedule that beats anything he has seen in years. They spend most of the day in the flooded timberlands—the jungles along the Sangamon—where few can be reached by No. 6 shot. When a Beardstown whistle blows at 4 p. m. the birds start to fly. Smart mallards!

Loafing at Lacon.

Lacon, Ill.—The river has been falling, but still is three feet above normal. During the warm weather earlier in the week the mallards didn't work very well. They just loafed and enjoyed siestas on one of the big lakes northwest of Lacon. Birds now going to the cornfields at night. Pete Carroll says the bluebills still are down there and some of the boys have been having fun with them.

Hennepin, Ill.—More mallards than for many years. [We hunted east of Hennepin and several days ago reported on the concentration of birds in the upper river.] The birds naturally didn't work during the 70 degree weather, but shooting should improve if we get some duck weather.

Beardstown, Ill.—W. P. Moss reports plenty of mallards, and they have had pretty good luck in the Sangamon river bottomlands. Bags include mallards, pintails, bluebills, and blackjacks.

made to key up the Ohio State players."

Crisler also pointed out that Michigan has not played a hard, bruising game since losing to Minnesota here a month ago.

White Is Recovering.

The battle with Minnesota cost Michigan the services of Joe Rogers, varsity right end. Phil Sharpe, who won a reserve letter last season, has advanced to Rogers' position. This is one of three lineup changes since Michigan opened the season. Mervin Pregulman, sophomore right guard, has displaced the veteran Bill Melzow in the starting lineup, and Paul White, another sophomore, is expected to be at right half back.

White has fully recovered from a bruised shoulder muscle that cut his playing time in earlier games. His running and left handed passing from the right half back spot supplement the work of Tom Kuzma, sophomore left half.

GOVERNOR WITH BUCKEYES.

Columbus, O., Nov. 20 [Special].—Thirty-six members of the Ohio State football squad will leave tomorrow morning for Ann Arbor and the annual battle with Michigan. Gov. John Bricker will be on the special train. The Buckeyes will spend the night in Dearborn, Mich. The members of the traveling squad will be:

ENDS—Sam Fox, Pete Hershberger, Leon Schoenbaum, William Sedor, Robert Shaw, and Don Steinberg.

TACKLES—Charles Csuri, Jim Daniell, Thornton Dixon, Don McCafferty, Capt. Jack Stephenson, and Robert McCormick.

GUARDS—Ed Bruckner, George Cheroke, Harold Dean, Fritz Howard, Lindell Huston, and Wilbur Schneider.

CENTERS—John Roe, John Rosen, and Bill Vickroy.

CYO TO EXAMINE BOXERS TODAY FOR TOURNAMENT

Physical examinations of boxers entered in the CYO's 11th annual boxing tournament will be held today in the CYO center, 31 East Congress street, Room 224, between 4 and 6 p. m. This was announced yesterday by Thomas F. O'Connell, director of boxing at the CYO. Dr. James V. Russell, staff physician, will conduct the examinations.

For the convenience of boxers who have late working hours, examinations will be held tonight between 7 and 9 o'clock.

Five Touchdown Hungry Bears Hope to Cross Goal in Detroit

BY EDWARD PRELL.

Tho the Bears have generously spread around their 41 touchdowns in eight National Football league games, three backs and two ends have yet to get the thrill of crossing an enemy goal line this season, but this little oversight may be taken care of Sunday when the champions take to the road and meet the Detroit Lions.

George Wilson, who mournfully tells his friends that he's just a decoy—"no one ever pitches a pass to me"—usually manages to get at least one touchdown toss a season, but the former Wildcat hasn't yet cashed in. Neither has Harry Clark, the rugged back from West Virginia, who last season made three touchdowns. Another end, Dick Plasman, has caught a lot of passes, many in spectacular style, but he has not gone over the double stripe. Sid Luckman is the only one of three quarter backs to pick up six points. Bob Snyder, tho, has kicked two field goals and has made a number of points after touchdown. The other quarter back is Young Bussey.

51 Over the 1940 Total.

The Bears, with three games to go, already have made nine more touchdowns than in 1940, when they scored 238 points, 51 less than they have registered in this campaign.

Fourteen players have helped swell the touchdown total to 41, with George McAfee's nine high. Other touchdown makers follow: Hugh Gallarneau, 6; Ken Kavanaugh, 5; Bill Osmanski, 4; Ray McLean and Norm Standlee, 3; John Siegal, Joe Maniaci and Bob Nowaskey, 2; Gary Famiglietti, Ray Nolting, Bobby Swisher, Hamp Pool, and Luckman, 1 each.

Giants Near Eastern Title.

Sunday's games are expected only to prolong the agony as far as the two team race in the western division is concerned, but by nightfall on that day the New York Giants may have qualified as the eastern standard bearer. By beating the Redskins the Giants would have a record of eight victories and two defeats, with only a game to go. It would be the Redskins' fourth setback. Brooklyn already has lost four games.

Green Bay, like the Bears, carries its title drive into enemy territory. The Packers will meet the Pittsburgh Steelers, a team which last Sunday finally managed to win a game after losing seven and tying one. This was a triumph for the Steelers' third coach of the year, burly Walter Keisling, who succeeded Aldo Donelli, who succeeded Bert Bell.

Final Game for Rams.

The Bears figure to beat the Lions, but not as decisively as when they made it 49 to 0 in Wrigley field a few weeks. The chances are that the Packers will win No. 9 and the Bears No. 8.

First of the league teams to close the season will be the Rams, who meet the Chicago Cardinals Sunday in Cleveland. The Rams, with two victories and eight defeats, are closing their most disastrous year. The two triumphs came over the Steelers and Cardinals in their first two games of the season.

COMPLETES 103 PASSES TO BEAT O'BRIEN'S RECORD

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 20 (AP).—Wilson [Bud] Schwenk, Washington university star, pitched himself into the collegiate hall of fame today by establishing a national record of 103 forward pass completions in one season.

Needing only three passes to better Davey O'Brien's mark of 93 with Texas Christian university in 1938, Schwenk cocked his right arm and produced them against the Missouri School of Mines before the end of the first quarter.

In all, he connected 12 times in 23 attempts for a total of 106 yards. He passed to two touchdowns, scored two himself and accounted for 24 points in Washington's 28 to 7 victory.

Schwenk's pass record was all the more remarkable because he compiled it in eight games against 10 for Schwenk's 103 passes were made in 201 attempts and were good for a total of 1334 yards.

WEST MICHIGAN DEFEATS RIPON; PERFECT SEASON

Kalamazoo, Mich., Nov. 20 [Special].—Western Michigan remained Michigan's only undefeated and untied college football team this afternoon by defeating Ripon, the Midwest conference champion, 33 to 7. The victory kept alive Western Michigan's hopes for a Sun bowl invitation.

Half Back Horace Coleman scored two touchdowns, raising his season's point total to 72, highest in the state.

California Roller Team Beats Chicago, 13-10

The California roller skating team defeated Chicago, 13 to 10, last night in the Coliseum. The victory reduced the local team's lead to three points. Chicago leads in the series 235 to 233.

SENN CONQUERS LOYOLA, 28 TO 6, TO END SEASON

North Section Champion Beats Old Rival.

Senn High's football team, north section champion in the Public School league, yesterday concluded its most successful season since 1937 by defeating its neighborhood rival, Loyola academy, 28 to 6, in Loyola stadium before 4,000. It was the 20th game in the series and only the fourth victory for the Public School league squad. Senn held a 14 to 6 advantage at the end of the first half. Sherman Ascher, star full back, scored one of Senn's touchdowns on a seventy yard run in the opening quarter. Lineup:

CULVER, 6; CALUMET, 6.

Culver, Ind., Nov. 20 [Special].—Culver Military academy today concluded its football season with a 6 to 6 tie with Calumet High school of Chicago. The Cadets broke a scoreless deadlock early in the fourth quarter when Sniderman passed to Fee for a touchdown. A few minutes later the visitors bucked over a touchdown from the 1 yard line after a forward pass had put the ball inside Culver's 5 yard line.

WEST AURORA BEATS EAST.

West Aurora defeated East Aurora, 34 to 6, before 6,000 fans yesterday in the 49th annual Thanksgiving day game on East Aurora field. Quarter Back Capt. Gordon Peterson led the attack, scoring three touchdowns on runs of seventy-seven, forty-five, and forty-three yards. The score at the half time was 21 to 0. It was West Aurora's 18th triumph of the series.

CAMPION, 13; ST. PHILIPS, 0.

Prairie du Chien, Wis., Nov. 20 [Special].—Campion academy closed its football season undefeated by whipping St. Philip's High school of Chicago, 13 to 0, today. It was the ninth consecutive victory for Campion, whose goal line has been crossed only once during the season. This was accomplished by Edgewood of Madison.

Campion's first touchdown this afternoon was scored on a pass, King to Pomerski. In the second quarter, Campion scored again, Leichtweis going around end from St. Philip's 19 yard line, Horwath went thru center for the extra point.

ST. BEDE EASY VICTOR.

Spring Valley, Ill., Nov. 20 [Special.—The St. Bede academy football team completed its season here this morning with a 41 to 0 victory over Hall Township High school of Spring Valley. This eighth victory enabled the Bruins to close the year undefeated and untied. They yielded only seven points to opponents.

Prep Finalists Conclude Drills for Week-end's Title Battles

BY JAMES SEGRETI.

The quartet of teams remaining in the field for participation in Mayor Kelly's All-City game on Nov. 29—Fenger, Tilden Tech, Leo, and Fenwick—will conclude preparations today for the Catholic and Public School league games in Soldiers' field tomorrow and Sunday afternoon. Members of the four squads sharpened their Thanksgiving day appetites by engaging in long workouts yesterday after enjoying a rest Wednesday because of the steady rain.

Fenger, defending city co-champion, which was given a scare for three quarters by Senn last week in the semi-final, underwent a three hour drill on its field, placing the finishing touches on offensive plays to be used against Tilden Tech in the Public School league title game tomorrow. Clare De Valk, Fenger's big tackle, who was slightly injured last Saturday, was missing from the field and Coach Charles Palmer said Edward Ereger, 180 pound substitute tackle, probably would take De Valk's place in the starting lineup.

Lawless Is Hopeful.

Tony Lawless, Fenwick's coach, whose 1936 eleven routed Leo, 27 to 0, is hopeful this season's squad will duplicate that victory Sunday, altho he has lost his regular quarter back, Maurie White. Lawless also fears he may not have the full time services of Don Dillon, half back, who incurred injuries against St. Ignatius. Jack Higgins, who joined the regular Fenwick back field for two games when Harry Harris suffered an appendicitis attack, again will step in to replace the ailing White.

Whitey Cronin, the Lions and followers of the south side squad are only concerned about the weather man. Every member of the team, including Henry [Babe] Baranowski, the squad touchdown specialist, will be available for the game against Fenwick.

Win in Mud, Too.

The Lions have proved they can win on muddy fields, too, defeating St. George a few weeks ago, but they would welcome dry, clear weather, which Baranowski needs to produce his customary one man exhibition, the midget quarter back having been credited thus far with 111 points in nine games.

Ray Ciccone, half back, has been selected as the most valuable player at Crane Tech and he will be a candidate for the Noble E. Kizer Memorial award. . . . Crane was the 24th Public School league team to name its outstanding performer. . . . The Most Rev. Bernard J. Sheil, Mayor Kelly, State Treasurer Warren Wright, and Billy Webb and Ted Lyons of the White Sox have been invited to attend the Leo Fathers' club banquet in the Palmer House, Dec. 1. . . . Bob [Line Drive] Elson, W-G-N sports announcer, will broadcast the All-City game between the Catholic and Public School league winners on Nov. 29. . . . Foreman High's football banquet will be held in the Midwest Athletic club, 6 North Hamlin avenue, on Dec. 10.

Several coaches in the Chicago area have named Bill Simms of St. Rita and Capt. Harry Oberhelman of Oak Park as the outstanding full backs of the 1941 season. . . . John Wyeth of West Rockford, formerly of Peotone, is the only new varsity basketball coach in the Big Eight conference this year. . . . Joliet High led the conference in football attendance this fall and was followed by West Aurora. . . . Each morning at Oak Park High four sport captains raise the national colors over the school. . . . The boys are Oberhelman, football; Parker Preble, track; Robert Schmidt, baseball, and Lucius Cole, soccer. . . .

Libbey High, which won the Toledo, O., prep championship yesterday, is seeking a game with Detroit's titleholder or a Chicago squad.

GIRL AND MEN SWIMMERS OPEN SEASON TONIGHT

The 1941-42 indoor swimming season will open tonight when four Central AAU championships will be decided at the Shawnee Country club. The title events will be the senior women's 100-yard freestyle, senior men's high-board fancy diving, junior women's 50-yard backstroke, and junior men's 50-yard freestyle.

Three Northwestern university diving stars will compete in the high-board event, Ronnie Trumble, Howie Jaynes, former city high school champion, and John McDonald, former state high school titleholder. Fred Vergie of the Lake Shore club also will take part in the event.

A strong field of Chicago's fastest girl swimmers will race for the 100-yard freestyle title. Among the entries are five girls who have won many AAU championships in the past two years, Marilyn Billquist, Jeanette Colley, Alice Miller, Frankie Rose, and Jane Cloyd.

A novel feature of the meet will be a water polo game between girls of the Mundelein college swimming team and a picked squad of Shawnee Country club swimmers. Both the senior and junior girls' water ballet teams of the Shawnee club will give exhibitions during the evening.

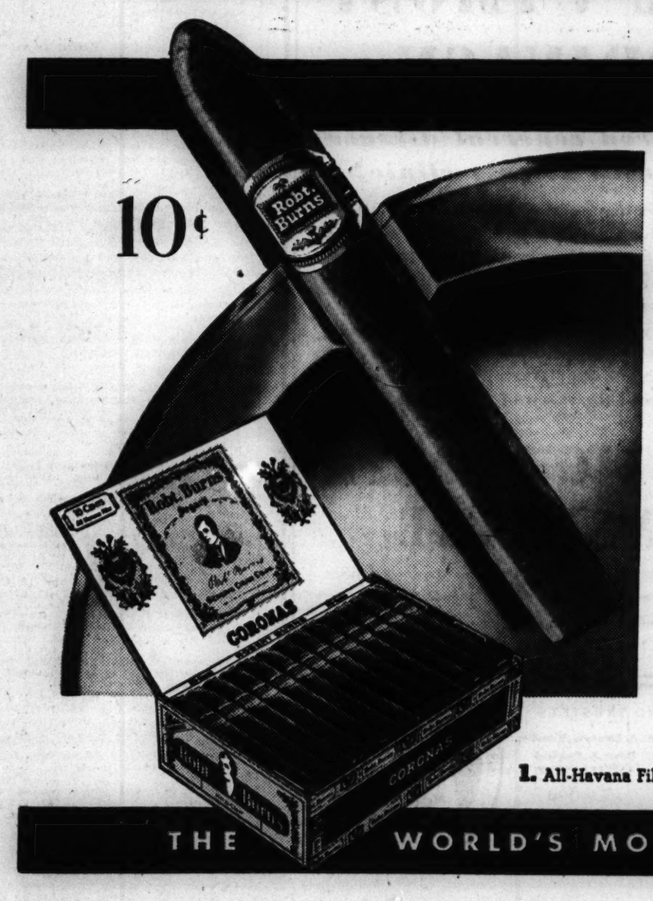
new richness! flavor! pleasure! in Robt. Burns Coronas



MADE FINER and still finer, the Robt. Burns Corona today is a matchless cigar for the smoker who seeks plenty of flavor. Good as it was from the start, it is a still better cigar today. Better and better tobacco has gone into it. Now it rivals the fragrance and flavor of highly expensive cigars. The result—NEW FLAVOR—NEW RICHNESS—NEW PLEASURE—for men who enjoy substantial taste.

The Robt. Burns Corona is designed for those exacting smokers who revel in a heavy smoke. No let-down here, and that promise goes for smokers who think that they can enjoy nothing but a clear Havana cigar. Modeled in the classical Corona shape, it fulfills its patrician look in abundance of imported flavor and aroma, luscious and delicious. Its taste glorifies the dime that buys it. You smokers demanding a lot of a cigar, Robt. Burns Coronas are just made for you. Try them for bountiful smoking enjoyment.

INDIANA FARMER CHAMPION CORN GROWER OF 1941

Raises 173.03 Bushels an Acre to Set Record.

De Kalb, Ill., Nov. 20 (AP).—A 42 year old Indiana farmer tonight was named the 1941 national champion hybrid corn grower, the winner in competition with 10,000 farmers from the nation's principal corn raising states.

T. H. Roberts, general manager of the De Kalb Agricultural association, which sponsored the contest, announced that Evan Sanderson of Flora, Carroll county, Indiana, placed first in the fifth annual De Kalb hybrid corn growing contest with a mark of 173.03 bushels per acre. This yield far exceeded the 1940 record of 157.69 bushels an acre made by William Mentjes of Le Center, Minn. Farmers from 14 states entered the contest.

Six Times Average Yield.

Sanderson raised on his contest field almost six times the national average yield of 31.1 bushels an acre for all corn planted, Roberts said. The prize winning corn was raised under ordinary farming conditions, and Sanderson's best five acres was certified for production competition by two farmer neighbors.

Sanderson was Indiana state champion in the De Kalb contest in 1938. He farms 210 acres of rich black loam soil, milks 11 cows a day, and raises 200 hogs a year.

Illinois Farmer Second.

Placing second in the contest was Robert Shank of Eldred, Green county, Illinois, with 161.26 bushels, while the third best mark was the entry of Joe Tokheim of Eagle Grove, Ia., with 160.88 bushels. Fifth place went to Tut Dean of Newton, Grundy county, Missouri, with 149.97.

Other state winners of the states represented in the contest include Henry Otten, Alcester, S. D., and Fossum brothers, Beloit, Wis.

CHICAGO TO HONOR CHAMPS.

Sanderson and the various state champions will be honored at a luncheon on Monday at the Stevens hotel. Included in the group coming to Chicago for the event will be Jack Nagel, Barney, N. D., the state's biggest corn farmer. This year Nagel raised 50,000 bushels of corn in a district listed by the government as a "noncommercial corn area."

BROTHER ARRIVES IN MONTERREY TO HELP TORRANCE

MONTERREY, Mexico, Nov. 20 (AP).—Victor Torrance, 44 years old, arrived from Los Angeles today to help his brother, Arthur, defend himself against charges that he murdered his wife, the former Mrs. Ada Loveland of Kalamazoo, Mich. He identified himself as a private detective.

The body of Mrs. Torrance, who died Nov. 8, was sent by train today to Kalamazoo. It will arrive Saturday at 1:30 p. m.

A newsboy who has testified concerning disposition of a vacuum bottle, which the state claims Torrance used to strike his wife, was cross-examined lengthily today by defense attorneys. Torrance denies the killing, claiming his elderly bride died as a result of injuries suffered in an automobile accident.

PATIENT, 83, SLASHES WRISTS; DIES.

Martin Romann, 83 years old, who slashed his wrists Wednesday in a suicide attempt at the Darnell McKay Nursing home at 3952 Ellis avenue, where he was a patient, died yesterday in the Woodlawn hospital.

WINNIE WINKLE, THE BREADWINNER: She and He

JURY WILL SIFT FLORIDA CANAL DEATH OF BRIDE

Miami, Fla., Nov. 20 (AP).—On request of Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota and Gov. Spessard L. Holland of Florida, the county grand jury will investigate the death of Mrs. Hannah Ford Savage, who was drowned in Sunny Isles canal April 1. Mrs. Savage was riding with her husband, Charles E. Savage, at the time, just 54 days after their marriage.

After her death, Gov. Stassen wrote Gov. Holland saying Mrs. Savage's relatives reported "mysterious circumstances" surrounding the drowning. Gov. Holland asked State Attorney George A. Worley for "a thoro investigation and prosecution."

As a result of a civil suit, filed by her kin, Circuit Judge George E. Holt this week took away from Savage the control of his late wife's $65,000 estate and annulled their marriage. Judge Holt held the 64 year old woman was mentally incompetent when she married Savage, 46, and continued in a formal opinion:

"This weakened mental condition made her a fit and pliant subject to the schemes and plans of the defendant [Savage] to fraudulently deprive her of valuable properties, which he did."

GEORGIA REGENTS DEFY TALMADGE IN NIGHT MEETING

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 20 (AP).—Chancellor S. V. Sanford this afternoon asserted that L. W. Robert Jr. met at the Atlanta Municipal airport with seven other members of the board of regents last night and concurred in their move to rehire university educators ousted at the direction of Gov. Eugene Talmadge.

Chancellor Sanford said the meeting was held at midnight, hours after E. Ormonde Hunter of Savannah had flown here in response to a telephone call to make a quorum.

Today Gov. Talmadge challenged the actions of that special session, charging that nine—not seven—members are required for a quorum of the board which controls the state university system.

Political observers interpreted the unexpected flurry of activities as indicating a move to defy Gov. Talmadge, who previously said he would not permit the reëmployment of Walter D. Cocking or any educator he considered an advocate of racial co-education.

John G. Parson, Pioneer Furniture Man, Dies at 78

Rockford, Ill., Nov. 20 [Special].—John G. Parson, 78, one of the founders of the Old Union Furniture company here and superintendent of the firm for 35 years, died at his home here today. He and Mrs. Parson celebrated their 51st wedding anniversary yesterday.

ACCUSED JUDGE TO QUIT PENSION LIST—'SOMETIME'

Trenton, N. J., Nov. 20 (AP).—J. Warren Davis, retired judge of the third United States Circuit Court of Appeals, said today he would offer his resignation from the inactive judicial list "sometime" and give up his $12,000 a year pension.

The 75 year old jurist, whose impeachment is sought by Attorney General Francis Biddle, said he had no immediate plans to quit, but added "sometime I'm going to."

The justice department decided not to put Davis on trial a third time after juries twice disagreed in trials on charges of obstructing justice and defrauding the United States by taking money in return for judicial favors. Biddle later asked his impeachment by the house. No action has been taken.

PREMIUM RATES TO BE RAISED BY METROPOLITAN

Low Investment Yields Blamed for Move.

New York, Nov. 20 (AP).—Metropolitan Life Insurance company, the country's largest life insurance concern, announced today it shortly would reduce to 2¾ per cent the interest basis on which reserves and cash values of its policies are calculated and that as a result some of its policy premium rates would be increased.

LeRoy A. Lincoln.

The action will become effective Jan. 1 and will not affect policies issued before that date.

Previously, reserves and cash values were calculated at 3 per cent for ordinary life insurance policies and at 3¼ per cent for so-called "industrial" life insurance.

Changes to Vary Widely.

The increased premiums for newly-written insurance after Jan. 1 will vary widely for various forms of policies. The average premium for ordinary life policies will rise a little less than 10 per cent and the increase for industrial life insurance will be "slightly more," the announcement said.

Trade circles said the increase in industrial premiums was expected to be around 15 per cent, but observed that the company had not raised industrial premiums in 1935 when ordinary life premiums were lifted.

LeRoy A. Lincoln, president of Metropolitan, said in explanation of the move that "the yield on investments appropriate for a life insurance company is low and there is little evidence that there will be any improvement in the near future."

Expect Other Firms to Act.

Insurance experts said the Metropolitan was the first of the large organizations in its field to hike premiums at this time to compensate for the low rate of investment income, but added it was understood that some other companies had similar moves in view.

At one time Lincoln announced Metropolitan was adopting "more modern mortality tables as a basis of reserves and cash values under the new policies."

"While the new premium rates reflect recent improvement in mortality," Lincoln said, "the effect of low interest rates greatly overshadows this improvement, so that premium rates are generally increased."

Explains Rate Differences.

Of the changed rates to be put into effect, Lincoln said:

"Larger premium increases have been necessary on higher premium policies where the investment feature is more pronounced, while the increase on low premium policies which feature protection and have a smaller investment element will be somewhat less because the improvement in mortality has, in their case, offset to a greater extent the increase in premium rates made necessary on account of the low interest rates."

Fishhook Men See a Threat to Their Big Haul

Fishhook makers in this country—busily engaged in supplying the domestic fishing tackle market now that Norwegian, German, and English made hooks are not available—saw a threat yesterday to their new found prosperity in a survey being made by the lend-lease administration.

The administration has sent questionnaires to fishhook makers inquiring as to their ability to supply the needs of fishing tackle makers and other users in this country. The letters, signed by Phillip Young, explained that the administration was mindful of the difficulty that domestic hook makers were having in obtaining materials, such as high carbon steel wire and cadmium or tin plating.

Needs $40 Worth of Steel.

A Chicago fishhook manufacturer interpreted the letter as laying the groundwork for permission to English fishhook makers to export their wares to this country if American makers indicated they were unable to supply the entire domestic demand.

Oscar Weber, owner of the Weber Lifelike Fly company of Stevens Point, Wis., said he had replied to the questionnaire with the following suggestion:

"If the Office of Production Management would allot two tons of steel costing $40 to the fishing tackle industry, work would be provided for 1,000 employés who would be paid $600,000 in wages, and the government would collect $81,000 in manufacturers' excise taxes on the fishing tackle made."

Weber explained that manufacturers of artificial flies and other lures have been unable to obtain fishhooks from England, the customary source.

Buy Hooks for Soldiers.

He said domestic manufacturers do not have the equipment and experience needed to make sufficient quantities of the single hooks needed for artificial flies. The government also has purchased large amounts of fishhooks, apparently for fishing tackle to be used in an emergency when soldiers are separated from supply bases, he said.

"The lend-lease administration is sending out a feeler," another manufacturer said. "The letter referred to the fact that the English hooks are made of materials which are sent to England under lend-lease. What it amounts to is this: Will we permit the English to use steel that we are giving to them free to make hooks and compete with American made hooks?"

A fishing tackle maker stated that the American fishhook industry can produce only 20 per cent of total domestic requirements of single hooks and about 50 per cent of the double or treble hooks used on artificial lures.

American Costs Higher.

He said the American made hooks cost more than those made with cheaper labor in England, observing that the price of a certain type of hook made in England was $1.80 compared with $4.95 for the American product.

A Chicago fishhook maker said that if English hooks are not allowed to compete in the domestic market, American manufacturers would be able to invest funds in automatic machinery which would reduce unit costs and enable them to make hooks at prices competitive with those made in Europe.

ITEM IN EXPLANATION FOR THE AURORA AND ELGIN LINE'S RIDERS

The Chicago, Aurora and Elgin railroad wants 10 new passenger cars.

To get the cars, it must clear the way for the car builder to obtain materials.

To get the materials, the road has to get priority authority from the Office of Production Management.

To get the priority authority, the C. A. & E. must show that the service it provides is essential — that passengers are persons who have jobs directly or indirectly connected with the armament program.

To get that information, the road has to ask its patrons whether they are the kind of workers the OPM is concerned about.

And that's why those white cards explaining all this and asking the required data are being distributed to the carrier's passengers.

7 Point Labor Code Drafted by Trade Unit

New York, Nov. 20 (AP).—The National Association of Manufacturers today gave its 8,000 members a code of "seven fundamental principles" which it said should form the basis for any labor policy adopted by the administration in Washington.

Walter D. Fuller, president, released the official statement, the first by the NAM on the closed shop labor issue since the beginning of the captive mine controversy.

Lists Seven Principles.

Fuller declared there are basic unchanging principles in any labor policy. These principles, he said, were:

"1. There must be no government compromise with a challenge by a private agency to the sovereignty of government.

"2. The right to strike, like other rights, properly is subject to reasonable regulation in the public interest.

"3. A sound national labor policy will require unions to acquire and retain members on the basis of service, and not thru the blackmailing of either management or government into forcing a closed shop upon employés who do not wish to join.

Ask No Production Stoppage.

"4. A sound national labor policy will require unions to settle their jurisdictional agreements without halting production.

"5. The seizure of private property by government is an unsound means of controling unions which strike against the public interest.

"6. Civil law, and not martial law, should be the normal weapon of enforcement of safeguards against coercion.

"7. A sound national labor policy, resulting from the present crisis, should be a permanent one and should not be limited in duration to the present emergency."

Jobs in Illinois Show 300,000 Gain for Year

Expansion of employment in Illinois in the last year was reflected yesterday in a state report showing that about 300,000 more persons were employed in industrial and business establishments in October than in the 1940 month.

The report, issued by the Illinois department of labor, covered 6,666 nonagricultural establishments.

As compared with September of this year, October showed a gain of ½ per cent in employment and 2 per cent in pay rolls for all industrial and business enterprises in the state. A small seasonal decline of 0.4 per cent in number of workers was recorded for manufacturing industries alone, but the smaller number of employés received 1.8 per cent more wages than in September, the department said.

Trends Mixed In Industry.

Out of 12 manufacturing industry groups, five reported gains in employment from September to October and nine increased total wages.

The paper goods and printing industry group increased employment during the month 4½ per cent and pay rolls 6.6 per cent. The transportation equipment industry reported boosts of 3.8 per cent in number of jobs and 7.2 per cent in pay rolls. The respective gains in the textile industry were 1.4 per cent and 5.8 per cent. The chemicals and allied products groups showed small increases.

The large metals and machinery group employed 0.7 per cent fewer persons, but paid out 1.8 per cent more in wages.

Trade Rise Exceeds Normal.

Unusually large gains for the month were reported in employment and pay rolls in retail and wholesale trade, the department said. In the two fields combined, employment rose 5.3 per cent and pay rolls 5.2 per cent.

The 3 per cent expansion of employment in coal mines was described as "much smaller than usual," as was the 7 per cent rise in mine pay rolls.

Average weekly earnings of the 819,975 wage earners covered by the October report were $31.95, compared with $31.34 for a comparable group a month earlier. These figures applied to manufacturing and nonmanufacturing industries combined. The average pay check of factory workers was $33.02 last month, against $32.26 in September.

NEW PREFERENCE RATING PLAN FOR MATERIALS SEEN

Washington, D. C., Nov. 20 [Special].—A simplification of the procedure under which manufacturers will get preference ratings for materials necessary for production of armament and essential civilian goods is expected to be announced early next week by the division of priorities, Office of Production Management.

The new plan, which is tied in with the change over from priorities to allocations and may be put in operation Jan. 1, will require a manufacturer to project his requirements three months in advance of production. Once the producers' needs have been listed and approved, it is understood, the government will grant him a blanket preference rating which will be the same for all materials he needs, for both arms and essential civilian goods.

The confusion now involved in getting various preference orders will be eliminated under the new plan. And, according to government officials, it will, for the first time, enable the assembly of accurate data on current materials needs, together with information on inventories in all types of industries.

JAPAN'S EXPORT TRADE TO FALL TO 30% OF NORMAL

TOKIO, Nov. 20 (AP).—Japan's export industries soon will be operating at only about 30 per cent of normal capacity, Shinsuke Kishi, minister of commerce and industry, told a diet committee today.

He said these industries already had been curtailed by about 50 per cent and that 20 per cent more of the total capacity, already idle, would be closed shortly. This would leave 30 per cent "for future needs," he said. [Kishi's statement illustrates the effect of wartime conditions and the economic restrictions applied by the United States, Britain, and other countries on Japanese trade. Silk fabrics, rayon yarn, cotton textiles, tinned or bottled foods, and ceramics are among Japan's chief export industries.]

Jap Cloth Imports Up.

New York, Nov. 20 (AP).—Despite the unsettled economic situation and war tension in the far east, imports of Japanese bleached cotton cloth into the United States in September—4,132,197 square yards—were the largest for any month since last May, the Cotton Textile institute announced today.

Cuban House O. K.'s Loan from Import-Export Bank

HAVANA, Nov. 20 (AP).—After a night-long session, the Cuban house of representatives today approved a bill authorizing President Batista to negotiate a 25 million dollar loan from the United States Import-Export bank. The senate already had approved the measure to obtain funds for agricultural, health, and public works projects.

People and Events

Mark S. Massel, an Office of Production Management cost consultant, will address a meeting of the Illinois Society of Certified Accountants Monday night in the Palmer House.

Sidney J. Black, Chicago, executive vice president of the Asbestos Manufacturing company, Huntington, Ind., has been elected a director.

"Inflation and Price Fixing" will be discussed by Walter E. Spahr, chairman of New York university's department of economics, at a dinner sponsored by the Illinois Manufacturers' Costs association next Tuesday in the Hotel Sherman.

MARKETS REOPEN TODAY.

Financial and commodity exchanges and other markets which were closed yesterday in observance of Thanksgiving Day will reopen today.

Machine Tool Shipments Up; 77 Million in October

Cleveland, O., Nov. 20 (AP).—The National Machine Tool Builders association reported today that the industry's shipments climbed to $77,200,000 in October, compared with $68,700,000 in September and $64,300,000 in August. Shipments in October, 1940, were estimated at $49,000,000. Shipments indicate the industry will exceed its announced 750 million dollar goal this year, it was said.

Carnegie Banks Furnace at Gary; 6th in This Area

Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation yesterday banked a blast furnace at Gary, the sixth furnace to cease operation at the company's Chicago area plants as a result of the coal strike. Arrival of another shipment of coal at Carnegie's coke plant in Joliet caused postponement of the scheduled closing of one battery of 70 coke ovens there.

Bank Clearings for Week Second Largest for Year

New York, Nov. 20 (AP).—Bank clearings in the week ended Wednesday were the second largest thus far in 1941 and at 22 cities outside of New York were the best in 12 years. The total for 23 cities, including New York, was $7,895,898,000, a gain of 17 per cent over the comparable 1940 period, and $2,091,609,000 larger than in the preceding week, Dun & Bradstreet reported. Chicago clearings were $502,000,000, an increase of 29.6 per cent over last year.

24 HOURS ADDED TO FREIGHT TIME TO WEST COAST

Freight leaving Chicago for the west coast yesterday was the first affected by a decision of western railroads to lengthen delivery time from the sixth to the seventh morning. The change makes delivery schedules between Chicago and the Pacific coast the same whether east or west bound.

C. E. Johnson, chairman of the Western Association of Railway Executives, said: "The change enables us to handle a greater volume of business with fewer trains, allows more flexible operations and delivery at terminals or stations on the way, and saves switch engine hours. It will enable us to give more efficient and economical service, and also aid us in handling the large volume of defense traffic. I don't think Chicago shippers will notice it. It ought to be for the general good."

Local firms and business groups, however, were preparing protests against the extra 24 hours' transit time.

INVESTORS' GUIDE

Friday, Nov. 21, 1941.

[Copyright: 1941: By The Chicago Tribune.]

WHERE'S MY DIVIDEND?

I haven't received my dividend check from my Alaska Juneau Gold Mining company shares for the last quarter of 1941. Is there any reason why I shouldn't have gotten it? May I have a report on the operations of the company?—R. M.

Answer: Alaska Juneau Gold Mining company officials announced on Sept. 25, 1941, they were deferring action on the dividend ordinarily declared at this time.

"About one-third of the normal crew has left for other occupations, particularly in connection with defense works in Alaska, where wages have been higher than the mining industry can afford to pay," officials reported. "It is expected that with the change of weather conditions now due many of the men will return to their previous occupations, preferring to work underground than in the open, where they are exposed to the severity of the elements."

Alaska Juneau has paid dividends ranging from 40 cents to $1.35 a share on its capital stock each year since the initial disbursement in 1931. Three quarterly payments of 12½ cents a share have been paid so far in 1941. There are 1,487,500 shares of the $10 par capital stock outstanding. It is listed on the New York, San Francisco, and Los Angeles stock exchanges.

Alaska Juneau extracts some 4,700,000 tons of ore annually from a large but low grade gold mine located near Juneau, Alaska. It also recovers some silver and lead, but these two metals combined amount to less than 5 per cent of the total output.

Net income, earnings per capital share, and dividends paid in recent years:

| | Net income. | Per share. | Dividends. |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1936 | $1,719,490 | $1.15 | $1.20 |
| 1937 | 1,911,289 | 1.27 | 1.35 |
| 1938 | 1,572,197 | 1.05 | 1.20 |
| 1939 | 916,539 | .62 | .80 |
| 1940 | 721,698 | .49 | .60 |

Estimated profit for the first nine months of 1941 was $975,000 against $911,600 a year earlier. These figures are after operating expenses and development charges but before depreciation, depletion, and federal income taxes.

STORK CAN GYP UNCLE SAM.

We have a baby boy born May 20, 1941. May I take a full $400 deduction in my income tax return for him?—M. N.

Answer: If your gross income in 1941 was less than $3,000, you may elect to file your income tax report on the new optional form. Rates used on this form are figured roughly on the assumption you have deductions, [interest, taxes, contributions, etc.] of about 10 per cent of your income. If you use this form, you may take the full $400 deduction for any baby born within the taxable year. If you use the standard form, you may only deduct 7-12 of $400 for a baby born May 20.

BUYING DECLINES AS RETAIL PRICES MOUNT RAPIDLY

Reserve Board Notes Rise in Living Costs.

A decline in consumer buying in October and the first half of November, sharp advances in retail prices from the September levels, and increases in industrial activity were reported yesterday by the Federal Reserve board in its monthly survey of business conditions in the nation.

"Distribution of commodities to consumers declined following an unusually large volume of trade in the preceding three months," the board said.

"Prices in retail markets have continued to advance sharply. In September the cost of living, as measured by the bureau of labor statistics index, increased 2 points to 108 per cent of the 1935-'39 average and was 7 per cent above last March.

Contra-Seasonal Rise.

"Since September retail food prices, which usually decline at this season, have increased further and preliminary data indicate that retail prices of other commodities have continued to rise."

The increase in industrial activity was mainly in industries producing machinery, armament, and other durable goods required under the arms program, the board said, but it cited meat packing as another industry which "advanced considerably."

The board's index of industrial production volume climbed to 164 per cent of the 1935-'39 average last month from 161 in September.

Automobile production increased compared with September, but was about a fourth under October, 1940.

Working Hours Stable.

However, a shifting of auto plant facilities to arms production enabled the industry to report about the same number of man-hours worked as in the 1940 month.

Cotton mills increased output, but wool mills reported a moderate slackening. Steel output rose to an average of 99 per cent of capacity for October, but declined in the first half of November. Setbacks were shown for coal production and the volume of construction contracts awarded.

The board said prices of agricultural commodities have risen "somewhat" since the middle of October.

WHOLESALE INDEX UP.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 20 (AP).—The bureau of labor statistics reports that its index of wholesale prices of approximately 900 items had increased 0.7 per cent during the week ended Nov. 15. This was said to be a new high. The index was 16 per cent above a year ago and 0.7 per cent above a month ago. Agricultural products were up 1.2 per cent; foods, 0.9 per cent, and the metals and metal products group, 1.2 per cent.

LABOR BUREAU'S REPORT

Washington, D. C., Nov. 20 (AP).—The cost of living for wage earners and low salaried persons in large cities increased 1.2 per cent from mid-September to mid-October, the labor department reported today. This makes the total rise since March 8.1 per cent.

The index of the cost of goods purchased by this group was shown to be 109.4 on Oct. 15 compared with an average of 100 for 1935-'39.

Retail food prices, the department said, increased somewhat more moderately than during other recent months, with an advance of 0.8 per cent. Prices of meats and certain fresh vegetables, such as cabbage and spinach, were seasonally lower.

Rents rose more rapidly on the average than in preceding months, the report showed, while clothing costs advanced 1.8 per cent, continuing the rise which began last February.

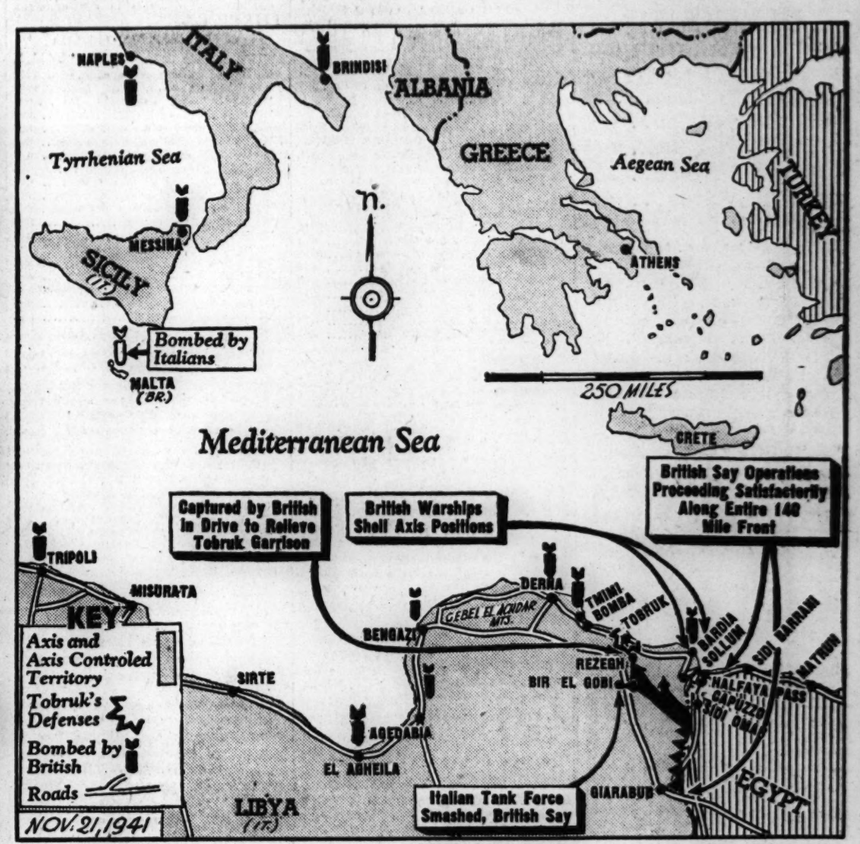
Germans Shiver in Tent Cloth on the Eastern Front—British Report Slashing Drives in New Libyan Offensive

[Associated Press Wirephoto.]

A German artillery force, with soldiers wrapped in tent cloth to offset the cold, moving thru a wintry landscape on the Russian front, is the way the German caption described this picture, which was passed by the censor in Berlin. The picture was sent from Berlin yesterday by radio.



Map illustrating yesterday's reported developments arising from the new British offensive in Libya. Arrows fanning out (lower right) represent main British drives.
